POEM CORNER

By WILLIAM HICKS

So dead we lie in a long white row,
All shattered bodies beneath the snow.

We who have uttered the battle cry —
All marked by God as those to die.

We who have hoped and cried and prayed,
Have at last the longest journey made.

We who knew of hate and war—
Lie still in the sod we perished for.

So dead! So dead beneath the earth,

No more to cry or dream of mirth.
In frozen plots in a long white row—

All shattered bodies beneath the snow.

Math Club To Meet

The meeting is open to all interested graduate students. Tea will be served, as usual.

VARIOUS COMMITTEES

handling of books were discussed at considerable length with Mr. Crofts and Miss Webster. The committee was informed that most textbooks are fair traded and must be sold at list prices.

Other materials will be reconsidered. They were informed that any student may sell used books through the bookstore at no charge to him. Books should be left there by the student who sets the price and receive a receipt. A recommendation will be made by Mr. Crofts that the library carry a copy of each textbook to be used. Cafeteria —

Since the cafeteria is accommodating about five times its capacity not much was accomplished this semester. A recommendation was made that two students be employed during the congested hours to ask people to leave when through eating. This was not put into practice because Mrs. Kiener felt that the situation was sufficiently alleviated. It still may be possible to put this into practice however. Mrs. Kiener believes that the prices, quality, and variety of food is satisfactory. The possibility of enlarging the Snack Bar was eliminated, for Mrs. Kiener feels that the large room off the Snack Bar must remain as the employees' dining room. This would have increased the facilities by one-quarter.

U. B. SPORTSMAN CLUB

There will be a meeting of all divisions on May 3rd at 3:30 P.M. in the East Room. All members are urged to attend this final meeting of the year.
