Westchester Country Club News

A WEEKLY BUDGET OF EVENTS AT THE FORMER WESTCHESTER BILTMORE

William E. Myers Reviews Trip To Persia; Was Employed There With Firm Building Railroads

Journey Home Took 31 Days, He Says in Writing Account of His Interesting Trip—Describes Places and People in Orient

A most interesting trip was that of William E. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers who recently returned home from a year's stay in Ahwaz, Persia, where he was employed with a construction firm who were engaged in building a railroad. The trip home took thirty-one days and his idea of it is as follows:

The extreme high tides in the Persian Gulf during the months of April and May, flood the deserts to such an extent that all our land transportation was practically tied up. This was so especially in Southwest Persia and Iraq. Approximately 75 miles of the Iraq railroad tracks which operate between Bagdad and Brashra were completely washed out, and many returning pilgrims were forced to remain in Basra. They are mostly of the poorer class and in their destitute condition were quite pitiful.

Leaving Bender-Shahpuir, a newly growing seaport on the Persian Gulf, the terminus of the railroad being built, it took ten days to reach Ahwaz, a distance of only 65 miles. It was necessary to wade through about two miles of mud, about six inches deep and covered with two inches of water. The odor from this vast sea of mud and water was not very pleasant. The two rear tires of the car were removed and wound with heavy rope and some times the car was necessary to make a detour of five to ten miles around large water holes and irrigation ditches. It was almost impossible to see these water holes and irrigation ditches at times on account of the constant mirage and blinding sun glare. Leaving my home in desert driving the previous year, I had a sufficient supply of food and water especially water and also coarse clothes for the nights at this time of the year are cool.

The two days I spent in Ahwaz were quite pleasant, buying souvenirs and Persian trinkets of little value and knowing that I was leaving an interesting but hot, tiring country of heat, dust and a decidedly unhealthy world.

Mohamrah, the principal seaport of Persia on the Gulf, is about 90 miles from Ahwaz, its main exports being dates, cotton and rice. Unfortunately my car broke down when about half way there and I had visions of spending the rest of the day in the steaming desert, but after a few hours, another car came through and I arrived at the Shat-el-Arab River about four miles from Mohamrah, the rest of the trip to Mohamrah being made in a native boat called a belum. The Shat-el-Arab River is the combined waters of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers. Mohamrah's leading and only hotel is quite primitive. The modern improvements being desk, clean sheets, a bed with spring and a mattress that is extremely suspicious.

The following afternoon, after many custom inspections and other useless delays, so aggravating in the East, my luggage was loaded into a native boat and I started a most pleasant and cool ride down the river to where the P. and O. mail steamer for Bombay entered. The boat is propelled by two natives, the one in the stern using a small round paddle wheel while the one in the front uses a long oar, about ten feet long. There are little or no port facilities at Mohamrah and the steamers anchor out in the stream. The Persian Gulf at this time of year is quite smooth, almost glassy, very hot and sticky, but pleasant for the ride was endless and somewhat cool after living in the filth of the deserts. My longed-of-visions of a real meal were suddenly shroken when I wanted steak and French fried potatoes. Evidently such commodities do not tempt the English palate, for such a dinner would be a rare treat aboard English ships.

The Persian Gulf was very turbulent to break up but we did not feel it until we entered the Strait of Ormuz heading to the Sea of Oman. Here also it became rougher and the weather hotter and stickier. At Bunjy Karachi, India, the heat became more oppressive, though on deck it was quite pleasant in the early hours of the city. Karachi is the third largest seaport of India, and is quite a modern shipping center. The city has grown remarkably due to the development of the harbor and landing facilities which are quite modern. Karachi's seaport are mostly used for those to Persia, though the native is more picturesquely dressed. In Karachi it was impossible to step ashore without being set upon by taxi drivers and guides to show you the places of interest. In fact they would almost force you to go ashore. Even merchant peddlers and beggar-flocked about by the dozens, though "no", does not mean "no" to these and the only method of escape is to bargain with them and leave the mob behind. Karachi is a nervous wreck with their insistent pleadings and pulling of your clothes.

