Alvah Otis received a $100 increase as his summer school principal. He is to get $900, instead of his usual $800, for his work.

A new summer school salary arrangement as regarded the salaries of teachers was also made. Teachers with three years college education will receive $36 per week for the first summer with an increase of five dollars until they are getting $40 at which time their remuneration will become static. Teachers who are college graduates are to get $45 a week, with a $5 increment until they are receiving $45. Night school instructors will be paid $4 a night as a minimum, $6 a night as a maximum, with a fifty cent per night increment.

The summer schools came in for some discussion and the first grade summer school fell under the axe. It was the opinion that it was used by parents more as a seminursery, or as a parking place for obstreperous youngsters, than as a fount of knowledge. There will be two elementary schools and one high school for summer pupils.

JUDGE CLOSE REMANDS LANE FOR SENTENCE

James Dempsey, Sr., of Peekskill, for Lane, argued first that the verdict was against the weight of evidence and contrary to law. His strongest contention, however, was that there was no material perjury committed, in other words, that the alleged perjury was not a material point in the testimony of Dr. Lane in the Children's Court proceedings where he was charged with swearing falsely under oath.

The brief submitted by Mr. Aldrich on the materiality of perjury and answer by Assistant District Attorney J. Lester Albertson of New Rochelle, who secured the conviction, will be studied by Judge Close. He will announce prior to Thursday week his decision and if he denies the motion, Lane will then be sentenced.

That Dr. Lane, even should he receive a suspended sentence, may never again be able to practice medicine, was practically admitted by his counsel in the argument that Lane had already been sufficiently punished.

Mr. Aldrich said the publicity had practically ruined the career of the young man and also that under the education bill, he would not probably be allowed to practice medicine again.

Lane was charged by Miss Mayford McDonough, Yorktown Heights school teacher, with taking advantage of her when she went to him for professional services. She also named him as the father of her child and it was in the children's court proceeding that the physician was indicted for alleged perjury.

Miss McDonough also has a $50,000 breach of promise action pending against the young man.

Lane, a veteran of the World War, with his membership button in a veteran's organization in his coat lapel, stood before the bar today, composed, seemingly ready to hear his sentence. He was remanded for sentence pending the determination of Judge Close on the motion to set aside the jury verdict.

Decision Reserved In Alimony Action

Special Term Judge William F. Bleakley today reserved decision on the request of Mrs. Julia L. Owen, of this city, for alimony in the amount of $45 weekly, and counsel fees amounting to $250 in her suit against her husband, James A. Owen, Jr., of Eastchester.

Last December, Mrs. Owen sued for separation and a counter suit was then brought by her husband. At that time both were dismissed by Justice Frank L. Young December 18. Mrs. Owen is appealing from this decision and asking for costs. Strang & Taylor represented Mrs. Owen, while Warren & Scott represented Owen. Both firms are of this city.

HELD FOR INTOXICATION

Two women and one man appeared before Judge William Gray in city court this morning to answer to charges of public intoxication. The two women, Helen Reede and Mary Jones, both of 433 Washington avenue, New York City, pleaded guilty and were given suspended sentences. They were arrested last night by Officer Faulkner at Bronx and Lott streets.

The man, Edward Harrison, colored, no address, pleaded not guilty and was given trial. Judge Gray found him guilty and imposed sentence of 1 0days upo failure of Harrison to convince him that any man could drink "two or three" quarts of cider and remain sober. He was arrested on Martine avenue by Colour Faulkner.

CITY APPROVES TRAFFIC CODE

Councilman John McGrath, Albert Haigh, John Ackerman, Lawrence Yaeger, William Graf, John McMillan and Mayor Frederick C. McLaughlin voted "aye" when the matter was put to vote.

The adoption of the code by the body does not mean its immediate incorporation into the laws of the city, however, Commissioner of Public Safety Alonzo P. Cooper, who is also one of the heads of the county traffic committee, said today. The adoption can take place only after the terms of the code have been "boiled down" and put in ordinance form and passed in that manner.

It is expected the uniform traffic code will be drawn up in ordinance form and placed before the Common Council at its next meeting on May 6.

Yonkers Man Held In Theft

William J. Hockings of Yonkers, charged by the police of Mount Vernon with stealing an automobile, was indicted today by the April Grand Jury on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

Hockings, who is said to live at 157 Elliott Avenue, Yonkers, is now locked up in the county jail, following his arrest by the Mount Vernon police on the automobile theft charge, and will be arraigned for pleading shortly.

The evidence on which the Yonkers man was indicted was presented personally to the grand jury by District Attorney Frank H. Coyne of Yonkers.

