Furniture From Boxes
Married Life In Chile
A Widow's Orphan Home

Miss Louise Brigham, an Ohio girl, is the author of that very interesting little book, "Box Furniture." Among her experiences was that unique, Sunshine Cottage. The work, unfortunately, was cut short by the dangerous illness of the gifted woman. The book tells down to the minutest detail how to make and how to have fun in making all sorts of simple, serviceable, artistic things, such as tables, stools, bookshelves, brackets, dressers and wardrobes, besides scores of other quaint and fascinating articles in the furniture line. The articles are suitable for city flats, country cottages, camps in the woods and for the social service settlement. Miss Brigham made the articles described by her in the book. All the furnishings of Sunshine Cottage, located in the slum sections of Cleveland, O., were the work of her hands. In the cottage she lived on terms of simple neighborliness with the boys and girls and mothers of the street, making warm friends of lads whom the settlement workers could not reach.

All the furniture was not, of course, box furniture, but the very low price of the furnishing left money for more important things, and the simplicity of it won the confidence of the neighbors.

Miss Brigham turned the camp of a friend, away up in the north, into a marvel of comfort just with the boxes that brought the supplies—boxes and clever hands. Her book tells all the details desired.

Married Life In Chile

Women in Chile do not fret over many things which help to age the women of the north. They never worry. Like their sisters the world over, they are interested in the fashions. In fact, they are ahead of the women in the United States in this respect. They get the latest designs in Paris six months before our women. But the Chilean women do not allow fashions to occupy all their time. It is their temperament not to become impatient. Chilean wives do not even worry about their husbands; they do not have to. They know they are beautiful, these Chilean wives, and they know how to manage their husbands. The Chileans do not nag. The women are too wise to ask questions. They know their husbands are true, and the Chilean home is the most perfect picture of content and confidence that one will find anywhere. Marriage in that country is a mutual affair. Both parties to the marital contract assume obligations and responsibilities. If a Chilean husband does not come home till broad daylight his wife does not ask him where he has been, but "hope he has had a pleasant time." The Chilean home is full of rest. Such a thing as divorce is rarely known in that country. These words of praise were told the other day by Signorina Carolina Huldobro in an interview. She is a native of Chile, but her parents are northern people. She has lived among the Chileans since girlhood, mingling with the best society, sometimes as a companion and frequently as a teacher.

Story of a Home For Orphans.

Mrs. M. A. Hunter, widow of Commodore Hunter of the navy, founded the first home for orphans in Louisiana and perhaps in the south. In 1817 a vessel loaded with immigrants arrived at New Orleans with twenty children on board who had been left fatherless and motherless by cholera during the voyage. Mrs. Hunter, then prominent in society and well known for her charitable disposition, gathered the waifs into her own home until she could find and fit up a place for them. She induced Julian Poydras, a wealthy merchant and planter, to give them a temporary home. Later, through the influence of Mrs. Hunter, he erected the home which is now known all over the south as the Poydras Asylum For Orphans. Poydras was a quaint character. Originally he was a peddler and carried his pack from the mouth of the Mississippi river to St. Louis every year. He was a scholar and a poet.

MARCOIA WILLIS CAMPBELL.

POOH BAH' OF THE SHOP.

A New York Woman Who Does the Work of Six People.

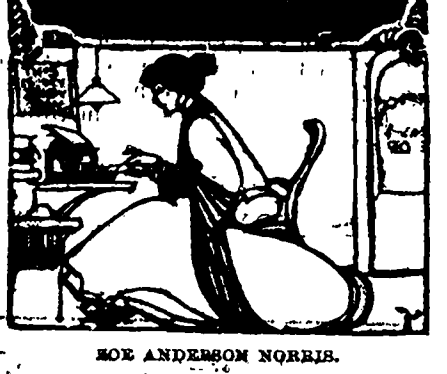

Zoe Anderson Norris, Office Boy, Business Manager, Managing Editor, Editor in Chief, and Owner. This is the reading of the sign on the entrance of the shop from which is issued a little magazine called the East Side. Of course the titles on the sign are capitalized. The sanctum is in East Seventeenth street, New York city.

