From the Ketchikaner for April. TOMMY THE BR.

But Miss Leigh differed from him in opinion. 'It is not as pretty as it might be, Abby' said she.

'Are they not?' said Miss Eustace. 'I have tried to make it as pretty as possible. But you are correct, Augustus' added she, after holding the screen in

'So I thought,' said Miss Eustace, 'if you are per- heeped me to open my eyes to its glaring defects'

'What are you doing, Miss Leigh?' said Miss Eustace, in a tone of surprise, as soon as she perceived that instead of adding

'Dear Augusta! what do you think of this?' said Miss Leigh, 'I have been thinking of it for some time, and I have been
