RISE OF A ONE-TIME CANAL MAN

C. C. Rose, Former Port Jervis Resident, Now Prominent in Coal Industry.

WITH DELAWARE & HUDSON
Born in Ellenville, N. Y., He Came Here at an Early Age and Has Had a Remarkable Career Since That Time

Coal Age, one of the official publications of the Coal Trade, in a current issue makes C. C. Rose, general superintendent of the coal department of the Delaware and Hudson, the subject of a sketch in a column, "Who's Who in Coal Mining." After an introduction in which the writer sets forth Mr. Rose's unwillingness to be brought into the spotlight of publicity, the article continues as follows:

"C. C. Rose is the type of man who likes best to go about his work in his own peculiar way, getting what results he can and keeping his success bottled for those directly interested in his services. In his position as general manager of the coal department of the Delaware and Hudson Company he has attained to a place of eminence in the anthracite industry."

"Mr. Rose was born in Ellenville, a little town up near Kingston, N. Y. It was here that his early education was obtained. During the days of the old canal system he became connected with the Delaware and Hudson Company and has never had occasion to regret the choice made. At an early age he left Ellenville and went down to Port Jervis, N. Y., and for fifteen years was engaged in various duties connected with canal work. Much Delaware and Hudson coal was carried through the old waterway, and when he was placed in charge of the shipping Mr. Rose made many changes which were so successful in their outcome that the way was paved for his future success."

"From Port Jervis he went to the Lake Champlain region, where the Delaware and Hudson Company placed him in charge of its coal shipments in that territory. His success in this new position was just as pronounced as it had been at Port Jervis, and his employers marked Mr. Rose for future advancement to more important work."

"He is not a college man, but has secured for himself a broad education from private study, which, coupled with his years of practical business experience, has rounded him into a man superior in the matter of general education to many of those who boast a college degree. His real opportunity came when he was placed in the engineering department of the Delaware and Hudson Company, and it was in this line of work that his ability was most noticeable."

"His precision and an unusual talent for mastering details were the chief elements in his makeup which were chiefly responsible for a rapid advance through the minor positions on the company's engineering corps. When the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company was badly in need of a division engineer, his attention was called to C. C. Rose, and the offer made him was sufficiently attractive to lead him away from his first love. The Lackawanna people retained his services only a few years, when the Delaware and Hudson Company came to realize that it had permitted one of its self-made and much needed men to depart from its employ. As a result he went back to the company which gave him his first start, and it looks as though he returned for good."

"Sixteen years have elapsed since he took hold of the management end of the Delaware and Hudson mines, and the progress of this company is sufficient proof that the confidence and trust imposed in him were entirely justified. Under his charge he has an army of workmen, and among those who know him best he is recognized as a real boss—not one of the kind who is obliged to swear a "sulphur streak" to get work accomplished."

HYMENEAL.

Dick—McCormick.

Tusten, Sept. 30.—On Tuesday evening, September 24th, a pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Mary Dick, when her eldest daughter, Agnes Margretha, was united in marriage to Mr. Swartz R. McCormick, of Ozone Park, L. I. Promptly at 8:30 the bridal party marched into the parlor where, in the presence of many relatives and friends, the ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Baumgartner, of Barryville.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white satin and allover lace, a bridal veil and wreath.

The couple were attended by Miss Sophia Dick, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Frederick W. Mueller, cousin of the bride, as best man.

The bridesmaid wore a dress of embroidered net over pink.

An alcove in the parlor was decorated for the occasion with a bank of ferns and autumn leaves, in the center of which was a gold monogram of "M." and "D." and a large wedding bell hung from the center of the alcove.

After the ceremony the bridal party, with relatives and friends, enjoyed a delicious supper. Mr. Frederick Mueller was toastmaster and many pleasing and appropriate speeches were made. The tables were tastefully decorated with ferns and the wedding cake was prettily ornamented.

After the wedding supper dancing to music furnished by Henze's orchestra was enjoyed by all until dawn, when all departed for their several homes extending to the bride and groom countless good wishes for luck, happiness and prosperity. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts consisting of cut-glass, silver and linen.

The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls with opal center, and to the best man, a pearl stick pin. The bride's gift to the groom was a Masonic button, and to the bridesmaid, a pearl necklace.

The bride's traveling dress was of blue satin trimmed with black and white, with long blue serge coat and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick left on Wednesday for a wedding tour to New Haven, Conn., and points of interest in the east. After their return they will reside in Ozone Park, where Mr. McCormick follows his trade of carpenter. The bride will be missed in her old home at Tusten, as she is a friendly young woman as well as a competent housekeeper.

Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Saul, Mrs. Frederick Mueller, Miss Barbara Saul, Miss E. Heath, Messrs. Peter Saul, Frederick and Harry Mueller, of Brooklyn; Mr. Fred Adolph, of Ozone Park; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Dippold and Mr. J. A. Dippold, of New Haven, Conn.

HUNTER MANGLED BY FLY-WHEEL OF MOTOR BOAT ENGINE MAY DIE

Dr. George C. Lindsay, of Scranton, was in a peculiar motor boat accident at Wilsonville, near Hawley, last Saturday, having suffered two fractures of his left leg, one at the knee, the other at the middle of the thigh. In addition, the limb was badly bruised.

