MURDER AND SUICIDE.

The Double Crime of a Syracuse Young Man.

SYRACUSE Feb. 12.—William Terdre, son of the proprietor of a boat house on the shore of Onondaga lake, applied for admission to Lizzie Stokey's house, No. 50 Walton street, at half-past 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Terdre was well known there, and was firmly refused admission. When the girl came to the door, he pushed it open and fired at her, missing his mark. He then rushed in and up the stairs when another inmate, Nellie Ryan, opened her room door, Terdre fired at her, saying: "Get another lover, will you." The bullet penetrated her right breast. He fired again and missed. Lizzie Stokey appeared in the hall to learn the cause of the shooting, when Terdre turned upon her. Seeing a revolver in his hand she turned to escape, when he fired, the ball entering the base of the shoulder blade two inches to the right of the spinal column. Terdre rushed into the street firing several times at random and escaped. He was not seen again until at 11 o'clock at night, when he reached his home in the First ward in tears, and in the presence of his aged mother fired two bullets into his head. He will certainly die. The Ryan girl was very low and will probably die.—The Storkey woman, who was also shot, may live. The house where the affray occurred is the lowest in the city. The affair causes great excitement.

Oil Fire at Olean.

BRADFORD, Pa., Feb. 12.—A spark from a locomotive of the Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia railroad this evening set fire to little pools of oil in the low ground near Olean, N. Y., where the united pipe lines have a number of large iron tanks. A few moments after the pools of oil were set on fire the flames were communicated to three iron tanks containing 105,000 barrels of oil, which are now in flames. The pipe line men from all sections of the oil regions were summoned by wire to the scene of the fire. Superintendents Snow and Smedley with a large force of men left Bradford by a special fast train. They took pick, shovels, cannon and a chemical fire extinguisher. Trenches and embankments will be formed to prevent the spread of the burning oil when the overflow occurs, which will be by 2 or three o'clock a. m. Olean creek runs near the scene, and great fears are entertained that the oil will strike the surface of the stream and destroy a number of railroad bridges and houses near the bank of the creek. The oil will be drawn off as rapidly as possible by perforating the tanks with cannon ball. The night is as bright as day for several miles about the tanks. What the result will be cannot be conjectured.

I. M. Joslyn Burglarized.

Three young lads, John and William Moran, brothers, and a boy named Bailey, made a bold attempt at burglary yesterday afternoon. They visited I. M. Joslyn's gun shop about half past one o'clock and, raising a window that was not securely fastened, entered the place and reconnoitered. The door leading into the front shop was fastened, so they went up stairs and secured two guns which they carried down and out, concealing them in a coal shed. They were discovered by Wm. J. Tyrrell, the valorous clerk in the post-office, who captured young Bailey and held him fast. The Moran boys escaped, but were subsequently captured. The trio spent the night in jail and will have their examination this afternoon.

We have noticed several cat items lately, but why Pembroke and Bergen correspondents should plague the printer with their 12 lb., 2 foot, 8 or 9 inch kittens is more than we can comprehend. We beg permission to present Byron's claim to a cat item. Mr. F. C. Campbell is the owner of a pussy of the was-a-tommy kind which weighs 14 lbs., girths 18 inches and is 3 feet 3/4 inches from tip to tip. Now to start the ball rolling, lets go from matters feline to matters canine. We will give Will Brockway's dog "Joe" first. He is a full-blooded Newfoundland, weighs 161 lbs., girths 46 inches and measures 6 feet 4 inches from tip of nose to tip of tail. He is as good as he is big, and is never better pleased than when he is allowed to help. We have frequently seen Mr. B. take the pails, when about to water his horses, go to the pump and fill one for "Joe" to carry, which he does without spilling. "Joe" recognizes the butcher's horn before any member of the family has heard it, takes his position in the road and when the meat man gets there "Joe" speaks in thundering tones for his bone. We allow we have played our best trump on the dog, but for a cat, we measured the first one that come handy, and if beaten shall look farther.

An Important Invention.

The incorporation at Albany of a new company under the name of the Ice Obstruction Clearing company of Rochester was consummated Saturday. Very few people are acquainted with the nature of the enterprise. For many years, says the Rochester Democrat, the accumulation of ice in our inland harbors has been a source of great annoyance and loss to ship owners, and all the methods designed for obviating the difficulty have proved more or less of a failure. At last, however, W. W. Green, of Chicago, one of the best mechanics in this country, has patented an invention which by modals at least, seems to answer the purpose admirably. According to his model, there will be constructed a boat about the size of a large tug, with endless chain saws forward working perpendicularly, grinding the ice to pulp, and making absolutely clear a passage for the largest ships. It cuts thick ice and thin ice equally well, and proceeds at about the usual towing rate of speed. The invention certainly gives every indication of a genuine success, and if it fulfills all expectations, there can be no doubt but that it will come into general use. The names of the gentlemen composing the company are W. W. Green, Chicago; Charles H. Terry, Riga, N. Y.; James Z. Terry, Byron, Genesee county, N. Y.; and David K. Carter, of Rochester. A large amount of capital is represented, and the interests of the company will be advanced vigorously and immediately.

Golden Rye.

Breaking Out of Jail.

Sheriff Schoeffel of Monroe county has had hard luck since he assumed the office the first of the year. At two different times have escapes been made from the old, dilapidated institution that the people of Monroe county call a jail. Yesterday eleven prisoners broke out. The prisoners succeeded in getting into the dungeon, which was fastened by a defective lock, and from there dug a hole through the wall leading into the common coop, from which they got into the yard. There a ladder was handy and they scaled the wall without difficulty. Their absence was soon detected, and the police notified. Four of them were recaptured, but seven whose names are given below are still at large: John Weissenberg, the burglar, who was one of the leaders of the other jail delivery, and who had just been brought back from Chicago; Philip Stein, the sheep thief, whose career was reported in Saturday's News; William Howard, colored, indicted for burglary; Edward Camp, grand larceny; Frederick G. Boas, a car burglar; Charles Shephard, indicted for attempting to set fire to the Sibley block, on Main street, and John McFarlin, indicted for burglary. Doubtless some of them will be brought back.