Democratic Canoes

Coming from India to Madras was like being quite warm, but intensely stuffy. For the most part Madras is more or less flat, well built in places and quite modern. The great Indian Peninsular Railroad probably typical of all India's railroads. Not too clean, dirty, fair food and it is necessary to hurry your own bed-roll as there are few or no available blankets or sheets. You are assigned a berth, your compartment, through for you, as the natives are not connected by aisles, it is necessary to wait until the train stops before you can walk to the dining salon, also before returning to the compartment and sometimes you are forced to remain in the hot dining salon for sometime before coming to a station. At all stations merchants and beggars approach your windows with articles to sell or tearful tales of poverty and that of the entire family, relations included will pray for your long life if you will only give some thing.

Madras is another beautiful city and seaport capital of the Madras presidency and is located on the Coromandel coast of the Bay of Bengal stretching along the coast for some eight to ten miles. There are several excellent and beautiful parks, especially Mapiro Park. Along the sea from is a fashionable promenade, known as the Marina and is very lovely with its legislative buildings, flowers and beaches. From Madras to Danuskodi by rail, is not very pleasant as the raid service is about the poorest in India. I was very fortunate however, as two new carriages were put into service that night, including baths and I had one carriage alone. The land is intensively cultivated, vast rice fields being worked by natives of both sex. Southern India is noted for the wonderful temples and cities and I think it much more beautiful and interesting than from Bombay to Mardas. The birds are quite tame and come to the window in, flocks to be fed.

The natives are colorfully dressed in few clothes. The temple of Sirmachalam, the entrance which has 1,100 steps in strikingly interesting. From Danuskodi to the northern end of Ceylon is but a five-hour trip by steamer and I arrived there at 8 p. m. in a pouring rain. Baggage and passport inspection at this dreary place is an imposition and not having a vise for Ceylon, I nearly spent the night there but finally was allowed to catch the train for Columbo. Ceylon is by far more beautiful and interesting than any part of India. The climate, though tropical, is modified by the surrounding waters and the Monsoons prevail from June to September. The soil is very rich and one rarely thinks of Ceylon without thinking of rubber, tea and rice also of pearls. The first thing that catches your eye is the great greeness of everything. The rich Oriental native costumes showing brilliantly against the cocoandt groves and drives which are marvelous in beauty. Ceylon is also quite a health resort. Rickshaws are always waiting and a ride in one is a treat with the coolie runners wearing in and out of traffic and along the drives. The snake charmers are interesting and fascinating.

The government of Ceylon owns all the railroads and fisheries which are the best in the world, Bombay being the pearl market. Two-thirds of the exports go to the government and the remaining one-third to the divers. Crossing through India I came during the Monsoons season which was most enjoyable, though not to everyone. The rough weather with spray flying was delightful but on entering the Red Sea the heat became oppressive and one afternoon it became so hot it was necessary to turn the ship around to get a faint breath of air which came from the north. Several of the passengers fainted. I left the ship at Suez, caring not to see Cairo and the Pyramids on account of the hot slow trip through the Suez Canal. The ships passing in the canal have to tie up to clusters of poles in order to let each ship pass on account of the narrowness of the canal and the motion from the propellers. Suez is not very interesting or picturesque.

The inhabitants are mostly French. After bargaining with a driver I finally got a car to Cairo for half the price that tourists from the boat had to pay. The road from Suez to Cairo is decent and Cairo is quite good, though very warm. I visited several mosques. In one it was necessary to remove my shoes, but in the others a pair of sandals was slipped on over the shoes before entering. The mosques of Egypt are not as beautiful as those in Persia or India and are rather plain. The colored tiled domes are missing.

In the evening our party of three had dinner outdoors at the Mena House close to the pyramids, and after much debating among ourselves as to the advisability of arguing with the dragoman, we decided to take the camel ride to the pyramids and see them by moonlight. I did not ride any camels in Persia, mainly because they are so dirty and have a very unpleasant odor, but the camels were kept very clean for tourists. After riding at first is rather awkward, but soon one get used to the camel's stride and is quite comfortable.

