

The Lady Without the Champ

For the last two weeks I have read the Daily News, and about eight times the page headline sported names of Mike Tyson and Robin Givens. During this time, we had that campaigning, Trump buying Eastern Airlines, Tawana B. Pleasing guilty, and crime. So why on earth does the Tyson squabble make headlines?

Talk about making a mountain out of a molehill. Don't believe the hype; how can you not believe the hype when everyday it's something else? It's like a soap opera series. They can call it 'As the Robin Flies, So Do the Days of Our Lives.' I became so disturbed and agitated reading different happenings about Tyson not knowing where the truth lay. Tyson is a manic depressive. No, Tyson is not a manic depressive. Tyson tried to commit suicide. No, Tyson did not. Robin divorces Tyson. No, Tyson claims annulment. Where does all of this begin, and when is it going to end?

I like Mike Tyson. Call me crazy, but I like the guy. It's just a shame that people, the media, and the press, portray him as a villain. Get off his back and maybe, just maybe for a week, he can live a peaceful life. And this whole 20/20 Barbara Walters escapade is such a joke. It is almost like the Morton Downey Jr. Show. If anyone is to blame for Mike Tyson's attitude and lifestyle, then blame that on the streets. He grew up as a streetfighter with very little in terms of wealth and education. Fun for Mike Tyson is just hanging out with his street buddies. He doesn't need fancy clothes, money, cars, and houses.

I think Robin Givens and her mother, Ruth Roper, are two evil people. They just wanted some of Mike Tyson's 50 million dollars. Did you know that their main reason the two got married was because Ruth Roper told Mike Tyson that her daughter Robin was pregnant? Now, I know that would have had me thinking of marriage and church bells ringing.

When the two appeared on 20/20 with Barbara Walters, Robin stated that she is "very much afraid of him". She said that he was a manic depressive. She said he tried to commit suicide. For crying out loud she simply brainwashed him. She then went on to tell Walters that very recently she has become afraid of Michael.

Robin claims that life with the heavyweight champion has been "pure hell." One perfect example of how Givens is manipulating Tyson follows. During the Walters interview Robin was asked if she thought Mike was a manic depressive. Givens said "Michael is a manic depressive." Tyson added "This is a situation which I am dealing with my illness." He openly admits he is a manic depressive. Then, two weeks later, Tyson claimed he was not a manic depressive as diagnosed by another doctor. No wonder Robin didn't want him to get a second opinion. The truth hurts. Robin is the cause of it all, along with her sidekick and mother, Ruth Roper.

After Tyson's car accident, Roper ordered Tyson to be diagnosed by one of her doctors. It was at this point in time when the doctor claimed that Tyson was a manic depressive. The two ladies want control over Tyson, just like the Tyson video cartridge for Nintendo.

One thing I would like to make clear is that there is alot to know about Mike Tyson. Before you speculate, hear me out.

All of Tyson's life has been an uphill battle. He had no real family. Camille Ewald adopted Tyson and raised him as best she could. Tyson never really had tender-loving care. We all know that we need some TLC. People wonder why Tyson can't be happy inside. You can't change Mike Tyson, you have to love him for what he is. He is hurt internally and externally, mentally and physically, in that he allows his emotions to get the best of him.

Well, just about all of Tyson's life thus far has been a war. He is a wounded soldier trying to survive as best he can. When Tyson was a teenager, Cus D'Amato adopted him. A year later, Cus died. Then in March of 1988, the late great Jimmy Jacobs died. Jacobs was a close friend and manager of Tyson. Then, about one day later, Robin and Mike put a 1.9 million dollar down-payment on a 4 million dollar New Jersey mansion. Do you think that Robin cared that Jimmy died? No!

The whole problem between the two is that they are of two extremes. Tyson is a person brought up with nothing, who wound up with a fortune. Robin always had some money, a good education and a loving mother. Robin is very used to getting her own way. When they married, she told Tyson that she comes as a package with her mother. Now that is insecurity.

Then Tyson has to deal with Robin complaining that if her husband makes so much money, then she wants it all allocated for. So, Bill Cayton, Tyson's manager, saw a large slash in his paychecks.

The never ending saga of Mike Tyson and Robin Givens is like a Shakespearean play. The whole scenario goes like this. In February, Tyson married Givens after the NBA All Star game. Talk about love at first sight, then, two days later they remarried in New York, only this time it was legal. On March 15, Tyson learned that Givens was pregnant? On March 23, Jimmy Jacobs passed away. March 24, the 4 million dollar home was bought. And this house is nothing like the houses you see on television from Ed McMahon's clearing house giveaway. This is an estate and then some. On April 11, Givens demanded to have Tyson's money allocated and forced him to tighten his budget. On May 8, Tyson crashed his $200,000 Bentley.

Later that night, Givens slapped Tyson for having a condom in his jacket pocket. Well, if your girlfriend's mother tell you that her daughter is pregnant, then you should make certain that you have a condom or two in your pocket. On September 4, Tyson was hospitalized and treated with Lithium for his so-called manic depressive state. On September 30, Barbara Walters interviewed the two. Why? They wanted the truth revealed to everyone. On October 2, Tyson went berserk and hurled furniture as Robin and mommy left. On October 3, Givens moved into momma's place. On October 5, Tyson sent a flat truck to Givens' mother's house to pick up a Lamborghini she was driving.