The accident occurred when Dr. Lindsay's party, Dr. Fordham and Lewis Healey, were about to go duck hunting. Healey and Fordham were in the boat and Dr. Lindsay was getting in when a lurch of the craft threw him against the fly wheel of the engine. Projecting from the wheel is a handle used to crank up the engine to start it.

Dr. Lindsay fell against the revolving wheel, the handle of which caught and fractured his left leg. Unable to move, the crank kept hitting him and thus horribly fractured the bone and mangled the flesh. He was dragged from the machinery and Dr. Rodman, of Hawley, summoned. He was then removed to Dr. Burns' hospital in Scranton, where he remains in quite a critical condition.

ANNIVERSARY OF HOPE CHURCH

Matamoros Congregation Celebrates Completion of 20 Years With Services This Week.

PORT JERVIS PASTORS SPEAK
Interesting Exercises of Music and Special Addresses by Neighborhood Clergymen—Church Bishop Will Give a Lecture.

Matamoros, Oct. 2.—Hope Church is celebrating its twentieth anniversary with special services during the week, the first of which was held on Tuesday evening and was attended by a large congregation.

Appropriate anthems were rendered by the choir and Miss Beatrice Thomas sang a fine soprano solo.

The pastor, Rev. W. L. Ketner, spoke briefly in stating that the Evangelical Association had sustained close relations with various other denominations and that it was appropriate at this time that other neighboring churches should be invited to participate in the anniversary celebration. He then introduced the Rev. Joseph Y. Irwin, pastor of the Port Jervis Baptist Church.

Mr. Irwin extended the congratulatory greetings of the Baptist Church, and spoke in an interesting manner on the importance of the preaching of the Gospel, the great teachings and helpfulness of the Bible, and the example of the life of Jesus Christ, which was a blessing to mankind.

The Rev. Willard Conger bore the greetings of the Reformed Dutch Church of Deerpark (175 years of age), the oldest church in this section of the country, to one of the youngest which is not yet of age, and, if it were, the political campaign of 1912 affords a great variety of parties and candidates who desire the votes of the people. Mr. Conger's address was optimistic, encouraging, and full of inspiration to higher and better achievements in the Christian life by reason of the needed gospel of cheerfulness, making things attractive and being well-minded.

On Thursday evening, October 3d, the Rev. Samuel Jones, pastor of the Drew M. E. Church, will deliver an address, and on Saturday evening, October 5th, Bishop S. D. Breyfogle will lecture on "A Tour Around The World."

Mrs. Frank I. Vander Beek Didn't Know They Had Been Stolen.

New York, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Frank I. Vander Beek, of 762 St. Nicholas avenue, didn't know that her pearl and diamond earrings had been stolen until Detective Fitzpatrick walked in with them yesterday.

Their value is $1,000.

Fitzpatrick saw Charles J. Kust, at 201 East Ninety-third street, trying to pawn them at Tenth avenue and Forty-sixth street. He arrested Kust, who admitted that he got them from a woman who had done cleaning for Mrs. Vander Beek. Mrs. Vander Beek says she won't prosecute anybody.

Mr. and Mrs. Vander Beek have their summer home at Glen Spey, Sullivan county.

NEW RULES IN HIGH SCHOOL

It Takes 54 Counts to Get Into the Senior Class And Then Some to Graduate—Other Classes Are Affected.

It isn't going to be any snap to graduate from Port Jervis High School under a new set of rules framed by the Board at Tuesday night's meeting. Let the rules speak for themselves. A little later they will be printed and each pupil will have a copy to look at seriously if peradventure tearfully. Here they are:

Rules and regulations regarding eligibility to the High School classes, and graduation from the Port Jervis High School.

Eligibility For Classes.

Freshman.—Preliminary certificate or its equivalent.

Sophomore.—Nineteen academic counts, but may be conditioned in one subject.

Junior.—Thirty-six academic counts, but may be conditioned in one subject.

Senior.—Fifty-four academic counts, but may be conditioned in one subject. Classes to be organized in October, and may include only those students who meet the requirements.

New members may be admitted to the class after the January examinations at the discretion of the principal and the faculty.

Conditions of Graduation.

Students may qualify as candidates for graduation upon meeting all of the following conditions:

1. Having passed the State Department examinations in subjects aggregating 54 academic counts. Subjects in which no Regents examinations are given may be counted in the aggregate, provided, however, that the second year's work is being taken in such a subject.

2. Taking in the regular course subjects aggregating 18 additional counts.

3. The entire 72 counts shall be so distributed as to meet the conditions of the academic diploma granted by the State Department.

4. An average of not less than (75 per cent.) seventy-five per cent. must be maintained during the Senior year in each subject. A student falling below 60 per cent. in any estimate or test, may be dropped from the senior class immediately.

Students who secure the required 72 counts as a result of the June examinations may become candidates for graduation at that time, although not having previously enjoyed the privileges of the senior class. Provided, however, that they have pursued the subjects making an aggregate of 72 counts for the full time required by the Regents.

Entrance to Regents examinations shall be determined by the joint judgment of the teacher and principal.

Subjects in which no examinations are given by the Regents Board may be counted in the aggregate if the second year's work is being taken.

These rules, it is said, will reduce the Senior Class at present from about 40 members to 12 members.
