

In taking leave, editorially, of his readers, the former owner of the Katonah Times expressed only words of kindness toward the community in which he has lived and worked during the past fifteen years.

All must agree with him that there are few towns where the Christmas spirit of good will is extended so far into the humdrum of the every day life of the working year.

The Katonah Times will lose no opportunity of helping to advance the interests of the towns of Northern Westchester County.

CAN SUCH THINGS BE?

Mr. C. C. Crolly is in a state of mind. He suspects that for years past he has been a cannibal though morally innocent. His pneumogastric nerve has been shocked by the horrid intelligence anent the manufacture of macaroni.

He fears, made him one with these dreadful creatures: 'The Anthropophagi that eat each other.' Is it possible that the sons of the Romans should thus have been shamelessly mixing the paste of their national dish with the bones of their great forefathers?

WELL DONE, JUSTICE KEOGH.

In his appointment of Commissioners for the new Kenisco reservation Justice Keogh has shown rare good judgment and won for himself much praise.

In this announcement which will shortly grace the entrance of a seven story skyscraper at Broadway and Gray, many distinguished citizens who stopped growing before they started seeing a subside from the annoyances and embarrassments to which half portions of the community are always subjected.

It was the culmination of the long war waged by Trustees James H. Moran, G. Albert Thompson, J. J. Thompson and H. C. Henderson.

When the Admiral retired from the arena he settled down as a matter of fact he was settled down as far as he could go and still see over his shoulders in White Plains where speaking in a strictly figurative sense, he is one of the biggest citizens.

The meeting President F. S. Barnum is a brother-in-law of Village Treasurer Foster, who was one of those defeated.

The new hotel will be a skyscraper only in so far as the occupants are concerned. Several days ago a force of little folks began the work of excavation. None but small girls will be employed on the job.

ESTATE OUTLOOK

Values Have Grown... Change in Character... Means to North Westchester County.

An Expert.

many ago Westchester County returned dairy country. This change in especial was the result of the consolidation of the town sections in the county.

The purchase of the many farms by the city was at first viewed with askance by the multitude, but the value received was probably the standard by which prices were established later.

A dozen years ago the farms were expected a hundred dollars for land was sold for a few hundred dollars.

While the watershed of the upper part of the county considerably changed have been brought about by the migration of the population.

Within five years real estate values in upper Westchester county have advanced a prominent part in the welfare of our readers.

As the day of old fashioned farming is passing away in Westchester, the subject of country homes comes forward and in a few years are the whole county will be a suburb.

The year 1908 has been exceedingly dull, owing to money stringency, but the ban is being lifted and 1909 will mark a new record for sales and prices.

The villages most benefited by the influx of New Yorkers have been Katonah, Belford, Mount Kisco, Chappaqua, Pleasantville and Yorktown.

Mount Kisco is now the center of country estates and there are few choice spots unoccupied.

Mount Kisco has been in the throes of a sewer question and the coming spring will probably see the last tile laid.

One of the most unfavorable comments by visitors to the latter village is the condition of the streets. It has often been remarked that Mount Kisco has the worst streets of any village in the county.

YORKTOWN BOY'S COMPLAINT

Ralph Ackerly Wants the President's Attention Called to What He Considers Inadequate Educational Facilities in the Farm Regions.

To the Editor of the World:

I have just been reading in The World that the farmers resent President Roosevelt's plan to uplift them. I am only fifteen years old and live on a farm, and will be through the district school this term.

The above communication relates to a subject vital to every well ordered community, and one each district or village will have to settle.

The department of education of the state of New York has practically made it possible for every boy or girl, so desiring, to receive a high school education free of cost or at very little expense.

There should be—and we believe it is the aim of our state department—a high school in each township, free to all scholars in the town.

There is no more efficient way to promote the welfare and stimulate the growth of a community than by providing the very best educational advantages possible.
