TROUTING SEASON
CRIME STUDY
AN AGED VOTER
HUMANE WEEK

By LOUIS E. THAYER.

Few people realize the importance of the legislative measure that has been approved by Governor Roosevelt, which will establish a psychiatric and diagnostic clinic at Sing Sing Prison. This clinic has already been tried out at Sing Sing but the new law will assure its continuance and proper development.

If we understood our criminals better, we might be able to deal with crime more understandingly, and our best opportunity to make a thorough study of the criminal is while he is under our custody. Under this bill, provision is made for the study of each individual criminal and the preparation of a case history of each. There is no more practical way of discovering just what makes a man a criminal and, until we know that, we will be seriously hindered in our efforts to keep boys and men from turning criminals.

Hastings is to lose its oldest school teacher. Miss Mary P. Dunbar has served the Hastings schools for forty years and in that time has seen the educational advantages, in Hastings, grow from a single school building with an enrollment of 100 pupils to three school buildings with an enrollment of 1,400 students.

There is no way of measuring the influence for good which Miss Dunbar has exerted in the lives of hundreds of children during her long period of service. She has seen her boys and girls grow up to manhood and womanhood and have watched open to take positions of importance in the world. She has taught children whose parents she taught and instilled into their minds the same lessons which she impressed upon their parents. Any teacher who has taught for forty years can retire with the satisfaction of knowing that her life has been one of service and that she has had the distinction of helping shape hundreds of lives that have been entrusted to her care. Anyone who has done that can feel that he has helped make the world better.

In Last November, Isaac Kit of Pleasantville, who is 84 years old and in very poor health, insisted on going to the polls to vote for President Hoover although all his friends did everything possible to convince him that it was not his duty to drag himself to the polls in view of the condition of his health.

Mr. Kit voted, however. Two neighbors had to carry him to the polls and, after the election, sometime let President Hoover know about the incident. President Hoover has written a letter of thanks to Mr. Kit and the latter is getting a great deal of pleasure out of showing the communication to his friends.

It would be a good thing if those who observe election days by playing golf rather than by performing their civic duty of voting would think of Mr. Kit and his example. In these days, when the stay-at-home voter is becoming a real problem, the example of a man 84 years old, getting out of his sick bed to vote because he considers it a civic duty which he has no right to neglect,

CHILDREN ASK SURROGATE TO OUST MOTHER

Removal of Widow of Hyman Kaufman as Administratrix of Estate Sought on Mismanagement Charges

Sensational accusations of "misappropriation of funds" and of "mingling of bank accounts," as well as the allegedly improper sale of one of the largest bathrobe businesses in America to the administratrix for one dollar, are contained in the action to begin here tomorrow morning before Surrogate George A. Slater in an attempt by the four children of the late Hyman Kaufman of White Plains, to oust the widow, Mrs. Clara Kaufman, as guardian of the younger children and to question her final accounting of the estate.

Mr. Kaufman, president of the Kaufman Bathrobe Company, of 119 West 23rd street, New York City, doing a business so large that he was known to the trade as "the Bathrobe King," died on October 28, 1922, at his White Plains home, without leaving a will.

Included in the estate was not only the bathrobe business but also life insurance amounting to $125,000, White Plains realty appraised

"MALICIOUS REPORT"

Little Change in Contract—"Relations Never Better," Says President

"Strike? What strike?" returned Anthony Maglio, president of the White Plains local, Associated Master Barbers Union, when asked by a reporter for the Daily Press if the journeymen barber's Union, Local 816, had called a strike last night.

"There has been no talk of or desire for a strike in either of the organizations," declared Mr. Maglio. "Relations between master barbers and the journeymen were never more friendly than they are now. Rumors of a strike have been circulated maliciously by certain persons who would profit by one.

Juarez, Mexico, April 10, (UP)—Juarez was recaptured by the Mexican federals today.

Colonel Trianna said his men had marched from Villa Ahumada and that the main Federal force from the south would reach Juarez in three or four days.

With the Federals in the town, formal surrender of Juarez was arranged for 10 a. m. at the United States Immigration Station in El Paso. It was no more than a formality, however, as the Federals already were in charge.

General Marcelo Caraveo and 2,000 revolutionary soldiers have evacuated the city.

Heflin Embraces Son

Senator in Public Demonstration Forgives Offspring. Attacks Newspapers, "Exploited" Incident. Seeks to Have Camera Men Arrested

Washington, April 10 (UP)—Thomas Heflin, Jr., son of Senator Heflin of Alabama, was back under his father's watchful eye today, apparently little the worse for his recent adventure in distant non-prohibition lands.

He returned from New York last night, chaperoned by J. L. Thornton, the senator's secretary, and stepped from the train into a paternal embrace which onlookers considered convincing proof all was forgiven.

Only one incident marred the tranquility of the scene. It was the elder Heflin's demand for the arrest of newspaper photographers gathered to record the homecoming of the prodigal.

"Policeman, arrest these cameramen," Heflin shouted as he made his way toward a taxicab. But there were no policemen in sight and the photographers were not molested.

Young Heflin's troubles started in New York Monday when he arrived with a Congressional party from Panama and announced to reporters that he agreed with Alfred E. Smith on the prohibition question — that he was determined, in fact, to call on Smith and tell him as much.

Senator Heflin is a dry and probably the bitterest anti-Smith Democrat in public life.

Once back on American soil, Thomas Jr., started a tour of New York which led to an entanglement with police and a rescue by Thornton. A minor stomach disorder and a slightly discolored eye also eventuated.

Heflin intimated his son's downfall was somehow the work of his enemies. He said he had forgiven the boy his misbehavior but not the newspapers which "exploited" the incident.

Ambulance Chasing Activities Have Dropped 50 Per Cent Says Bleakley at Kiwanis Meeting

Metropolitan Drive Has Produced Good Results, Mount Vernon Group Told. Favors Church Weddings to Stem Divorce.

Speaking before the Mount Vernon Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon yesterday, Supreme Court Justice William F. Bleakley said that it was his opinion that since the recent investigation into the activities of "ambulance chasing" attorneys, cases of this variety had dropped fifty percent.

Justice Bleakley did not enlarge on the statement, but it was considered that he intimated the drive against Metropolitan attorneys had effectively warned County lawyers against continuance of similar practices.

Although he touched briefly on the "chaser" point, the greater part of his speech was devoted to a discussion of divorce in the county.

SUDDEN SNOW STORM HALTS RIVER BOATS

Shipping Held Up at Albany —Impenetrable Mist Blankets the Hudson—Ferry Schedules Disrupted

MAKE PREPARATIONS

Several Towns Report Difficulties as Rivermen Meet Emergency

Albany, April 10 (UP)—Shipping on the Hudson River was halted abruptly today as a blinding snowstorm swept a good portion of the State of New York.

In addition to the heavy fall of snow, an almost impenetrable cloud of mist formed over the Hudson and many tug boats and strings of barges were forced to make their way to shore at Troy.

Ferry schedules were somewhat disrupted also in Yonkers as a heavy mist settled down over the river.

Reports of a snowstorm on the way from Albany caused rivermen to make preparations.

Shipping in the river fairly crawled as the fog became hourly thicker.

A fog, growing heavier hourly, lay over the Hudson today at Tarrytown as rivermen prepared for a snow storm reported sweeping across the state.

Officials of the North River Ferry Company, operating the boats across the river to Nyack said they hoped to continue schedules throughout the day at least. They were ready to suspend operations, as reports indicated was necessary at Albany, should the mist increase in density.

Other traffic apparently was proceeding up and down the river at that point. Strings of barges were observed.
