UNVEIL TABLET TO BUILDER OF KENSICO DAM

Friends Gather at Memorial Service in Honor of Late Col. Merritt Haviland Smith

At the eastern base of the great Kensico Dam, a project fostered and built under his direction, friends of the late Colonel Merritt Haviland Smith, for forty years with the Department of Water Supply of New York City gathered at 2:30 Saturday afternoon to unveil a tablet to his memory. Col. Smith died in 1922.

Civil, military and religious dignitaries of New York City, all personal friends of the late engineering executive and several of whom served with him overseas in the World War were present at the unveiling. Among those who briefly eulogized their late friend were the Right Rev. Herbert D. Shipman, D.D., Suffragan Bishop of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sawyer of the firm of Sawyer and Crain, architects who planned and directed the construction of the dam. The American Legion also was represented.

Misic was furnished by the Seventh Regiment Band of New York City under the direction of Lieutenant Francis Rutherford, during the war bandmaster of the 104th Field Artillery Regiment of which Col. Smith was commander. The committee which sponsored the memorial tablet was: J. Waldo Lombard, chairman; Henry C. Busch, treasurer; Colonel Asa Ames, General Oliver C. Bridgman, Paul G. Brown, William W. Brush, Frederick L. Crawford, Walter J. Drummond, Alfred D. Flinn, George W. Fuller, Hon. John F. Galvin, Allen Hagan, Thaddeus Merriman, Robert Ridgeway, Philip Sawyer, Hon. Charles Strauss and Arthur S. Tuttle. Mr. Smith presided.

The ceremonies were broadcast by station WNYC.

OVERHEATED IRON STARTS SMALL FIRE

Fire started by a forgotten electric iron last night burned the ironing board, rug and floorboards in the home of J. Quirk, 43 Independent street. Firemen arrived, however, before serious damage had been done.

The Quirk family was away and only the chance glance of a neighbor into the window and seeing the red flames saved the house from greater damage. The iron had been left standing on the board with the current turned on, according to the firemen.

An alarm from Box 21, located at Fisher avenue and South Lexington avenue, took firemen of four companies on a fruitless chase at 4 a. m. today. They reported a false alarm.

County Registration

With official figures of Westchester County registration for this year, which closed at 10 o'clock Saturday night, available only from the four cities, indications were that the total for 1929 would be between 375,000 and 385,000, as compared with a total in 1927, the last "off year" election of 1927, and 215,456 last year when there were both presidential and gubernatorial elections.

PROHIBITION

Government Secured 47,100 Convictions in 30,768 Cases; Total Collected $7,476,988

Washington, Oct. 21 (UP)—Prohibition cases instituted by the Federal government in the fiscal year 1929, which ended June 30, last aggregated 50,736, a new high record, the justice department announced today.

Convictions obtained declined to 47,100, or 1,730 less than in the preceding year. Total fines collected for dry law violations were $7,476,988, an increase of $17,737 from 1928.

resent an advance of approximately 6,000 over the year 1927 and a drop of 16,000 from last year. The application of the same percentage to the towns would indicate a total of around 170,000 this year, but the non-personal registration in the towns, constituting largely of carrying over the heavy 1928 non-personal registration may bring this total 10,000 higher to around 180,000.

At noon today official totals had been received from only four towns. These were Eastchester, Manamontz, Oostburg and Rye, and are as follows, with comparisons:

Eastchester	6,019	8,821	8,507
Manamontz	5,218	5,180	7,287
Oostburg	6,189	7,430	5,211
Rye	8,989	14,228	9,878

The totals are also available for the village of North Tarrytown showing this year's registration 2,804 as against 3,200 last year and 3,204 two years ago. The comparison figures from Mount Pleasant, in which the village of North Tarrytown is located, are not yet available. In 1927 it was 6,477 and last year 9,284.

In Yorktown, where there were 1,777 voters registered two years ago and 1,911 last year, an unofficial estimate today by Supervisor Theodore Hill, Jr. places this year's registration at 2,500.

Three of the four cities passed the 1927 total, only Mount Vernon, where there is no mayoral election this year, falling below the 1927 figure. All, however, are considerably below the 1928 figures.

Yonkers showed the greatest increase over 1927, advancing more than 5,000 in registration. This is considered due largely to the four-cornered mayoral contest in that city, as well as the fact that candidates of both major parties in Yonkers are contesting for the children's court judge seats from that city.

JUDGE MOORE TEA GUEST AT DOBBS FERRY

Justice McClelland Urges Return of Children's Court to Keep Judiciary on Non-Partisan Basis

United States Appellate Court Justice Charles F. McClelland, of Dobbs Ferry, endorsed Children's Court Judge Benjamin W. Moore of Yonkers, Saturday afternoon, at a tea given in honor of Judge Moore by Mr. and Mrs. Lyford W. Rome, Manhattan architect and civic leader of Dobbs Ferry.

In his "first political speech in 20 years" of serving in the judiciary, Justice McClelland, citing Judge Moore as "the worthy successor to the great George C. Appell."

"I do not here to show myself because he's a Democrat, but for something more important than that. It is to show you that I, also, am an advocate of the plan to take the Judiciary out of politics. The importance of electing a judge who will do his own thinking and render his own decisions cannot be overstated," he said.

He soundly rebuked the Republican county organization for not endorsing Judge Moore in view of the latter's record of office since the death of Judge Appell on January 19 of this year.

"There should be a rule concerning judges, that a good term deserves another. It was followed out in the case of Judge Appell when for the second time won election to the Children's Court bench. It should work in this case. Notwithstanding the unquestioned qualifications of Judge Moore, a man was named to oppose him. He was not named in hope that he would be more intelligent, humane, nor capable, but with one purpose in view: to get a position for a member of a party."

In a brief speech of appreciation for the reception Judge Moore told of his "travelling court" his "strict court" and the responsibilities and duties incumbent on his judgeship.

Mrs. Julian C. Chase, chairman of the Children's Court Non-Partisan Committee for the election of Judge Moore praised the record of the court, and urged that all "women who have the interests of the county children at heart cast their vote for Judge Moore, not only a worthy man, but a proven man."

Presiding the addresses, tea was served on the spacious lawn of the Rome estate.

...in a hat it's CHELSEA!

...in a cigarette it's TASTE!

LOOK up "che" in the dictionary, and see how it fits Chesterfield—"originality with taste!"

Originality—for the Chesterfield blend cannot be copied. And where else can you find such mildness coupled with such deeply satisfying character?

Taste—the sole reason for smoking, the sound basis of Chesterfield's popularity—fragrant spice of good tobacco, delicate flavor, wholesome natural sweetness; in every sense of the word