Egypt by night is quite a different city, a day's run from Karachi by boat about two days by train. Its harbor is studded with small islands and crowded with ships from all over the world. Bombay is called the Gate of India, on account of its being a great shipping center. It has most European appearance with its beautiful buildings, streets, tram ways and shipping. The residential section is very attractive with its green grass and palm trees and beautiful house and flower gardens. The taxi service is by far the most interesting in the world and equally as cheap. The cars are mostly American cars, Cadillacs, La Salles, Buicks and Lincolns. My stay in Bombay was not very long as I had missed the boat to Ceylon. I had to leave the same evening, by train to Madras. Exking Amanullas of Afghan was staying at that time at the Taj Ma-

Last Race in Annual Steeplechase Association Meeting

Fore Lark, owned by W. E. Briggs, forging ahead in the home stretch to win the last race at the annual meeting of the Westchester Biltmore Steeplechase Association.

SOCIETY NOTES

HALLOWE'EN COSTUME BALL

Reservations for dinner parties, also for rooms and suites for the week-end following the Hallowe'en Costume Ball are already being made. The ball is to be held on Saturday, November 2 at the Westchester Country Club. Reservations can be sent to Albert E. Sayers, assistant manager for rooms and suites and to Billy Senft for dinner.

RECENT HOSTS

Among members of the club who were hosts during the past week at the club were, J. J. Keenan, E. Higgins, L. L. Monod, H. B. Sargent Jr., E. J. Kelly, Mrs. Frances Gordon, J. Crawford Stevens, D. S. Moore, W. E. Earle Jr., Albert Winston, L. W. Prince, L. J. Mills, E. Woerts, Herbert G. Grant, W. K. Rose, Mrs. C. W. Sinnott, R. E. Cockron, A. S Dunn, M. Stack, J. G. Newcomb, F. H. Hardin, and M. V. N. De Mott.

DINNER PARTY

L. Ward Prince entertained at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Murray M. Lott of White Plains, Mr. and Mrs. Alan M. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Veeland, and Paul Stevens of Burlington N. C.

DINNER PARTY

E. S. Crittendon was dinner host on Saturday night for the following party: Miss Dorothy Troy of Scarsdale, George B. Young of New York City, Mrs. T. Sloane Young, Jr., of Ardsley, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Troy and Charles M. Troy of Scarsdale, L. E. Bashinskey of Birmingham Ala., Miss Virginia Brown of Washington D. C., Mrs. Eleanore Leech also of Washington D. C., Mrs. John True of Dutcnport Iowa, Jules Neidle of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Cassels Young of Forest Hills.

CLUB GUEST VISITORS

Among guests at the club during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Percy G. Sherman of Los Angeles, Calif., A. G. Lindquist of Larchmont, Miss Lorraine Dailey of White Plains Miss Angela Atwell of Manhasset, Mrs. Joseph R. Truesdale Westbury, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Baling of Westbury, Coun., Mr. and Mrs. R. Lent of White Plains, N. Pullati, J. McGowan, Miss Margaret Johnson, Eleanor Carolan of Mamaroneck, Luigfelepe Duany and family and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Johnston.

Also E. R. Drexel, Jamesdn Larimore Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hadley, Francis C. Williams, Mrs. Rene Carielle, Ivan M. Kuramoffsky, Mrs. G. Ourwater, Miss Ethel Miller of Rye, Earl Sewell, Ben Howe, Lloyd Bacon, Miss E. Warren of Glens Falls, Mrs. J. Jennings of Pelham, M. Howe of Bronxville, Miss Gladys Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schep of Larchmont, Miss Virginia Woodworth of Bronxville, Miss Constance Woodworth, Dougles Gibson of New Rochelle and N. M. Allison of New York City.

RECENT HOST

O. Wicke had guests recently who were C. McCarthy Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Turner of Scarsdale, Miss Betty Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Andrews Brennan of New York City.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE

Mrs. G. M. McEachern entertained on Thursday at lunch and bridge at the club. Guests were Mrs. Caldwell, Miss Borges and Mrs. Scofield all of Larchmont.