Burglar Returned To State Prison

Harry Rabuska, 34, of 85 Cortlandt street, North Tarrytown, pleaded guilty today to the charge of unlawful entry before County Judge Frederick H. Close and after the suspension of sentence on him, was returned to Sing Sing prison to serve a sentence for which he was on parole at the time of his arrest.

Rabuska, a Russian, was arrested in Dobbs Ferry July 4, 1926 on a charge of burglary, but after he had served a minimum of this sentence was paroled.

In January of this year he was arrested charged with breaking and entering the Lord and Burnham Boiler Company's plant at Irvington from where it is said he stole two cans of paint.

Instructs Soldiers At Local Armory

The weekly meeting of the 106th collecting company unit of the 102d Medical Regiment, featured a drill, calisthenics and a lecture.

The lecture, delivered by Captain Frederick Dieterick, was on the subject "The Use of Medical Chest Contents", and was given for the purpose of instruction.

Three new members were initiated into the company, having passed prescribed tests given by Lieutenant John Kingsley MacDonald, the officer in charge of examining recruits.

The meeting was conducted under the supervision of Captain Lee H. Pearn, commanding officer of the company.

DEMOCRATS TO LAUNCH DRIVE

cheap of the distance party members are required to go to attend meetings.

It is the plan of the new chairman to put the movement under way immediately and to proceed with the meetings a rapidly as possible. Since Mr. Foley plans to attend them all he expects to call one every day in a different city or town.

Later on, Mr. Foley said, he plans to ask professional men to act on advisory committees to assist in any problems which may come up.

The entire plan is based along the lines of the party organization in Yonkers, for which Mr. Foley is largely responsible. Yonkers is the strongest Democratic organization in the county.

The members of the county executive committee who were at the meeting yesterday afternoon were: Mr. Foley, who presided; Mrs. Daniel O'Day of Rye, vice-chairman of the county committee, and state committeeman from the second assembly district; State Committeeman Patrick A. Murphy and Ed Sorg, Warren, chairman of the local committee, both of this city. Mrs. Catherine Torpey and Thomas A. Reardon of Yonkers, state committeemen from the fourth district, Herbert McKenzie of Scarsdale, third vice chairman of the county committee; Edward J. McManus of Cortland, state committeeman from the third district; Anthony Senno and Mrs. Mary McGowan of Mt. Vernon, state committeemen from the first district.

Roller Skating Contest Gets Underway Today

New York, April 2—Eighteen men, composing nine teams in the two "six-day" roller-skating contest in history, circled about Van Cortland auditorium in the Bronx today. All contestants are professionals.

The winning team will be decided on laps and points as in a six-day bicycle race. The race began last night.

As the skaters whirled around the track, the international team of Arthur Engington, of London, and Eddie Kraim, of Detroit, was the favorite.

Among entrants were Joe West and Billie Yale, of Yonkers and New York City.

Other entrants are from as far west as Los Angeles.

RILEY CASE

Former Mayor of Pelham Has Libel Case Put On Preferred Calendar

Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser today filed an order with the county clerk placing for reference to former Mayor James, Riley of North Pelham, in his libel suit brought against Mrs. John A. Goodwin of this city, represented Riley while Paris was represented by former city judge, Thomas A. McKennell, of Mount Vernon.

Open Inquiry In "Dry Raid Killing"

Geneva, Ill., April 2 (UP)—The first public inquiry into the "dry raid killing" of Mrs. Lillian De King by Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith in her home in Aurora a week ago Monday night, opens today before Coroner Herman J. Vierke.

Because of the intense feeling which the case has aroused in politically wet Aurora, scene of the shooting, the inquest was transferred hastily to Geneva.

Conflicting testimony of two prohibition investigators promised to furnish the highlight of the inquest, which will determine whether Smith must face criminal charges for killing Mrs. De King and clubbing her husband while their 12-year-old son looked on.

AUTO STOLEN HERE

Albert Perry of Silver Lake Park reported to police last night that a 1924 model Ford coupe, New York license 5V-55-85, belonging to Miss Laura Hedley of Silver Lake, was stolen last night while parked on Spring Street near Main street in this city. The car disappeared sometime between 7.30 and 10 o'clock.

The police were notified today of the theft of a 1928 Dodge Standard Six sedan, New York license 2V-87-39 and belonging to Robert Waite of Katonah. The machine was stolen in the town of Bedford.

BONE DRIVER FINED

Frank Cavallerio of New Rochelle was the sole offender found in city court this morning for passing a red light. Judge Gray imposed his standard fine for such offenses, $2.

Lemuel D. Post of Scarsdale was summoned to appear in court here tomorrow morning for failure to stop on a red light.
