"The Holocaust in Historical Perspective: Was it Unique"

Professor Steven Katz, Near Eastern Studies,
 Cornell University
 Tuesday, May 2 at 7:30 p.m.
 Exhibition Lounge, Corey Union

Professor Katz is an internationally eminent scholar of Jewish Studies and an excellent speaker. Recently he has been working on a multi-volume work on historical writing about the Holocaust. His topic, on the unprecedented nature of the Holocaust in history, raises fundamental questions both about the Holocaust and the writing of history.

"Sholem Aleichem: East-European Jewish Life Through Humor"

Professor Michael Taub, Comparative Literature,
 SUNY Binghamton
 Monday, May 8 at 7:30 p.m.
 Exhibition Lounge, Corey Union

If you have seen Fiddler on the Roof then you already know something about this celebrated yiddish literary writer. Rather than dealing with the horrors of the Holocaust, Professor Taub will tell some of the Tevye stories and reveal to us the bitter-sweet life of East European Jewry as their traditions grudgingly adjusted to a changing world.

Sponsored by: Jewish Studies Committee, Center for Minority and Women's Studies, Jewish Student Society, Interfaith Association.