McGOWAN PARTY

Frank C. Hatfield of Hartford, Conn., Leonard W. Thompson of New Haven, Conn., and C. Stevens of White Plains were guests of A. C. McGowan on Thursday at the club.

GUESTS OF MRS. WHOOLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. M. R. Emmett of Rye and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seetmars of New York City were guests on Friday of Mrs. C. M. Whooley.

WOOD'S PARTY

Mrs. S. J. Woods entertained at bridge for Mrs. J. Ten Eyck, Mrs. I. H. Hoffell, Mrs. H. I. Metz, Mrs. Goulson, Mrs. Damerest, Mr. Turner, Mrs. Mays and Mrs. Silverthorne.

GUESTS AND HOSTS

J. Clavent Fisher had as his guests recently Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Rodger of Allendale, N. J., and Mrs. Joseph Lordi, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. George Gavin of Arcola, N. J. and Henry C. Van Cliff. Mrs. Caroline Steel had for luncheon Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Gransere, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Meyer and Austin O. Hapfel. R. H. Curtis had Miss Fenlon of Pelham, Mr. O. Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. B. Rosard of Bronxville, E. Edwards was seen with Miss Clarke, Allen McDonald and Josephine Doblin.

HELEN M. RICH ENTERTAINS

Helen M. Rich entertained for the following on Saturday: Miss Katherine Moore of Montclair, Ralph Linder, Miss Elizabeth Chambers and Cole Brady of New Rochelle.

FROM LONDON

C. W. Milne of London, England, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Picard of Bronxville and Mrs. W. I. McKeek were guests of T. W. Schaff.

JENNINGS GUESTS

E. J. Jennings entertained for Harvey Day of New Rochelle, Carmelina and Hayden Smith of Pelham, Jack Williams and Jack Hoppolet of New York City, Ruth Green of New Rochelle, Eleanor Cauldrn of Rye and Lane Whitman. M. L. Le Blanc entertained for Mrs. Louis Mohr of Bronxville, Betsy Lee of Rye and New Rochelle and Miss Elsa Sierzn of Larchmont.

CURTIS HARDIN GUESTS

W. J. Curtis, Jr., was seen with a party on Sunday which included Mr. and Mrs. D. Buckley of Rye, Mr. and Mrs. W. Browning of Purchase, Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gwaltney and Mr. and Mrs. A. Knopf. F. H. Hardin had W. F. Place, Victor A. Young, Mrs. B. Nesbitt W.-Boyle and Miss C. Boland.

LUNCHEON

Charles E. Bayliss was at the club on Monday with Charles E. Gleason, Jno E. Rhinehart, Thurwood Brown, Henry W. Otis, Jr. C. Ensner and Bellamy Jr. Bethel for lunch.

Receives Gold Plate For Winner

Augustus E. Goodwin, owner of Honeyco, winner of the fourth race in the annual meeting of the Westchester Biltmore Steeplechase Association, receiving gold plate from John McEntee Bowman, president of the association.

GOLF NEWS

BUSHNELL TROPHY

The Bushnell trophy will be played for on Friday on the west course of the Westchester Country Club in a ladies' day tournament. It is a regular day for the women golf tournaments which have been played during the golfing season every Friday. It will also be the day for the ladies Fall golf luncheon which is to be held in the grill of the club. Sixty reservations have been made to date for this affair which promises to be an outstanding feature for the closing of the golfing season.

GOLF COMMITTEE

Members of the ladies' golf committee for the ensuing year are Mrs. Anthony B. Bannier who succeeds herself in the position of chairman, and Mrs. E. A. Albee, Mrs. F. X. Anglim, Mrs. Harold H. Barnard of Rye, Mrs. J. D. Bunger, Mrs. Peter J. F. Callan of North street, Harrison, Mrs. H. G. Daw of New York City, Mrs. M. F. Holt, Mrs. William T. Hoops, Mrs. S. B. Laird, Jr., of New Rochelle, Mrs. A. N. Milnes, Mrs. F. W. Pelzer, Mrs. E. O. Schmalhols of Scarsdale, Mrs. J. F. Whooley, Mrs. C. G. Wright, and Mrs. G. Wheelan.

