A NEW THEORY!
INTERESTING AND APPLICABLE TO THE AFFLICTED WITH
Diseases of the Stomach, or Nerves;
Such as Dyspepsia, either Chronic or Casual, under the worst symptoms of restlessness; Lowness of Spirits, and General Emaciation; Consumption, whether of the Lungs or Liver; Liver Affections; Jaundice, both Biliary and Spasmodic; Costiveness; Worms of every variety; Rheumatism, whether Acute or Chronic; together with Gout, Scrofula. Pains in the Head, Back, Limbs and Side, Typhus Fever, Scarlet Fever, Putrid Sore Throat, Fever and Ague, Spasmodic Palpitation of the Heart and Arteries, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Weakness, Hysterics, Tic Douloureux, Cramps, Female Obstructions, Heartburn, Headache, Cough, the Common or Humid, and the Dry or the Whooping; Asthma, Gravel and Dropsy.

THE Blood has hitherto been considered by Empiricks and others, as the great regulator of the human system, and such is the devotedness of the adherents to that erroneous doctrine, that they content themselves with the simple possession of this fallacious opinion, without inquiring into the primary sources from whence Life, Health, and vigour emanate, and vica versa, pain, sickness, disease and death. Not so with Dr. Hunt, whose extensive research and practical experience so eminently qualify him for the profession of which he has been one of the most useful members. He contends—and a moment's reflection will convince any reasoning mind of the correctness of his views—that the stomach, liver, and the associated organs are the primary and great regulators of health, and that the blood in very many instances is totally disconnected with the first and succeeding stages of disease, and that unless a medicine reaches the root of the disease, the superficial anodynes usually prescribed, serve but as foils to cover the ravages of deep-rooted maladies. Under these convictions, at the expense of years of close application, the doctor has discovered a medicine whose searching powers are irresistible, and in prescribing, it is with a firm conviction of its being a radical cure in the various diseases already enumerated, even if applied in the most critical cases, but he does not pretend to ascribe to a supernatural agency, although from positive proofs within the knowledge of hundreds, he is prepared to show, that when every other earthly remedy has failed, HUNT'S PILLS have never been known to fail in effecting two very gratifying results, that of raising from the bed of sickness and disease those who have tested their efficacy, and thus amply rewarding Dr. Hunt for his long and anxious study to attain this perfection in the HEALING ART.

Dr. Hunt's Celebrated Pills,
For Consumption, Dyspepsia, and Liver Complaint, &c.

AS the enjoyment of health depends on preserving the functions of the Stomach, Liver, Intestines and Lungs, in a healthy and vigorous state, through the operations of which the body receives its growth, its nutrition, its support, it can no longer be astonishing that when these viscera are deranged, and cannot perform their proper functions, the whole system suffers and becomes disordered. Knowing this to be a sound and demonstrated fact, in science and experience, DOCTOR HUNT'S SYSTEM OF PRACTICE is in faithful accordance with it. He aims to keep the Stomach, Lungs and the Liver, in vigorous and healthy action, as the three great fountains of health and life.—For this purpose his pills are compounded of herbs, which strengthen and equalize the action of the heart, and give an impulse of strength to the arterial system, at the same time quicken the action of the absorbent and discharging vessels; and as all the secretions are drawn from the blood, any morbid action which may have taken place is removed, all obstructions are overcome, the blood is purified, and the body assumes a healthful state. These pills give tone to the stomach, increase the appetite, and eminently expel all acrid or morbid matter through the excretory ducts into the passage of the bowels. In all cases of Consumption, Indigestion or Dyspepsia, Bilious Affections, or Liver Complaints, Heartburn, Sourness or Acidity in the Stomach, Tightness at the Chest, Loss of Appetite, Sick Head Ache, Pain in the Head, Back, Limbs and Side, Flatulency, Typhus and Scarlet Fever, Putrid Sore Throat, Fever and Ague, or Intermitting Fevers, Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Spasmodic Affections, and Tic Dolourewx, Convulsions of Children, Measles, Small Pox, Hooping Cough, Rickets, Teething, Worms, Female Obstructions, Chlorosis or Green Sickness, and Affections of Food, and Costiveness, Colic, whether flatulent or Billious, follow the DIRECTIONS.

