

GLASS FACTORY MEN MOVING HERE

Gillinder Brothers Held in High Esteem in Place They Are Leaving.

LARGE AUTO VANS ARRIVE

Occupation of Three Local Residences by the New Proprietors of the Brox & Ryall Factory, in Process.

Two large Packard motor vans from Petry's Express and Delivery, of Trenton, N. J., arrived in this city from Philadelphia at five o'clock Thursday evening with furniture for Mr. Wm. T. Gillinder, who, with his brothers, James and Edwin, are about to open the former Brox & Ryall glass factory in this city.

The motor vans went from Trenton to Philadelphia Wednesday, loaded up and returned to Trenton that night, and on Thursday came to Port Jervis. The vans were accompanied by nine men with Mr. T. J. Bruher, secretary of the company, in charge. The furniture was taken to the Easton home, No. 82 East Main street, which Mr. Gillinder has leased for the winter.

Mr. Edwin B. Gillinder will occupy the Miller property on Broome street in a few days and James Gillinder, who will arrive in the city soon after Thanksgiving, will occupy the F. N. Mason residence on Orange street.

The Gillinder brothers and their families will be heartily welcomed in this city and it is hoped that they will meet, with abundance of success. That the Gillinder brothers were held in high esteem in their former home and among former associates is in evidence in the article below taken from the "Pittsburg Glass Workers".

CHANGES AT GILLINDERS.

Wm. T. Gillinder and Brothers Will Place the Plant at Port Jervis in Operation—Presented with Living Cup by Employees.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 31.—Quite a number of changes have been made in this section during my last report, especially in the firm of Gillinder & Sons, Inc. Wm. T. Gillinder, president of the firm, has retired and will start a plant with his brothers, James and Edwin, at Port Jervis, N. Y. Before leaving here W. T. Gillinder was presented with a living cup as a token of esteem from the employees. Mr. Gillinder accepted the beautiful token with tears in his eyes and was unable to speak, being overcome with emotion.

Edgar A. Gillinder is the new president of the local Gillinder concern and has full control of both Philadelphia factories. Edgar Gillinder is the last son of old Gillinder, and is the uncle of William, James and Edwin Gillinder, retired.

Both factories are doing well. There have been two more paste mold shops put on at the Tacony factory, making fourteen waste mold shops, one off-hand and on press shop, all making full time.

Engaged as Soloist at Presbyterian Church.

Miss Florence Mapes of Goshen, has been engaged as soprano soloist in the choir of the First Presbyterian Church of Port Jervis. Miss Mapes is well and favorably known in this city, where she has been a frequent visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Haggerty, of Goshen, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Swinton, Jr.

To Reside in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. George Worden, of Port Jervis, spent a few days in Middletown, with his aunt, Mrs. E. Forrest, and his son, William Worden, before their departure for Florida, where they will make their future home. They departed for Florida on Monday, where Mr. Worden intends to purchase a small orange grove.

To Petition for Crossing.

The town board of the town of Montgomery, at a meeting held on Saturday, decided to petition the Public Service Commission to order the construction of an overhead crossing at Walker's near St. Andrews over the Central New England Railroad. New construction work there has increased the danger of an already dangerous crossing, and public sentiment is in favor of the improvement.

Escapes An Awful Fate.

A thousand tongues could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox, of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate. "Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I had such awful coughing spells I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctor's treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But, used Dr. King's this wonderful remedy for I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, it's the most reliable of all throat and lung medicines. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at All Druggists.—Adv.

WARWICK MAN KILLED.

William S. Simons, a Former Engineer, Found on L. & H. Tracks.

The body of William S. Simons, of Warwick, was found on the L. & H. tracks near that village last Friday evening.

Mr. Simons had been in Middletown for the day, returning on the five o'clock train. He had remained in the neighborhood of the station until nearly six o'clock, and had evidently started to walk up the track for a way, as was his habit, on his way to his home. A heavy west wind had passed the spot about that time, and it is supposed to have struck him, although none of the crew had seen the man. One leg was cut off and a considerable distance up the track from the spot where the body was found, and the face and trunk and arms were terribly mangled.

Mr. Simons was a former engineer on the road, but had left his employ about three years ago. Of late he had been working for Welch Brothers. He was 54 years old and is survived by his wife and a son, Marcus, a conductor on the L. & H.

BIG ENGINES FOR THE ERRIE.

Giant 3035 is Tested Between Port Jervis and Maybrook Today.

Much attention was attracted among railroad men in the city on Friday to the gigantic 430,000 pound Erie freight locomotive 3035 of the "N-1" class which arrived from the American Locomotive Company's works at Schenectady, and, for a time, was at the roundhouse for inspection. This magnificent assemblage of motive power is equipped with a Vanderbilt cylinder tank of 9,000 gallons capacity—about 37½ tons of water—and is the first of a series of 50 to be placed in service on the Erie railroad during 1913.

