THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

During the last fifty years, as the Democratic party, from time to time, suffered defeat, it has been buried, and of course the chronic haters avail themselves of the present occasion to consign to the grave the party which has been sustained by the people, but cheated out of its President.

PACKARD'S WITHDRAWAL.

Packard's withdrawal from the State House fixes the brand of usurper on Rutherford B. Hayes so indelibly that it can never be erased. And Wm. M. Everts is conscious of it.

REVIVING THE DEAD.

Secretary Thompson, of Mr. Hayes' cabinet, has declared that the times are right for a reconstruction of parties, his favorite plan being to clothe the Republican party in the mantle of the old Whig party with a protective tariff, internal improvements and a slightly inflated currency...

TWEED.

From a cowering, hunted fugitive or a closely guarded convict, Tweed has suddenly emerged into an avenging Nemesis of the masculine sex. The fluttering of wounded birds and the report of increased excitement in New York are both calculated to strengthen belief in the substantial truth of the Tweed "confession."

HAYES DEGRADING THE NEGRO RACE.

The Sun continues to hammer away at Hayes for the manner in which he is going back of the principles of his party in regard to the negroes, and especially cites the case of Frank Douglass, whose appointment the duties of Marshal.

THE EXCELSIOR CIRCUIT.

The Prospects for the July Meeting. That Utica is to have a July Meeting on the Driving Park as part of the Excelsior Circuit, is definitely settled.

PACKARD GIVES IT UP.

Packard gives it up. He announces his purpose to settle quietly down in New Orleans to the practice of law, and let politics alone for a season.
