TEXAS WANTS PROTECTION ON WOOL.

It makes a difference whose ox is gored. Southern Representatives in Congress when the tariff question is not being agitated talk vehemently against the "Robber Tariff." The following from Kerreville, Texas, shows their honest opinion when their industries are touched: "Thie wool and mohair growers in this region are petitioning their representatives in Washington to oppose a reduction in the tariff on wool and mohair. The business has assumed large proportions and any material reduction would result in destroying the industry, they say."

MUST CARRY LIGHT.

The Governor of New Jersey has just signed a bill which it would be well for all to heed, those who travel in that state as well as the residents. The law requires that all vehicles at night must carry a light that will be visible two hundred and fifty feet ahead. Otherwise they are liable to a fine of five dollars and costs.

BIRDS OF FLIGHT INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

The flight of wild birds in the spring time is declared to be commerce between the states in a bill introduced in the House. The idea comes from Kansas, the author of it being Representative Anthony of that State, a regular of the regulars. The bill makes it unlawful to kill a wild bird any time between January 10 and August 10, covering the period when the birds make their annual migratory flights. The first offense against the proposed law is to be punishable by a fine of from $100 to $1,000, and the second offence by imprisonment from 30 days to six months.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S PROPHECY.

That Woodrow Wilson will be the next Democratic nominee for President is the belief of Col. Roosevelt according to Montana men who were with the Colonel during his visit at Helena, Montana. They declared that he expressed the belief that New Jersey's Governor would be nominated by the Democratic National Committee.

"THE RIDDLE OF THE SPHINX SOLVED."

The "riddle of the Sphinx" has been solved at last. Prof. George A. Reisner, an archaeologist attached to Harvard University, has proved by the style of the head-wear and other points that the sphinx is an image of a lion surmounted by the head of Chephren, a pharaoh, who ruled 2,850 years B. C.

Mrs. Ellen Wilson, who was elected Mayor of Hunnewell, Kansas, was counted out, has been reinstated, and will lact, the decision finally coming her way. After such publicity she should make good. She owes this much to her sisters.

Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, can ride free on the railroads. It is not due to the railway courtesy but to the law of the state, although he held off until the Attorney General said it was legal.

Commenting on the recent report of the Agricultural Department the New York World says:

Let not the agricultural West look with contempt upon the State of New York as a farming community. It does not pretend to compete with Illinois or Iowa in the production of corn, or with Minnesota and Kansas in its output of wheat, but according to a crop report issued by the Department of Agriculture last month it headed the entire list in hay, potatoes and buckwheat. As an appleraiser it is also in the front rank, as well as in dairy products.

Now the census, which no one dares dispute except the impatient residents of boom towns, rates the farm lands and buildings of New New York as worth $1,176,222,000, an increase in value of 21 per cent. in ten years. To be sure, that is less than one-fourth of the assessed valuation of all realty in Manhattan, but farm lands throughout the State average only $53 an acre in value, while land in lower Broadway has sold as high as $600 the square foot.

An industry that increased its payments for labor alone from $27,000,000, in 1900, to over $40,000,000, in 1911, and in which there are nearly 215,000 proprietors deserves the respectful consideration of States disposed to assume that all farming in the United States is done west of the Alleghanies and that the whole State of New York is Wall Street's backyard.

SUBURBAN NOTES.

SULLIVAN COUNTY.

Eldred.

Eldred, April 17. — The beautiful snow came to us again, and all church goers found walking disagreeable.

We are glad to learn that the sick are getting better, and we hope the nice spring weather will entice them out soon.

Miss Minnie Sergeant is better and we hope to see her smiling face again.

Easter dawned with snow, as usual, but the Congregational Church was well filled in the evening and the congregation listened to an entertaining program. Mrs. Styles's class gave some very nice recitations and the choir some fine music. Rev. Mr. Kaufman's remarks were enjoyed. The Easter bonnets were few—it was too cold for them.

Mr. James Eldred, of Goshen, made a visit to his relatives and returned home Sunday evening.

Thursday evening the Patriotic Club give a social. Indians and the whites will welcome all who come. A fine program is arranged.

April 30th, the Brotherhood of the Congregational Church will attend in the evening. All are invited. Any one can attend this service.

Narrowsburg.

Narrowsburg, April 17.—Mr. W. E. Bowers, of Neweiden, N. Y., went to the woods on Wednesday of last week to cut fire wood, taking his wife and three children with him. In felling a tree about eight inches in diameter, the course of which was changed by the wind. It fell striking his little five-year-old girl upon the head, rendering her unconscious. The parents carried her to their home and summoned Dr. C. W. Parsells, of Narrowsburg, who treated the child's injuries which the physician thought would not result serious. The blow must have been a glancing one or the child would have been killed instantly.

Mr. William Schaffner, of Brooklyn, L. I., has purchased the property owned by the late J. W. Johnston and will take possession of the same some time in May. Mr. and Mrs. Schaffner and little daughter are stopping at the Homestead with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huebner, where they passed the summer months of 1910. Mr. Schaffner and family will become permanent residents of this village, which we are all pleased to hear.

Neweiden.

Neweiden, April 17. — Mrs. M. Flood, of Brooklyn, L. I., is passing several weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Hensz.

Young David Slater shot what he called a crane one day last week, which measured six feet two inches from tip to tip and stood four feet four inches in its bare feet, having a bill over eight inches long. It was thought to be a shame that David killed this bird as it might possibly have been the stork that visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hensz, a short time ago. Young Davis is satisfied, however, that his game was not a stork.

A little daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hensz, March 27th, and is already quite familiar with its surroundings. Mother and child are doing well.

Cochecton.

Cochecton, April 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaBert have a large English walnut tree in their front yard that is very beautiful in summer. Its leaves are large and the blossoms resemble that of the willow. The tree is about 20 years old and has been bearing for the last eight years. Last season it produced 279 nuts of good size and flavor.

Our enterprising townsman, Mr. Robert Jackson, had a number of teams employed last week drawing shale for the improvement of the highways.

Mr. Stoddard Gordon has had a new roof put on his residence. The work was done by Mr. Writer, of Otisville.

Beaver Brook.

Beaver Brook, April 15—Miss Bertha Wherry, who is employed as a teacher near North Branch, received word April 9th, of the sad and unexpected death of her brother, John, who died at Yuma, Arizona, April 8th. Receiving the news too late to get a train home that day, she sent a message and came to Narrowsburg on the early train from Callicoon the next morning. Although the news came so unexpectedly she bore it very bravely. Miss Wherry was to close school on April 13th, and had made all preparations for a very fine entertainment at the close of school. After spending the remainder of the week with friends there, she intended to attend the institute, going from there to Monticello, where she expected to take a course in dressmaking. Miss Wherry's troubles and misfortunes in life have been without number, but with cheering words from kind friends she bears them all without a murmur. Her kind and loving disposition wins friends for her wherever she goes and she has the heartfelt sympathy of them all.