WOMANS WEEKLY GOLF PLAY

The weekly tournament for women members of the Westchester Country Club last week included a match play vs. par 82 handicap which was played on the south course on Friday. The low net score for both classes was won by Mrs. F. K. Ream and the trophy presented was Mrs. I. Hill Mrs. Fenlon of Pelham, Mr. O. Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. B. Rosard of Bronxville, E. Edwards was seen with Miss Clarke, Allen McDonald and Josephine Doblin.

The winner in Class A was Mrs. C. F. Murphy, Jr., with 1 down to par, and in Class B Mrs. J. A. Payne won with 5 down to par.

Other players were Mrs. M. E. Frank of Rye, Miss Jeanette Bleecker of the club grounds, Mrs. Arthur J. Simon of Park Drive South, Harrison, Mrs. Charles Harwood, of Sterling Ridge, Harrison; Miss D. Burkett, Mrs. G. Crouch, Mrs. M. Elvidge, Mrs. J. P. Campbell, Mrs. M. F. Thewlis, Mrs. William Best, Mrs. C. F. Murphy, Jr., Mrs. T. T. Barr, Mrs. R. O. Challenger and Mrs. Edgar Gould of New Rochelle.

Also, Mrs. E. Lester Barnes, of New York City, Mrs. W. C. Kuder, Mrs. E. W. Moon, Jr., Mrs. A. S. Healy, Mrs. A. H. Wright, Mrs. I. M. Wheeler, Mrs. F. X. Anglim, Mrs. Mc-Hardart of Brooklyn, Mrs. E. B. Schmalhofer of Scarsdale, Mrs. H. G. Dow, Mrs. R. F. Allin, Mrs. C. L. Lowes, Mrs. S. S. Laird of New Rochelle, Mrs. G. Wheeler of Rye, Mrs. M. F. Holt, Mrs. F. L. Fosume, Mrs. C. E. Platt at Pelham and Mrs. C. W. Burkett, Sr.

LINABURY TROPHY

The L. A. Linabury trophy was won by W. H. Caswell on Saturday with a score of 43 in a 12 blind selected hole match on the south course of the Westchester Country Club.

HULL TROPHY

The west course of the club was used on Saturday for the 12 blind selected holes for the J. Arthur Hull trophy which was won by W. C. Kuder with a 46.

HODGBEN TROPHY

Several members of the Westchester Country Club were tied for the Dr. George C. Hodgben trophy which was played for on Sunday for an 18 hole medal play handicap on the west course. The ties were W. J. Metz, 84-12-72; J. Z. Pierson, 90-20-70; S. M. Biddell, 97-27-72; and F. E. Bliss, 97-25-72.

ALLEN TROPHY

Another of Sunday's golf matches was the S. G. Allen trophy which was played on the south course for an 18 hole medal play handicap and was tied by C. H. Klein, 96-26-70; B. Gulbert, 96-27-69; C. Trudeshach, 91-24-70; F. Bossard, 93-24-69; Harry Noonan, 90-24-66.

DINNER DANCE

Several hundred members and their guests were seen at the Saturday Night dinner dance which was held at the Westchester Country Club last week. Members having parties of varying size included Charles Fisher, J. Fink, Dr. Ira Hill, Everett Rich, R. Stetson, J. H. Dunn, Frank X. Anglim, C. E. Bates, F. W. Collins, R. C. Cole, A. R. Corey and A. S. Dunn, also C. F. Murphy, R. E. Edwards, J. J. Keenan, Walter F. Jaeckel, N. L. Knotts, A. S. Eisler, Fred Von Meyer, James Turner, H. B. Sargent, M. Steinert, C. Pick, C. Steele and Austin McAleenan.

LUNCHEON

Fifty members of the Canadian Club Circle have reserved places for luncheon on Wednesday at the Westchester Country Club. Arrangements were made by Dr. J. Stuart. Luncheon is to be served in the sports room grill.

