RETURNS WITH IRS

Taxpayers who failed to report income, or erroneously claimed or overlooked deductions or credit when filing tax returns for 1969, should file an Amended U. S. Individual Income Tax Return, Form 1040-X, Frank J. Foley, Internal Revenue Service, Buffalo said today.

Internal Revenue Service prepares one of the 1040X, which was designed to expedite processing. However, it is possible to simplify the situation through use of a Form 1040 appropriately marked "Amended Return" or by filing a claim for refund on Form 843.

The amended return or refund claim must be filed within 3 years from the date the original return was filed, Mr. Foley added, or within two years from whichever is later.
