Blackberries Retain Lead In Y.M.C.A Basketball League By Win

Defeat Raspberries In Easy Game; Hucks Last

Six Team League at Y Produces Interesting Basketball; Huckleberries Have Lost All.

THE Gooseberries of the famous Berry family at the "Y" managed to bury the Huckleberries under the score of 29-23 in the most interesting of three basketball berry games. Nor was the gooseberry the only fruit last night, as the popular Cranberries came from behind after half time to put the Blueberries to sleep during the second half and in the action score 31 points to the 23 tallies of the opposition.

In another fan game the Blackberries gave the Raspberries the raspberry at the time of 33-27. In this game Tommy Naughton, erstwhile high school star, accounted for 25 out of his team's 32 points making him the big berry. Naughton scored more than twice as many points as any other man on the court.

The Cranberries came from the lead at half time to win over the Blues. The Blueberries were ahead three points but lost the lead and the game.

The Blackberries are still in the lead of the league. They have not lost a game in four starts while the Huckleberries are at the other end of the league. They have not won a game in four starts. The Gooseberries are in second place and the Raspberries are tied for third. The Raspberries are fourth.

UNDEFEATED TEAMS PLAY ON SATURDAY

Prospects of More Upsets Confront Teams in Major Games This Week-end—Fordham Has Hardest.

Nine of the sixteen major unbeaten football teams in the country will see action this week-end but hardly more than five of them stand a chance to have their records broken.

Of the sixteen major undefeated teams, seven have been tied. The unbeaten, untied group follows: Pittsburgh, Purdue, Notre Dame, Tennessee, Tulane, Texas Christian, Ohio University, and Southern Methodist (tier three times).

The unbeaten group with ties against the unbeaten group follows: Indiana, California, Duquesne, Detroit, St. Mary's (California), Fordham (tied twice) and Southern Methodist (tier three times).

Ohio University, with a record of eight straight victories and 27 points to its opponent's 7, may face upsets on Saturday.

Two of the mid-Western unbeaten brigades, Notre Dame and Purdue, will have their perfect records endangered on Saturday.

Rockwell State plays Northwestern at Evanston, and a let down after the Southern California game may prove fatal to the ramblers.

Indiana, which beat Northwestern 18-14 last week, has Purdue's path to an undefeated season. Indiana beat Purdue last season, 16 to 0.

Detroit, which has a 6-4 tie with Marquette to tie its record, finds itself in much the same state of affairs as did New York University last season for its game Saturday with Oregon State at Detroit.

The far coast California's claim to Pacific Coast honors depends on the outcome of the California-Stanford game at Berkeley. Stanford has been beaten by Southern California, 7-0, and Santa Clara, 17-7, but 1-1 considered a real menace to the golden bear's title aspirations.

In the southwest Texas Christian, with a record of 2-6 points to its opponent's 13, will face a tatter at Waco. Baylor won last season, 7-0.

Fordham, unbeaten but tied by Davis and Elkins and West Virginia, will face its toughest test of the season against Bucknell at New York.

RENE FAVORED IN BETTING

Stated to Win Bout With Ebbs Despite Showing in Conrat Fight.

New York, Nov. 21 (UP)—René De Beillem, European middleweight champion, and Harry Ebbs, Jr., have completed training for their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Ebbs, who has amassed a sensational string of knockouts, scaled 161 at the close of his training but expected little trouble in "driving out" the extra pound today. Devo was a pound under the required weight.

The Belgians have been made a 5 to 6 betting favorite despite his recent defeat by the heretofore unknown "Doc" Conrat, at Jersey City.

Ebbs' champion French featherweight champion meets Black Bill of Cuba in the other feature bout and Joe Barlow, Boston heavyweight, will fight Jo Banovic of Amsterdam in a third ten-round event.

1-2 VICTORY

Philadelphia, Nov. 21 (UP)—McGovern's goal scored during a five-minute overtime period gave the Springfield Indians a 2 to 3 hockey victory over the Philadelphia Arrows last night.

How Ballo Fouled Sandy at Pimlico

This remarkable photograph shows just why Ballo was disqualified in the Buxton steeple and why his sisters hope was taken away by the crowd. Ballo, the horse in the lead, cutting toward the rail as the horses thundered around into the home stretch. So sharply was Ballo cut off that Johnny H. Thurston was forced to take up his mount to prevent being ridden into the rail.

WATCH THEM, BOY!

Watch out for the Chicago White Sox in 1930! Charley Comiskey, who appears to be more pleased with Donnie Bush than with any new manager he has acquired for the club in some time, has taken the rubber band off the bank roll and is out to give Will Wright a run for his chewing gum in the matter of Windy City baseball honors.

It's a great thing for Chicago to have two owners competing for talent and public patronage, and while the White Sox have a long road up which to travel to Pennsylvania, they are starting out in the right direction during the Winter Store League season.

REPORT DENIED

New York, Nov. 21 (UP)—Graduate Manager Reynolds Beeson of Columbia University today denied reports that a new football coach has been signed to replace head coach Charles F. Crowley. "There is nothing to it," he said. "Nothing has been done and nothing will be done until after the football season."

WRESTLERS TO MEET

New York, Nov. 21 (UP)—Jim Walsh, former Illinois football star, and Vanka Zelenka, champion of Russia, have been signed to wrestle at Madison Square Garden. Walsh-Gorge Calza, heavyweight championship bout at the Regiment Armory next Monday.

MEXICAN TEAM PLAYS CONTEST

Loss to Mississippi in Second Football Game Ever Played Across the Border.

Mexico City, Nov. 21 (UP)—American collegiate football is making rapid strides in Mexico and although the University of Mexico lost its second international game to Mississippi College by a 28 to 0 score, the 20,000 spectators were enthusiastic over the game and the local team's showing.

The Mexico team, which is coached by Reginald Root, a former Yale star, showed great improvement over the form displayed in their 48 to 6 defeat by Louisiana a few weeks ago. Except for the first quarter when the United States team scored three touchdowns the Mexicans outplayed their more experienced rivals.

TO BROADCAST GAME

New York, Nov. 21 (UP)—Graham McNamee, dean of radio sport announcers, will broadcast the Harvard-Tale game over 4 national broadcasting Company hookup Saturday.

A former shortstop himself, to juggle with him gets the boys out in the spring. If Classi is moved over to the other side of the infield, there will be Jeffrey, Hunsfield and Smith to try out for the shortstop berth.

Jeffries is a youngster who is coming back from Dallas and a former athlete star at the University of Kentucky. He was with the Sox for a time in 1925, and hit over 30 in the Texas League later on. Bill Hunsfield didn't get along well at his best last season. He will be trying for shortstop if the Sox job opens. Smith is a kid who has come from the Southern Association, a second baseman at present.

What the White Sox need in power, not grace, so Jolley will be right in their alley, and probably furnish as their clean-up hitter. The Sox will need a couple of players the far coast as next players for their new eleventh outfielder.

Johnny Kerr, who came to the Sox from the coast last year, may go back west, which may mean that Chalmers Chase will be shifted over to second base.

Trials at Short The White Sox will have some good shortstop material for Bush,