In the afternoon, the big engine made a trial trip to and from Maybrook under the supervision of Master Mechanic F. H. Murray, Road Foreman of Engines James Cunneen, General Foreman J. H. Winfield, with Engineer Benjamin Cole in charge. Trainmaster O'Donnell accompanied the train.

The new engine on Friday night brought in a train of 89 cars from M. Q. (Campbell Hall) without any difficulty. Engine 3035 is being tested as a pusher today up the mountain from Port Jervis to Graham, 8 miles.

GET PRISON TERMS.

Years Behind Bars for Sullivan County Offenders.

In Sullivan county court Monday, Nov. 18, sentences were passed by Judge Thornton as follows: Joseph Rabanis was sentenced to a fine of $300 and 30 days' imprisonment.

Orbin Barber was sentenced to be confined in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora, N. Y., at hard labor. The minimum term is two years and six months and the maximum term four years and ten months.

Grant Culver was sentenced to be confined in Clinton Prison, at hard labor. The minimum term is four years and the maximum term six years and six months.

It was then ordered that all cases not disposed of be held over until next term, after which court adjourned sine die.

Cost $56 to Fracture Game Laws.

David Siegel, of Centerville Station, is said to have shot a doe a few days ago, which is a violation of the law; he shot it on Sunday, which is another violation of the law; he killed it in the town of Fallsburgh, which again was a violation of the law, and last of all he was hunting without a license. He went the limit, almost, for he could have sold the venison and made a fifth violation. As the meat was not kosher, he gave it away, also the hide. He apparently did not realize that he had violated any law and freely told his exploit Game Protector Cross, of Liberty, caused Siegel's arrest and before a justice he paid $56 fine and costs.

Religious Census of the City.

Plans have been made by the Port Jervis Ministerial Association for the taking of a religious census of the city beginning shortly after Thanksgiving. The city has been divided into 22 districts, in which the census will be taken by two ladies in each district.

NEW YORK'S SEVEN NEW BUILDINGS, IN NINE BLOCKS, WILL COST $30,000,000

New York, Nov. 21.—In nine blocks on lower Broadway, from Exchange Place to the Postoffice, in the financial district, seven great buildings are now under construction or will be started soon. According to the figures filed with the Building Department, the total cost of these improvements will be $30,000,000. This is nearly as much as was spent on the 5,268 buildings erected in Brooklyn in the year 1910. Only in Chicago and Philadelphia among American cities do building operations exceed this amount annually, and the cost of new structures put up in the entire year 1910 in Philadelphia was only $33,000,000.

The new Equitable Life skyscraper, not yet begun, is to be largest of all the seven, in floor space. But the Woolworth Building, almost finished, is the tallest. In fact, it is the tallest structure in the world except the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

"In its construction," reports the Sun's real estate statistician, "20,000 tons of steel girders have been used. It will have 36 elevators and a large swimming pool. The arch and partition tile used in it weighs 5,640 tons. If this tile was laid end to end it would extend from lower Broadway to a point 20 miles beyond Syracuse. If the tile was loaded on trucks at the same time it would make a procession 22 miles long. Because it has been built with the earnings of five- and ten-cent stores it has been nicknamed the nickel building. Without the site the building has cost about $8,000,000, which is 100,000,000 nickels."

The next big piece of building news is expected to be the announcement of the plans of J. P. Morgan & Company. The firm has bought the Drexel Building at Wall and Broad streets, in which it has long been a tenant, and also the bank building next door. The two old structures will be torn down and the new banking building to occupy the site is looked forward to as a triumph of architecture.

Helps a Judge in Bad Fix. Justice Eli Cherry, of Gillis Mills, Tenn., was plainly worried. A bad sore on his leg had baffled several doctors and long resisted all remedies. "I thought it was a cancer," he wrote. "At last I used Buckley's Arnica Salve, and was completely cured. It cures burns, boils, ulcers, cuts, bruises and piles. 25 cents at All Druggists.—Adv.

Dr. Willert Kidd, of Newburgh, Assistant State Game Protector, went to Oakland, Sullivan county, Friday, in response to a telephone message from a railroad section foreman who said that a dead deer had been found near there. The open season for deer expired in Sullivan county on Friday, Nov. 15.

At Oakland the Game Protector found the man who had telephoned him. Both men rode on a hand car on the Monticello branch of the O. & W., for about two miles and then they got off. They found the dead deer lying partly down a mountain, with one of his feet caught in a wire fence. It appeared to Dr. Kidd that the game law had not been violated and that the deer had caught its foot in the fence in running down the mountain and been held fast until death came. The Game Protector had the deer buried.

Before Dr. Kidd went to Oakland Friday he sent word to Protector Conklin, of Fishkill, to look up the case where a doe had been killed by a train on the New York Central a short distance above that place and the hind quarters cut off and taken away. It was supposed the deer had been mutilated by some foreigner, a brickyard laborer in the vicinity.
