

Games Past and To Come

On last Monday evening the Crescents easily defeated the St. Stephen A. A. team, of Ridgefield, by a score of 22 to 9. The game was faster than the score would indicate, but the result was never in doubt. Southall had an iron-bound contract with the basket all through the first half, and it was evident that his man heard about it in the intermission, for he played the second half with both arms around Southall's neck. Lewis shook his man in the second half and the Owen brothers covered their men in fine shape. Dexter, as usual, collected for the fouls. The visitors seemed to be handicapped by the low ceiling and cramped court of the old school house. The line-up was as follows:

Crescents	Position	St Stephens
Southall	R. F.	Thomas
Lewis	L. F.	Miller
Dexter	C.	Finch
B. Owens	R. G.	Bonton
C. Owens	L. G.	Gabbot

Baskets from the field: Southall, 5; Lewis, 2; Dexter, 1; B. Owens, 1. From the foul line: Dexter, 4. In the preliminary game the local second team was out-classed by the St. Stephen's juniors. Towey's man ran up most of their score, and was easily the fastest player on the floor. Score: 20 to 7.

The games began almost an hour later than scheduled, owing to the late arrival of one of the local players. As a suggestion to the management begin your games on time, for there is nothing so discouraging, both to players and spectators, as a long preliminary delay.

It is unfortunate that the court at the old school house is so cramped. The ball is constantly out of play and too much whistle will detract from the interest of any basket ball contest. Also, the narrow quarters must inevitably tend toward rough playing.

At the beginning of the second half the unmistakable odor of smoke caused some excitement among the spectators, but it was found to be nothing more serious than a pair of shoes, which one of the visiting team had left on the stove to dry. So successful was his plan that only a small portion of the uppers was left for him on his return to the dressing room. It has so far been impossible to learn whether he forced an entrance into one of the local shoe stores.

At Newport the girls by 4 to 7. The boys lost by 1 to 2. The girls, the best snook. The boys, the best snook. The girls, the best snook. The boys, the best snook.

VILLAGE IMPROVEMENT MEETING

Metropolitan Miss Alice Horton, Review of Reviews, Miss Macy, Collier's Weekly, Mrs. A. C. Daniel, St. Nicholas, Master Livingston Hunt, Good Housekeeping, Mrs. Albert Van Scoy, Popular Mechanics, E. A. Arnold; Saturday Evening Post and McClure's, by Mrs. George Hoyt; National Advocate, L. W. Elliott; Charities, Miss H. Todd, and McCure's, Mrs. T. S. Smith. We are also indebted to C. Lewis, Miss Margery VanTassel, Mrs. T. S. Smith and Mrs. W. J. Carpenter for many odd copies of other magazines.

The library has had during the year 5,287 visitors. The circulation reached 4,857 loans. This is an increase of about 2,000 each in both visitors and circulation. Since July we have had a free library. This has greatly increased its use among all classes of readers. The school children especially have availed themselves of this condition. And it is undoubtedly this fact that accounts for the very large increase in visitors and loans. Respectfully submitted, ROBERT H. KELLEY, Ch.

WAYS AND MEANS

The Ways and Means committee reports that among the efforts put forth by it to raise money needed for current expenses of the society were a concert in the assembly hall of the school building which netted $8.50. As a result of Tag Day, July 25th, we received $203.35, making a total of $211.85. The committee extends its thanks and appreciation to those who contributed to the success of Tag Day.

SANITARY

The committee on Sanitary affairs concerning our village reports with feelings of thankfulness that an average of healthfulness has been maintained. No epidemic disease has visited us, and our people have suffered only the sicknesses incident to climate and local causes.

The year has been made especially notable by an awakened interest, world wide, in the study of and efforts to stamp out that greatest of destroyers of human life, the "Great White Plague."

Much might be said upon the subject of the drainage of our village, but as your committee has no suggestions to offer at present, the matter must await future developments.

The News of Katonah

The following is credited to Clyde Fitch in the course of a discussion on editors and their ways:

"I was dining with the editor of Magazine the other day when a gentleman of irate mien approached and demanded, 'Are you the editor of Magazine?'"

"I am."

"Do you ever read your paper?"

"Why, surely."

"Did you read the 38th page of this month's issue?"

"I believe so."

"Well, my poem on that page contains the line, 'I love you better than my life.'"

"A very neat and well turned line, I'm sure."

"Yes, but your confounded compositor set it: 'I love you better than my wife,' and I'm living at a hotel until things quiet down at home."

* * *

The genial absentmindedness of a Katonah neighbor gave him a few uncomfortable minutes the other day. He was on his way to town and as he arose at the Lexington avenue terminal his hand unconsciously closed on his seatmate's umbrella. When his attention was called to the error, he was profuse in his apologies. On his return in the evening he carried four or five umbrellas and parasols his wife had sent into town to have repaired. As luck would have it, he found a seat with the same man whose rain shedder he had so nearly appropriated in the morning. Imagine his embarrassment when the stranger tapped him on the shoulder and, with a significant glance at the bundle of umbrellas, remarked in cutting tones, "I see you've made a very good haul today."

KATONAH GIRL'S MISHAP.

When Mary Frenz was running toward the back door of the school house on Wednesday she missed the knob and thrust her hand through the glass, cutting the skin and wrist muscles severely. Wallace Searies displayed his presence of mind by gripping her arm above the cut and checking the flow of blood. Dr. MacPhail was hastily summoned to the home of the injured girl and, after removing several pieces of glass, closed up the wound with seven stitches. The sight of the blood caused three of the smaller boys to faint and it was necessary for some of their older schoolmates to carry them home.

Miss Carrie Knapp, one of our busy telephone operators, was bothered last week by a particle of some foreign substance lodged in one of her eyes. Saturday evening, while she was at work, the eye began bleeding. Dr. MacPhail was called to the exchange and had to cut into the eyeball in order to remove what proved to be a fragment of broken glass.

KATONAH NOW HAS A LOCAL VETERINARY.

Dr. Albert N. Towner, well known as a veterinary surgeon, has moved here from the town which received its name from his ancestors. He is about to establish a practice in Katonah, having taken up his quarters at the residence of Fletcher H. Lent, on Edgemont Road.

Owners of valuable live stock—and there are many of them herabouts—will doubtless be glad to hear that there is a veterinary surgeon within call. It is something that has long been needed. Dr. Towner has made a specialty of operations on the teeth of horses and is reputed to be thoroughly up-to-date in his methods.

Hoyt Bros. Co. are having a new coat of paint applied to the exterior of Katonah's "Big Store." Frank Knapp is wielding the brush.