Golf Played Big Part in Club Program in September, Review Of Events and Tourneys Shows

List of Prize Donors and Winners For Month Announced—Complete Resume of September's Activities

A most interesting course of golfing events for September at the Westchester Country Club will be found in the following resume which includes men's and women's tournaments. Also are September winners and trophy donors are as follows:

President's Trophy

The president's trophy was won by Mrs. C. K. Platt of Pelham, winning on 4 points. These matches were played once a month during the golfing season and the player having the most number of points was awarded the trophy at the conclusion of the matches. In the last match, three points went to Mrs. C. F. Murphy, Jr., of New York City, 2 points to Mrs. M. Calme, and 1 point to Mrs. J. J. Sinnott. Mrs. J. J. Sinnott also won low net score in Class A in the match with a score of 97-13-84 and Mrs. C. F. Murphy in Class B with 90-21-78. Other players in the match were Miss Jane Broadwell, Mrs. M. P. Thwaite, Mrs. S. S. Healy, Miss Vivian Reilly, Mrs. Ira Hill, Mrs. Bertholomae, Miss M. Calme, Mrs. F. W. Pelzer, Miss Jeanette Bleecker, Mrs. R. C. Dodge, Mrs. G. Crouch, Mrs. M. G. O'Hara, Mrs. Edgar D. Gould of New Rochelle, Mrs. K. O. Challenger, Mrs. H. G. Daw, Mrs. Arthur J. Simon, Park Drive, Harrison; Miss V. Dillon, Mrs. R. Fallin, Mrs. C. L. Lowes, Mrs. Anthony Bannier, Mrs. S. P. Haldenstein, Ms. Charles Harwood, Sterling Ridge, Harrison; Mrs. E. B. Schmalhoff of Scarsdale, Mrs. S. S. Laird of New Rochelle, Mrs. I. M. Wheeler, Mrs. G. Wheelan, Mrs. Charles Imperatori, Jr., Mamaroneck, and Mrs. M. K. Frank.

September 13

This tournament included a sickers handicap and a 9 selected holes between 82 and 95. The low net score was won by Mrs. F. L. Fosume with 114-38-76. The sickers handicap was won by Mrs. C. Bartholomae scoring Class A Mrs. won by Mrs. Arthur J. Simon 97-11-86, and the 9 selected holes in Simon of Sterling Ridge, Harrison, scoring 104-16-88. In Class B, Mrs. W. S. Alderson, 130-40-90. Others playing in this tournament were Mrs. Healy, Mrs. N. McConnell, Mrs. R. F. C. F. Murphy, Jr., Miss Vivian Reilly, Allin, Mrs. H. Lehman, Mrs. E. W. Moon, Jr., Mrs. E. O. Challenger, Mrs. M. T. Thwaite, Mrs. W. I. Bertholomae, G. C. Kuder, W. Burkett, Jr., Mrs. H J. Rugg, and Mrs. F. S. Dalrymple.

Mrs. A. J. B. Dempster, Mrs. Anthony Bassler, Mrs. A. S. Healy, Mrs.

Also Mrs. F. W. Acton, Mrs. M. M. G. Missir, Miss D. Burkett, Mrs. J. A. Payne, Mrs. M. H. Elvidge, Mrs. Frank X. Anglim, Miss May Hardart, Mrs. J. P. Campbell, Mrs. T. T. Barr, Mrs. J. Z. Pierson of New York City and Mrs. Wheeler of Rye, Mrs. E. B. Schmalhoff of Scarsdale, Mrs. Harold H. Barnard of Rye, Mrs. S. Y. Austin of Scarsdale, and Mrs. B. S. Leird of New Rochelle.

September 20

The Charles Hnsliver trophy was given for match play vs. par and was won by Mrs. F. K. Ream, 4 up. The net score in class A was won by Mrs. Anthony Bassler of New York City, score, 88-10-78; the low net in class B, Mrs. J. B. Dempster, 106-28-78.

Three prizes were offered for low consolation and were won by Mrs. H. J. Rugg, 122-40-82; Miss Ruth Howell, 107-25-82; and Miss May Hardart, 106-24-82. Mrs. Mc-Hardart, 106-27-82. The putting and A. R. Hill Wright.