Miss Norris wrote a story over the title "The Closed Door." She wanted to exploit it, and then came the idea that she could best do so by issuing a magazine that would lead up to the story. The magazine in typographical appearance is a facsimile of Hubbard's Philistine. The literary flavor is piquant. The result of the publication has made Miss Norris very happy. It has likewise pleased her friends. The taste of the editorial nectar has put an edge on her appetite for publicity, and she is moved to repeat the experiment. More issues of the East Side are to follow.

Nothing so interesting to those who have "been up against it" as the adolescent who gets the first glimpse of the green fields beyond, to whom distance lends the enchantment that fringes the pleasures of hope.

Some of the experiences of this young woman have been amusing. One morning while arranging her toilet a young mulatto called and announced that he wanted to help her write her magazine. He addressed her as "sir." He addressed her as "sir" several times. And all the while she was girthing her kimono about her. Of course he went away with a sad face.

Then there was a young fellow who lived at the Hungry club. He subscribed for the East Side because he had a lot of things he wanted to say, and he would say them in her magazine. She pocketed the young man's money and strolled away. If he could have heard her think he would have heard something like this: "You've another think coming. There are many things that I want to say, too, that I have never had a chance to say, much as I have written. And when I have said them in my little magazine there'll be room for nothing else." All this, she says, crossed her mind.

MOE ANDERSON NORRIS.

That morning a letter from a stranger who had got interested in the magazine. Gladly she called upon him, hoping that the visit would eradicate the frankness of the chap in charge of the newsstand. "The man who had read the publication said: 'It is beautiful! I read every word of it, and so did my roommate. It ought to do a lot of good on the east side. Take this check for your printer and don't think of paying it back.'" Well, that bouquet should be preserved, and it ought to be labeled "Rosemary." The magazine abounds in incidents. These are hinted at in the motto of the publication, "The poor ye have always with you on the east side."

The Only Woman Stock Buyer.

Mrs. E. H. Ellsworth of Nashua, Ia., is probably the only woman in the United States who makes a business of buying hogs. She transacts most of her business by telephone. She keeps in touch with Chicago prices. When she has made purchases she superintends the shipments. She has made a study of this kind of live stock so long that she can guess at the weight of an average hog, rarely missing the exact figures more than one or two pounds. Before she began the business she used to read the current prices of stock and got to be an authority on quotations. "The farmers often called her up to get the prices, and in this way she became interested and finally started what has become a prosperous vocation. She has been engaged in the purchase and shipping of hogs for several years, and the story they tell about her in her town is that she has never had a misunderstanding with a customer.

M., at the opening of court on said day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that ten days' notice of the time and place of the hearing of this application be given to Deborah Quackinbos, of New Castle, Westchester County, New York, by serving on her a copy of this order and the annexed petition, and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that ten days' notice of the time and place of the hearing of this application be given to the unknown wife, widow, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of William Merritt, and to the unknown husband, widow, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of Ruth Merritt, Alatha Lyon and Amy Reynolds, respectively, and to the parties deriving title through the unknown wife, widow, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of the said William Merritt, and to the parties deriving title through the unknown husband, widower, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of Ruth Merritt, Alatha Lyon, and Amy Reynolds, respectively, by the publication of a copy of this order and annexed petition in two newspapers, namely, in the Katonah Times published in Katonah, N. Y., and in the Chappaqua Item published in Chappaqua, once a week for two successive weeks, Dated New York, June 5, 1909.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF WESTCHESTER.

In the Matter of the Application of JAMES L. MEDLER, to perpetuate the testimony of Deborah Quackinbos, James Wood and Abram Haines.

