FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1908.

Last week in our election returns we stated that the Republicans carried the Town of Somers. This was an error. It was carried by the Democrats by a small majority, Bryan carrying it by 19 votes.

As President-in-Chief of the army President Roosevelt on Saturday led sixty officers and men on a five-mile walk across lots on the outskirts of Washington. Streams were forded, etc., the President's only regret being that the water was so shallow that he and his followers did not have to swim across.

As the election returns were not tabulated in proper form for making a table of the vote in Westchester County we have failed to produce the total vote in each town of the county promised last week.

Even that Democratic paper, the "Mount Pleasant Compass," confesses that the election of Taft and the Republican ticket has revived business and will bring prosperity.

The editor of the Mount Kisco Recorder had an awful nerve to state last week that the "Recorder was the only Republican paper in this county that dared say a good word for Hughes before the state convention."

We congratulate the people of the state upon the re-election of Charles E. Hughes for Governor. The defeat of Mr. Hughes would have been a disaster for the Republican party and a disgrace to the State of New York.

Citizens of Westchester County! At North White Plains stands the old house which, while the American revolution was in active progress, sheltered our revered Washington more than any house now in existence in the State of New York.

At North White Plains stands the old house which, while the American revolution was in active progress, sheltered our revered Washington more than any house now in existence in the State of New York. Let us save this famous historic structure.

Republicans Regain Control of Supervisors With Forsyth as Chairman and Harvey Green as Clerk.

At 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon the Supervisors after having caucused all day went into session, the understanding being that the Board would be organized as follows:

Chairman, E. A. Forsyth, of Yonkers. Clerk, Harvey B. Green, of Chappaqua. Assistant Clerk, David S. Murden, of Peekskill.

County Attorney, Chas. A. Van Auken, of New Rochelle. County Engineer (a Republican to be selected later.)

Income Tax Appraiser in the place of John J. Sinnott, Fred L. Merritt, of New Rochelle. Early in the day the two Supervisors from New Rochelle—Benningham and Raymond—who were elected on the Democratic and Independent tickets and who hold the balance of power, announced that unless Ex-City Judge Van Auken, of New Rochelle, was elected counsel to the Board and Fred L. Merritt was appointed Appraiser of the Income Tax in the place of John J. Sinnott, they would vote for John J. Sinnott, the present chairman of the Board and James J. Fleming for clerk.

This ultimatum was announced through George I. Roberts, former Republican leader of New Rochelle, (now an Independent) and the Republicans were finally obliged to accede to this demand or see the Board turned over to the Democrats for another year, as the votes of the two New Rochelle supervisors absolutely controlled the situation.

Denounces Divorce.

In a sermon preached at the church of Immaculate Conception, Tuckahoe, the Rev. John P. McCormack, his pastor, denounced divorce as the curse of the nation and upheld the attitude of the Catholic Church on the sanctity of marriage.

Hess said in part: "Divorce is a curse. America leads the world in divorces. Comparing the number of divorces in this country with those in Canada and Europe, there are many more here than in those countries. It is the curse of this nation. The Catholic Church looks on the marriage state as most sacred. Once married, forever married. The church has never reversed its decision on divorce and never will. Thank God, the Protestant churches are opening their eyes to the evils of divorce."

Murder At Mount Kisco.

Thomas Waltman, a peddler, was shot and killed at Mount Kisco yesterday by men who robbed him of the small amount of money that he carried. The body was found by a lamplighter. It was in a lane near the Oakwood cemetery on the outskirts of Mount Kisco. There were two bullet wounds in the chest while another bullet had lodged in the brain.

Waltman's home was at 1435 St. Mark's avenue, Brooklyn. He was well known around this neighborhood, where for several years he had sold goods to workmen of the New York city watersheds and other public works.

When found he was lying on his back with all his pockets turned inside out. In his left hand he clutched 62 cents which the robbers had failed to get. His pack had also been rifled.

The lane where the body was discovered leads from a camp where a large number of foreigners are employed in constructing the new sewer system for Mount Kisco, and it is believed he was followed from the camp by the robbers after he had exposed a roll of bills in making change for of his purchasers.

Waltman visited Bedford on Saturday morning while walking with his pack toward Mount Kisco. Sheriff Lane and Coroner Squires were notified and they hurried to the scene of the murder in an auto, but in their search for a clue they didn't find anything definite.

Ward on Senatorship.

"President Roosevelt six months ago came to the decision that no combination of circumstances would induce him to become a candidate for election to the United States Senate from New York State, to succeed Thomas C. Platt," said National Committeeman Ward, of New York, just as he was leaving the White House.

When asked if he thought Secretary Root would be the next Senator from New York, Mr. Ward replied by asking, "Would Mr. Root be a candidate?" It was suggested that Mr. Ward could answer that himself but he replied that he always asked "the newspaper men for the latest news."

To a question as to the probability of President Roosevelt being a candidate in 1911 to succeed Chauncey M. Depew, Mr. Ward replied that the future would take care of itself. He remarked that Governor Hughes in that year would have completed his second term as Governor of New York and with a record of splendid administration in the state during the coming two years would make an admirable man for the place.

"If you believe in playing futures," said Mr. Ward, "that is a good card to play."

Save Our Public Highways.