Other members playing in this tournament were: Mrs. E. F. Allin, Mrs. John Wholey, Mrs. F. X. Anglim, Miss Jeanette Bleeker, Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. W. Burkston, Mrs. C. F. Murphy, Jr., Miss Vivian Reilly, Mrs. M. F. Holt, Mrs. Anthony Bassler, Mrs. J. Hill, Mrs. R. J. Bertholomae, Mrs. Countess Dr. Howell, Miss Ruth Howell, Mrs. M. P. Thwaite, Mrs. E. W. Moon, Jr., Mrs. Ira Hill, Mrs. Jos. Bowers, Mrs. F. L. Fosume, Mrs. William Bestm, Mrs. J. B. Campbell, Mrs. H. Elvidge, Mrs. Edgar D. Gould, Miss Mary Hardart, Mrs. H. G. Daw, Mrs. G. Wheelan, Mrs. M. X. Frank, Mrs. C. E. Platt, Mrs. H. J. Rugg, Mrs. F. W. Acton, Mrs. R. E. Henderson, Mrs. F. W. Pelzer and Mrs. S. B. Laird and Mrs. I. M. Wheeler.

September 27

The first annual golf match championship was played on both the west and south courses of the club and were for both men and women members. The men's championship was won by Mrs. John Lapham and the runner up was Miss Jane Broadwell. The women's championship was won by Mrs. Arthur Bessler of New York City. The winner of the second flight was Mrs. Ira Hill and the runner up Mrs. Charles F. Murphy, Jr., winner of the second consolation flight, Mrs. C. A. Bertholomae and runner up Mrs. William Best; winner of the third beaten eight Miss Jeanette Bleecker of Park Drive South, Harrison and runner up Miss Ruth Howell of Brooklyn; winner in the fourth flight Mrs. S. Healy, runner up Miss G. Spencer; winner in the fourth beaten eight, Mrs. W. I. Anderson and runner up Mrs. Noble McConnell.

The low net qualifying round was won by Mrs. R. H. Sanderson and the low net consolation was won by Mrs. C. W. Burkett.

The winner of the driving contest was Miss Marjorie Calme and her runner up was Miss Jane Broadwell.

The accuracy and putting contest was won by Miss H. Calme and runner up Mrs. I. R. Hill.

Mrs. Arthur Bessler and Mrs. J. Whooley won the best ball foursome low net was won by Mrs. R. F. Allin and Mrs. W. Herrington.

The mixed low gross foursome was won by Mrs. J. H. Lapham, while the mixed low net foursome was won by Mrs. R. F. Allen and Mrs. W. F. Marshall.

In the night putting contest for women Mrs. Edgar O. Challenger won with Mrs. E. D. Gould of New Rochelle as runner-up.

The men's matches included the following:

Saturday, September 7

Dr. R. H. Ryan won 3 up on par the Henry B. Wesselman, Jr., trophy, which was played for on the west course of the Westchester Country Club for an 18 hole match play vs. par; 5-4 handicap in division A.

The M. K. Frank trophy was played for an 18 hole match play in division B on par for 2-4 handicap and was won by H. C. Hancock, 4 up.

Sunday, September 8

The following 16 members qualified for low net scores for the J. Mc. E. Bowman: L. Johnson vs. E. W. Conk-S. M. Biddell vs. R. E. Boesel, Ills, W. J. Blizzard vs. A. E. Downes, George Daniels vs. W. O. Smith, J. W. McCarthy vs. F. B. Krag, J. E. Plunkett vs. Harry R. Nassoit, James Jenkins vs. E. T. Pope and Walter Caswell.

In the R. A. Wehler trophy which was played for on the west and south golf courses of the Westchester Country Club for an 18 hole medal play handicap low net score, the following scores tied for score.

Charles Paterno, 81-11-70; W. S. Blizzard, 84-14-72; James Jenkins, 80-8-72; W. Badger, 83-12-71; J. E. Plunkett, 90-18-68; and L. Johnson, 86-18-68.

Another trophy played was the Alexander Veitch trophy for an 18 hole medal play handicap low net score and the ties were G. L. McCarthy, 94-25-69; C. V. Paterno, 102-30-72; G. B. Daniels, 96-24-72; F. E. Bliss, 96-28-68; and F. F. De Vos, 95-30-65.