PETITION TO THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

The petition of James L. Medler, above named, respectfully shows:

1. That your petitioner resides at Brooklyn, in the County of Kings, State of New York. That your petitioner desires testimony taken and perpetuated in relation to the following real property:

ALL that certain farm with buildings and improvements thereon situate in the Town of Bedford, County of Westchester and State of New York, consisting of two parcels of land, bounded and described as follows: The first parcel is situate on the southerly side of the highway leading from the residence of Charles Haines to Croton Lake and is bounded as follows: northerly in front by said highway; easterly and southerly by lands of Augustus Reynolds; westerly by lands of Dr. A. McLean Jeffrey, Katie Brazeau (formerly Mulhall) and Frank Wood. The other or second parcel is situate on the northerly side of said highway and is bounded as follows: Southerly in front by said highway; westerly and northerly by lands of William Rhoades; and easterly by lands of Augustus Reynolds. That your petitioner is the owner of the estate in fee therein, which he holds as purchaser.

2. That said property, at the date hereof is and for one year next preceding has been in the possession of your petitioner and in the possession of William M. Morrill, as Trustee under the last Will and Testament of Betsey L. Brown, deceased, as respective sole owners in fee simple thereof, your petitioner having obtained title in fee simple by purchase from said Trustees.

3. Upon information and belief, your petitioner originally comprised part of a parcel of land or farm, owned by one Nathaniel Merritt, Sr., who died July 5th, 1823, a resident of the Town of Bedford, County of Westchester, State of New York. Said Nathaniel Merritt, Sr., made a gift by will of property by an unrecorded deed to his son Nathaniel Merritt, Jr., who took possession of the same property and during his lifetime granted and conveyed a part of said property in small parcels at various times to different grantees and continued in possession of the remainder by his last Will and Testament to one Phineas T. Young, from which grantees and devisees by means conveyance your petitioner has acquired title in fee simple. The will of Nathaniel Merritt, Sr., made no devise of any kind to a son Nathaniel Merritt, Jr. The only deed on record to Nathaniel Merritt, Jr., including any part of said property is a deed from the executors of Nathaniel Merritt, Sr., dated February 22, 1838, conveying one hundred and one acres situated north of a certain highway, said deed being recorded March 16th, 1837 in Liber 30 at page 53. The description in this deed would include only the second parcel of said property, namely, the parcel situated on the northerly side of the present highway.

In order to establish a clear title in fee simple in Nathaniel Merritt, Jr., to the first parcel of said property situated on the southerly side of the present highway as against any parties, their respective wives, widows, husbands, widowers, heirs, devisees, grantees or assigns who may claim any interest in said first parcel of said property, it is necessary that testimony be perpetuated to the effect that Nathaniel Merritt, Jr., acquired title in fee simple to said first parcel of said property by an unrecorded deed given by Nathaniel Merritt, Sr.; and that Nathaniel Merritt, Jr., his grantees, and devisees, and parties deriving title through said grantees and devisees, respectively, have peaceably and quietly possessed and enjoyed said first parcel of said property from a date prior to or from the date of the death of Nathaniel Merritt, Sr., which occurred July 5, 1823, until the present time.

The record title to a triangular portion of the first parcel of said property, situate between the old and the new highway, was in one Harvey W. Searles in the year 1837. The next deed of record conveying said triangular portion is a deed from John W. Searles and wife to Meyer Reynolds, dated March 30th, 1850 and recorded April 10th, 1850, from which parties by means conveyance your petitioner has acquired title in fee simple.

In order to establish a clear title in fee simple to said triangular portion in John W. Searles as against any parties, their respective wives, widows, husbands, widowers, heirs, devisees, grantees or assigns, who may claim any interest in said triangular portion it is necessary that testimony be perpetuated to the effect that John W. Searles acquired title to said triangular portion by descent as sole heir at law of Harvey W. Searles or by unrecorded deed from said Harvey W. Searles to John W. Searles.

1. The names and residences of the persons to be examined are: Deborah Quackinbos, New Castle, Westchester County, N. Y. James Wood, Bedford, Westchester County, N. Y. Abram Haines, Bedford, Westchester County, N. Y.

