THE JOURNAL OF COMMERCE. A paper under the above title, has been recently established in the city of New-York, by wealthy individuals; the object of which appears to be, to unite temporal with spiritual concerns, to mend the morals of society, which it professes the commercial interests of the city, and the pecuniary advantages of those concerned in its publication.

It is reported in Canada, that a discovery has been made, that four men who had found a silver mine in the Upper Province, have worked it for some time, and have obtained a large quantity of silver. Three of them are said to be Americans, and one an Englishman; and the secret was divulged in consequence of a dispute between the parties.

A Quack, calling himself Dr. Warren, residing at Albany, on the 1st of August, procured a Mr. Webb to take of his pretended medicine. The doctor, however, committed the further mistake of the letter was attacked with dangerous illness, and according to the Daily Advertiser, is yet hardly out of danger. The medicine proved, on analysis, to have been a mixture of almost pure opium.

It is mentioned in one of our late English papers, that Mr. Perkins has put into operation a new machinery for his steam engine, one of which has been tested at St. Catherine's Dock with great success. It is said that he begins, with a piston of eight inches diameter, works with sixteen horse power at the expense of only one bushel of coal per hour.

any, the navy, and the government, have by turns done their best to get them out of my hands. When I speak of the navy in this affair, I mean not that portion of it which is under the direction of Lord Cochrane. With that gentleman I have no acquaintance, but he has formed a high opinion of my character, both as a gentleman and a commander. I have found it necessary to take care to follow my own course as far as possible.

It is consoling to think that the sufferings of Greece have been so largely remedied by American generosity.

From the St. Louis, Mo. Observer, Sept. 5. NEWS! By the arrival of the St. Louis and Galena packet, from the Upper Mississippi, on the 30 inst. we have received the important intelligence that the Winnebagoes had refused to fight with Gov. Cass at Green Bay, and that in consequence, Gov. Cass had written to Gen. Atkinson, informing him of the refusal. The Winnebagoes, who had been sent to the tribe or a part of them had joined the Winnebagoes in hostility against the United States.

IN the press, and will be soon ready for publication, Letters of Honorable to his friend Candius, on REVIVALS OF RELIGION as Means of Grace. Oct. 3, 1827. D. AYERS. 7

THE subscriber has, on encouragement, been compelled to omit the purchase of the usual fall stock of Goods. He has a small stock of DRY GOODS AND GROCERIES, which he offers very low for cash or such produce as will fetch cash immediately, but cannot give credit for any. Those now indebted will see the necessity of making payment punctually, according to contract. Most debts are now due, and immediate payment of such must be made. NATHAN HERRICK. Ithaca, Sept. 25, 1827. 520lf.

TO THE PUBLIC. The undersigned, while travelling in the fall of the year 1825, from his residence in the village of Aurora, to the city of New-York, lost a sum of money, and was induced, at the time, to believe it was lost while he was at the Hotel in the village of Ithaca, kept by Mr. Spencer. Under this impression he may have made expressions calculated to wound the feelings of Mr. Spencer, his family and friends, and injure him as the keeper of a public house. He now feels it a duty which he owes as well to the public as to Mr. Spencer, to declare, that he never intended to impute the loss of the said money to Mr. Spencer or to his agency; or to make any other imputation against his character as an honest man. Any such declaration, as far as he knows or believes, would have been without foundation, and if he has, at any time, been supposed to have made them, he must have been misunderstood. CHRISTOPHER MORGAN. Oct. 1, 1827. 295w3