Saturday, September 14

Members who were tied for the Harry A. Fogg Trophy were C. M. Davis, 96-25-71; W. C. Collins, 117-45-63; A. Miss Vivian Reilly, 97-21-67; E. W. Bleeker, 100-28-76; Jack Green, 93-26-73. This match was played on both courses for an 18 hole medal play handicap.

The James G. Cannon trophy was for an 18 hole medal play handicap, prize to be given for low net score, J. P. Daniels was the winner a score 91-23-68; others tied for score were A. R. Schmid, 85-15-70; George J. Hogben, 86-18-68; A. R. Gardner, 86-15-71; W. C. Kuder, 77-5-72; F. S. Krag, 81-14-67; A. J. Wells, 90-20-70 Harry R. Noonan, 88-18-70.

The men's club championship included 36 holes played on Saturday and 36 holes on Sunday in a medal play handicap for low net gross for 72 holes and was won by George Brush scoring 316. The Homer R. Mallory trophy was the award for the match play.

Other members who qualified for play were W. C. Conklin, J. C. Patton, J. J. Jenkins, George Brush, W. C. Kuder, Stanley H. Hall, Fred Meyer, W. T. Hamilton, George A. Ferris, W. I. Metz, W. E. Blizzard, J. Z. Pierson, W. J. Mahoney, Jr., W. H. Caswell, W. C. Fisher, S. S. Laird, Jr., Dr. Ira Hill, F. C. Yale, O. S. Yale, R. S. Healy, C. V. Rich, Jr., and L. G. Spindler.

Sunday, September 15

W. A. Bisher won the prize of 47-830; won the Victor M. Kreamer trophy for the 12 selected holes out of 18 holes Saturday, which was played for on the west course.

The D. S. Warth trophy for 12 holes was won by George Crouch, 64-30-34. Other qualifiers were Dr. Howell, 18 was tied by Louis Bozzard, 50-16-34.

Saturday, September 21

The Mrs. H. Reverse trophy for an 18 hole match play prize for 2-4 handicap, Peter F. De Vos was the winner with 4 up on par.

The qualifiers of members were tied for the William J. Mahoney trophy for an 18 hole medal play handicap, prize for low net score, the ties were G. D. Knox, 87-18-69; R. Skinner, 86-14-72; George J. Hogben, 87-17-72; J. Z. Pierson, 80-17-72; and F. L. Fosume, 84-12-72.

Saturday, September 28

The N. C. Stenning trophy was also played in two handicap divisions for an 18 hole match play handicap, prize for low net score in each handicap. The winner of this division was John Hallifax, 1 up on par.

In division B the trophy was won by O. C. Burbeck on the west course on Saturday with a 70 score for 18 holes on par for a 5-24 handicap.

G. H. Ackerman won the J. Harold Canals trophy for an 18 hole blickers handicap with an 82, which was played for on the west course of the Westchester Country Club.

Sunday, September 29

The C. L. Bennett trophy for seven medal members for an 18 hole medal play handicap, a prize given for low net score. The were: W. F. Collins, 82-22-60; R. C. Cole, 84-24-60; S. M. Biddell, 83-21-60; Murray Vernon, 91-24-67; William Bissard, 83-14-69; John Farrell, 88-21-67; W. S. Polhill, Jr., 82-13-69; G. A. Ferris, 76-12-64; S. M. Biddell, 83-24-60; John Hoffman, 84-24-60; W. C. Kuder, 77-5-72; H. A. Arthur, 88-22-67; W. H. Caswell, 97-25-72; R. T. Allin, 93-24-69; D. S. Warth, 87-18-69; James s. R. Barnett, 86-16-70; Dr. Howell, 77-5-72.

The John F. Murphy trophy was played for by members which was won by Mrs. Arthur Bessler of New York City for an 18 hole medal play handicap. It was tied by J. C. Anderson, 93-24-72; W. J. Mahoney, Jr., 93-24-69; Dr. Howell, 95-25-70; Mrs. Arthur Bessler, 97-25-72 and Mrs. Ira Hill, 97-25-72.