Dose.—Take from three to ten pills, till they operate, two or three times daily. The use of the pills must be persevered in till a cure is effected.

Price 25 Cents per Box.

EVANS' CAMOMILE PILLS.

The Camomile flower, (or as it is officially called Anthemis nobilis, or Chamœmelum, from the Greek words, Kamai, on the ground, and Melon, an apple; because it grows on the ground, and smells like an apple) is of a dull white color, of a fragrant odor, and of a better aromatic taste.

Camomile is a mild tonic, in small doses acceptable and corroborant to the stomach. It is especially applicable to that condition of general debility with languid appetite, which often attends convalescence from idiopathic fevers.

TO THE NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED.

TONIC PILLS.

The powers of Evans' Camomile Pills are such, that the palpitating heart, the tremulous hand, the dizzy eye, and the fluttering mind, vanish before their effects like noxous vapors before the benign influence of the morning sun. They have been long successfully used for the cure of Intermittents, together with fevers of the irregular nervous kind, accompanied with visceral obstructions.

This tonic medicine is for nervous diseases, general debility, indigestion and its consequences, as want of appetite, distention of the stomach, acidity, unpleasant taste in the mouth, rumbling noise in the bowels, nervous symptoms, languor, when the mind becomes irritable, desponding, thoughtful, melancholy and dejected.—Hypochondriacism, consumption, dimness of sight, delirium, and all other nervous symptoms, these pills will produce a safe and permanent cure.

Evans' Camomile Pills were first introduced in America in 1835.

A GEM.

The Democratic Review some time since alluded to Geo. D. Prentice, as entitled to the first rank among American Poets. The Review instanced some lines, written at the age of 14, as particularly remarkable, and breathing the very soul of sorrow. They will be found below, and are indeed beautiful. We are indebted for them to the Louisville Literary News Letter:

WRITTEN AT MY MOTHER'S GRAVE.
BY G. D. PRENTICE.

The trembling dew-drops fall
Upon the shutting flowers—like souls at rest
The stars shine gloriously—and all,
Save me, is blest.

Mother—I love thy grave!
The violet, with his blossom blue and mild,
Waves o'er thy head—when shall it wave
Above thy child!

'Tis a sweet flower—yet must
Its bright leaves to the coming tempest bow—
Dear mother—'tis thine emblem—dust
Is on thy brow!

And I could love to die—
To leave untasted life's dark, bitter streams—
By thee, as erst in childhood, lie
And shate thy dreams.

And must I linger here
To stain the plumage of my sinless years,
And mourn the hopes of childhood dear
With bitter tears!

Ay—must I linger here,
A lonely branch upon a blasted tree,
Whose last frail leaf, untimely sere,
Went down with thee!

Oft from life's withered bower,
In still communion with the past I turn,
And muse on thee, the only flower
In memory's urn.

And, when the Evening pale
Bows like a mourner on the dim, blue wave,
I stray to hear the night-winds wail
Around thy grave.

Where is thy spirit flown?—
I gaze above—thy look is imaged there—
I listen—and thy gentle tone
Is on the air.

Oh come—whilst here I press
My brow upon thy grave—and, in those mild
And thrilling tones of tenderness,
Bless, bless thy child!

Yes, bless thy weeping child,
And o'er thine urn—religion's holiest shrine—
Oh give his spirit undefiled
To blend with thine.

DAVID SWAN.
BY NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE.

We can be but partially acquainted even with the events which naturally influence our course through life, and our final destiny. There are innumerable other events, if such they may be called, which come close upon us, yet pass away without actual results, or even betraying their near approach, by the reflection of any light or shadow across our minds. Could we know all the vicissitudes of our fortunes, life would be too full of hope and fear, exultation or disappointment, to afford a single hour of true serenity. This idea may be illustrated by a page from the secret history of David Swan.

We have nothing to do with David, until we find him at the age of twenty, on the high road from his native place to the city of Boston, where his uncle, a small dealer in the grocery line, was to take him behind the counter. Be it enough to say, that he was a native of New-Hampshire, born of respectable parents, and had received an ordinary school education, with a classic finish by a year at Gilmanton Academy. After journeying on foot from sun-rise till nearly noon of a summer's day, his weariness and the increasing he
