

During the last Spring, seventy three thousand nine hundred and five pounds of Maple-Sugar, was made in the town of Phelps.

On the 21st Flour was selling in New-York for $6 50.

Milligan and Welshman have been tried and found guilty of robbing the Phoenix Bank, in New-York.

New-York, Nov. 20.

Two days later from England. The ship Cincinnati, Capt. Champlin, arrived at a late hour last evening, from London, and has brought an evening paper of the 8th of October. Since our last, we have received regular files of papers and Lloyd's List, brought by the packet ship Nesbor; and by the British packet files of English and Nova Scotia papers. The Phoenix frigate has arrived at Portsmouth, with the remains of Major Andre.

A vessel has arrived from Bombay, via St. Helena, and is said to have conveyed to England the funeral car on which the body of Bonaparte was carried to the tomb; also, his manuscripts, sealed up, and addressed to Sir Hudson Lowe.

George IV. had been indisposed at Brussels, but it was expected he would leave that place for England on the 30th September.

The intelligence from Barcelona is to the 22d of September. It is said that no accurate idea can be formed of the desolation which reigns in that city. The health bulletin states the dead, at 43, and that of the sick at 410; but says the letters, the inhabitants know to their sorrow that this is not a true estimate. Barcelona resembled a town deserted; from 35 to 40,000 of the inhabitants had fled from the city.

Advices from Madrid are to the 25th of September, at which time a great change had taken place in the public mind, and things were in a more settled state. The King arrived at Madrid on the 22d. On the next day he received a deputation from the authorities, and expressed his satisfaction with the conduct of Morillo and San Martin. It is now said the latter is appointed Political Chief of that city. The first preparatory Junta was held on the 24th.

A letter from Frankfurt in the French papers says, "It is reported here that the King of England intends to ask the hand of the young Princess of Hesse, the daughter of the reigning Elector."

George II. was the last sovereign who visited his Hanoverian dominions; his title was only Elector. George IV. will be the first who ever entered it with the title of King. Five of the King's brothers and sisters are now on the Continent, and were to meet him at Hanover.

The Landgrave of Hesse was negotiating a loan of forty thousand florins, which was intended to defray the expenses of the honor of receiving a visit from the King of England.

London Corn Exchange, Oct. 8. We had an immense supply of wheat this morning, from Essex, Kent, Suffolk, and the northern seaport counties, which together with what remained over from last week's arrivals, produced an almost total stagnation on the market. What sales were made, were only of the finest old wheat, which obtained last Monday's prices; but no sales of the new could be effected from the damp state of the samples.

It appears, from a list of commitments to the Bridewell of Edinburgh, from May 1820, to May 1821, that some of the individuals had been sent there by the police three or four times during the year. One female, in the course of her life, had been returned no less than twenty times to this receptacle; another, a boy of thirteen, 19 times; and several so often as 10, for different periods, from 30 to 60 days. The age of the youngest was seven years, and the crime for which he was committed, was begging!

During the last seven years, 73,753 persons had been committed for trial for criminal offences in England and Wales, of whom 649 were executed. The commitments had more than doubled since the year 1814.

One hundred and six ships, containing 17,925 convicts, had proceeded with convicts to New South Wales, from Great Britain and Ireland during the last 10 years.

Treiste, Sept. 9.

The news of the second defeat of the Turkish fleet, in the waters of Samos, is at length confirmed. Two frigates have fallen into the hands of the Greeks; a vessel of the line and many transports, with Asiatic troops on board, have fallen a prey to the flames, and other transports have been sunk.

From Bell's Weekly Messenger, a London Paper.

An evening paper says, we have been favored with the following extract of a letter from Milan, by a commercial house in this city of the highest respectability, and whose mercantile connexions with Italy are of a great extent—

Milan, Wednesday morning, Sept. 5. We were all much astonished to hear of the Queen's death; it was indeed sudden; but will you not likewise be surprised to hear that the famous M. Bergami is also dead?—The Queen died on the 7th; he died on the 10th, with a complaint in his bowels. I first heard it reported in this city, and had it confirmed on my visit to the Ville d'Este, on the lake of Como. This is where the Queen lived; and it still belongs to her, or at least her executors.

Our readers will observe that it is positively stated that the Report of Bergami's Death which the writer heard at Milan, was confirmed to him at the Villa d'Este whether he afterwards went.