The greatest of our visible assets is represented in the splendid highways which have been built by the State. At this moment these are disintegrating, due to neglect. Every reasonable effort should be made and at once to preserve and maintain them.

Our citizens should bestir themselves among their public servants. Public sentiment must be aroused. Bad roads are a detriment. Good roads are an investment and a blessing. They civilize, bringing communities in harmony of thought and action. Westchester County Magazine.

No exemptions will be allowed unless the persons claiming the same shall make and file an affidavit stating the facts entitling him thereto, unless such exemption shall rest upon physical incapacity, in which case a certificate and affidavit of a physician will be received.

JOHN SELLS, Commissioner of Jurors of Westchester County.

A Beautiful Woman.

Her surroundings should be in harmony, and can best be made so by a well kept home. The L. & M. Pure Paint makes the home beautiful. It preserves it and prevents decay. The cost per gallon, ready for use, is only $1.20. It wears for ten years and longer. Thirty-three years of continuous use is evidence. L. & M. Paint agents: John C. Purdy, Croton Falls, Green Brothers, Golden's Bridge, M. Westcott, Malhopy; Mekeel Bros., Yorktown Heights; C. T. Tompkins, Somers Centre.

This is what I say to you when I sell you a Royal Suit:—

I guarantee that your suit will have in it all the style and refinement that you can get from any great metropolitan tailor.

I guarantee that it will fit, not merely because it won't fall off your body, but because it will follow every line and curve and angle of your figure.

I guarantee that this fit will last not for a day or a month, but until the suit is completely worn out, and I give you this guarantee in written, signed, legal form, to stand good in any court in the land.

Do you wonder I am getting the largest tailoring business in town?

KAISER ESCAPES VOTE OF CENSURE

Reichstag Rejects Motion In Denunciation of Monarch.

WARNING AGAINST TALK.

Guarantees Demanded by Radicals That Emperor Do Not Interfere Hereafter in Foreign Affairs Without Previously Consulting the Chancellor. Displeasure of the German Parliament Also Visited Upon Count von Bulow.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—Two days of exciting and almost revolutionary debate in the Reichstag concluded with the rejection by the majority of a proposition to send an address to the emperor censuring his majesty and calling attention to the danger of his personal intervention in foreign politics. The discussion, however, brought forth violent expressions against the Kaiser.

The displeasure of the house was concentrated principally upon Chancellor von Bulow. Members of several of the groups refused to accept the chancellor's explanation with regard to the emperor's interview in the London Daily Telegraph as satisfactory or as offering guarantees for the future.

Baron Gump, Conservative, said it was tragic that a sovereign with so many admirable qualities should find himself in such a pitfall. His majesty's trouble ought rather to be ascribed to his responsible advisers, who since the time of Bismarck never have been able to tell his majesty plainly his constitutional duties.

Other members reviewed the acts of the emperor and complained sharply of the chancellor's course in not resisting imperial excursions beyond the constitutional frontiers. Konrad Haussmann, Bavarian Radical, violently attacked the conduct of the chancellor and the emperor. "Once said that he had no patience with pessimists, but his methods have created millions of pessimists in Germany."

Herr Haussmann proposed that the Reichstag send an address to the emperor so that his majesty might know the opinion of the nation. Herr Heine, Social Democrat, in a caustic speech demanded that guarantees be given that the emperor hereafter should not interfere in foreign affairs without consulting the chancellor. Otherwise, he said, Germany would find herself engaged in a war which neither the emperor nor the nation desired. Cheers greeted this proposition.

THREAT TO YOUNG QUEEN.

Kaiser Told Queen Wilhelmina Would Take Dutch Ports.

The Hague, Nov. 12.—The Vaderland publishes extracts from the memoirs of a diplomat, who asserts that during the Russo-Japanese war the German emperor wrote to Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. The Kaiser threatened the occupation of Dutch ports unless Holland immediately put herself in a state of defense against Great Britain.

LAWYER DEAD AT DESK.

Railroad Reorganizer Stricken While Writing a Letter.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Szasz W. Pettit, one of the best known corporation and constitutional lawyers in the country, was found dead in his offices in this city. He was seated at his desk and had been stricken while in the act of writing a letter.

Mr. Pettit was a civil war veteran, with a title of lieutenant colonel; a director in many financial corporations and a well known club member. He represented the stockholders of the Northern Pacific railroad in a long fight, assisted in reorganizing the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company and also reorganized the Kanawha City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad.

MORSE HAS LOST HOPE.

Financier Will Make No Further Move For Bail as Yet.

New York, Nov. 12.—Wallace Macfarlane, counsel for Charles W. Morse, said that he contemplated no further move to obtain bail for the convicted banker pending the filing of the bill of exceptions on Dec. 11.

Judge Lacombe's order restrains the United States marshal from removing Mr. Morse from the Tombs until the final determination of his case on the writ of error before the higher court.

Morse seems to have lost hope, his keepers say.

TWAIN'S BURGLARS PLEAD.

Got Five Years For Breaking Into Home of Humorist.

Danbury, Conn., Nov. 12.—Charles Hoffman and Henry Williams, charged with burglary at the home of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), pleaded guilty, and Williams in addition pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The court sentenced them to state prison for five years.

Russia Bars "Salome." St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—A version of Oscar Wilde's "Salome" was stopped by the police. The holy synod had vetoed the original as blasphemous.