2. The names and residences of the persons having interests which may be adversely affected by the testimony sought to be taken so far as such names and residences are within the knowledge of your petitioner are as follows: Deborah Quackinbos, New Castle, Westchester County, New York; the unknown wife, widow, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of William Merritt, said William Merritt being the deceased brother of Nathaniel Merritt, Jr., deceased, late of Bedford, Westchester County, N. Y.; the unknown husband, widower, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of Ruth Merritt, Alatha Lyon and Amy Reynolds, respectively, said Ruth Merritt, Alatha Lyon and Amy Reynolds being the deceased sisters of the said Nathaniel Merritt, Jr., deceased; the parties deriving title through the unknown wife, widow, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of said William Merritt; the parties deriving title through the unknown husband, widower, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns of Ruth Merritt, Alatha Lyon and Amy Reynolds, respectively. The names and residences of said respective wife, widow, husband, widower, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns, and parties deriving title through said respective wife, widow, husband, widowers, heirs, devisees, grantees and assigns, are unknown to your petitioner, who cannot ascertain the same, although he has made diligent search so to do.

6. The sources of your petitioner's knowledge and the grounds of his belief as to the matters herein alleged on information and belief are conversations with Edward Harding, one of his attorneys, who has had charge of closing the title to the above described property, statements and affidavits of old residents of Westchester County who are familiar with the said property, and searches made by the Lawyers Westchester Mortgage and Title Company.

WHEREFORE your petitioner pray that the testimony of said Deborah Quackinbos, James Wood and Abram Haines, be taken and perpetuated as by statute provided and for such other and further relief as may be just. Dated, New York, May 26, 1909.

JAMES L. MEDLER, Petitioner.

STATE OF NEW YORK
 County of New York

JAMES L. MEDLER, being duly sworn, says:

That he is the petitioner above named; that he has read the foregoing petition and knows the contents thereof, that the same is true to his own knowledge, except as to the matters therein stated to be alleged on information and belief and as to those matters he believes it to be true.

JAMES L. MEDLER, Sworn to before me this 29th day of May, 1909.

Florence T. Stewart,
 Notary Public, No. 283,
 New York County.

NOTARIAL SEAL
 STATE OF NEW YORK

"Wanamaker Standard" Stockings for Women

35c a Pair—Three Pairs for $1

These Wanamaker Standard Stockings are the BEST stockings that can be bought at the popular price of a dollar for three pairs. The standard they set is so high, that no other stockings sold at their price can equal them. The process is the same as we follow in our hosiery at 25c—GETTING THE BEST QUALITY MADE, TO SELL REGULARLY AT THE PRICE, AND THEN IMPROVING IT.

We go direct to the German makers to get the hosiery as we like it—the best in each grade is picked out to furnish our lines. Every one of the following sort is given added wear by virtue of soles, heels or toes THAT ARE REINFORCED ABOVE THE USUAL SPECIFICATIONS, garter tops of extra strength, spliced selvage at the back seam, and similar improvements. All Summer styles:

Lisle Thread
 Black or tan, gauze weight; garter-tops; spliced heels, double soles and extra double toes.
 Black, Summer weight; high spliced heels, double soles and extra double toes.

Cotton
 Black, gauze weight; garter tops; high spliced heels, double soles and extra double toes.
 Black or tan; light weight; double soles and heels, and with linen-spliced toes.
 Black, medium weight; lisle-spliced soles, heels and toes; spliced selvage.

Pretty Paris Undermuslins
 Inexpensively Priced

They are low-priced because we order directly and in large numbers and the garments come straight from the designers to Wanamaker's.

But French lingerie has other merits. To make sure that qualities are good and patterns new and dainty, we select our own materials and designs. The hand embroideries are strong as well as pretty and stand rubbing admirably. For Summer wear, at home or traveling, there's nothing better than Paris Undermuslins. Have you ever tried them?