Leghorn, Sept. 10.

The spectacle which Greece now presents, abandoned as she is herself, is truly imposing. She is without armies, without ammunition, and without ships of war. Her soldiers, like her ancient heroes, are obliged to defend themselves with clubs and slings; and yet in this forlorn situation they have twice conquered and destroyed two Turkish flotillas, have reduced almost all the fortress of the Archipelago, and the conquered Turks have surrendered to the Greeks, armies which were destined to have been employed against them.

Sept. 15.

The Turks of Monombasia, who have surrendered that fortress were struck with the firmness displayed in their conferences by the Greeks. In this fortress, of the strongest in the Morea, the Greeks have found more than 9,000 stand of arms, and a great quantity of the munitions of war.

From the Albany Daily Advertiser.

A raft, containing from 30 to 40,000 pieces, was towed into Whitehall, from Lake Champlain, a short time since, by one of the steam boats on that lake; and much of the lumber, mentioned in yesterday's paper, as having passed through the northern canal to the Hudson river at Fort Edward, came from that part of the lake which adjoins the Canada line.

Pilot Boat Race.—Yesterday was appointed to decide the interesting trial of sailing between the Pilot Boats Grand Canal, Captain Peter Sawyer, and the Trimmer, Captain James Kelso. The bet was for one thousand dollars, besides other individual bets of a large amount. At 15 minutes past 11, A. M. both Boats started from the Stake Boat placed to the eastward 12 miles, outside the Hook, and beat to windward (with a very strong westerly wind dead ahead.) to a Stake Boat at Sandy Hook. The Trimmer beat up to and passed round the Stake Boat at 1 o'clock, 2 minutes and 32 seconds ahead of the Grand Canal, then bore away to return to the place of starting; the Trimmer continued ahead—when within about four miles of the Stake Boat the Grand Canal settled away her mainsail, and Trimmer was declared the winning boat. It will be observed that they beat twelve miles to the windward in the astonishing short period of one hour and forty five minutes.—Daily Ad.

A writer in the Cahawba Press, has been amusing the good people of Alabama, with what he calls "stipulations on the ancient and modern theories of Astronomy;"—all of which he contends are erroneous; and he proposes to publish by subscription a book, in which he will demonstrate this, and exhibit a correct system of the universe, founded on principles altogether new.

The trial of Milligan and Welchman, for the robbery of the Phenix Bank, terminated last evening about 10 o'clock. The jury was out less than an hour, and returned with a verdict of guilty.

Police Office, Nov. 16th. Counterfeit Bills.—A new emission of counterfeit ten dollar bills of the Mechanics' Bank, has just made their appearance in this city. They are intended to imitate Plate C, and are tolerably well executed.

The dam lately built in the Hudson river, at Fort Edward, to furnish an additional supply of water to the northern canal, has been very materially damaged by the late freshet.

American Genius and Enterprise Rewarded.

Our fellow-citizen George Clymer, the inventor of the improved PRINTING PRESS, has been more successful in introducing the Columbian Printing Press into the "Old World," than his most sanguine hopes have led him to expect. He had put into operation in England, August last, 86 Presses; some in France, Russia, South America, and 4 in Asia; and the demand increases, as the knowledge of their superiority becomes extended.—Doylestown Cor.

The National Intelligencer of the 10th instant, makes the following remarks concerning manufactures and the public revenue:

"It begins to be known, beyond a doubt, and universally acknowledged, that the manufacturing interest of this country is now prosperous in a degree far in advance of the two other great interests of the country. All the manufactories properly constructed, and managed with even tolerable skill and economy, yield a very handsome profit on their investments, and are not able to meet the domestic demand of their fabrics. It is certain, that manufactures of woollen and cotton cloths are so far encouraged under the present systems of duties—which, as one of our correspondents observes, is just beginning to be felt—as to need no further aid, and indeed to desire from Congress only to be let alone. On the subject of the revenue for 1821, we happen to know that the revenue for the city of New-York, for the three first quarters of the present year, has very considerably exceeded that of the corresponding quarters of the year 1820."

DIED. On Eagle Neck, M'Intosh county Georgia, on the 29th Oct. last, Mrs. Susannah Ford, aged one hundred and thirteen years!
