STRANAHAN BRANDED.

The Drafted Men's "Advocate" for September 1890, has the following:

"Hon. N. N. Stranahan of Fulton, Oswego county, has been renominated for the Assembly. HE WAS ONE OF OUR MOST EARNEST AND DEVOTED FRIENDS and we hope the Drafted Men will do all they can, not only to elect him, but to awe! his majority to the largest possible proportions."

STRANAHAN AT ALBANY.

Mr. Stranahan is having hard work to explain his earnest midnight speech in behalf of the notorious Aqueduct Contractors' bill, for which he incurred the censure of the New York Tribune. Mr. Milo M. Acker, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, of which Mr. Stranahan was a member, opposed the bill and the committee brought in an adverse report on the measure. The closing hours of the session, during the hurry and rush, found Mr. Stranahan on his feet making a speech and voting against the adoption of the adverse report. It is interesting to note in this connection that every Republican paper in New York, as well as every Democratic paper, opposed this bill, yet in the face of this fact Stranahan made every effort to pass the bill. Why did he not leave this sort of work to New York members? And why was he so active in behalf of a measure that did not interest his own district and affected no section that vitally interested the taxpayer in this county? The Board of Supervisors at the last session adopted a resolution requesting our representatives in the Legislature to use all honorable means to defeat the bill providing for the State care of Insane, which will cost this county a large sum of money. This bill passed, but if Mr. Stranahan, who was so ready with his big voice for the Contractor's bill, ever spoke a speech against it the fact never came to the notice of his constituents.

William B. Howard is a man who, if elected will represent the people of his district, instead of New York contractors.

The Palladium prints to day a scathing reply from Dr. Ira D. Brown, editor of the Cayuga Chief, to the course assault made upon him by the Oswego Times. Read it down to just principle whereby politics are ed'ccated the election of Hon. Edwin K. Burnham. Nobody knows Place better than Ira D. Brown and he does not misconstrue matters in dealing with him. His article will be read with relish by the citizens of Oswego, who are disgusted with the course of the Oswego Times in heaping vituperation upon everybody who happens to disagree with it.

Clapsa was not a soldier and has no sympathy with them. He ignored their petitions while in Congress and in all the patronage he had to give put others than soldiers on guard. The soldiers will remember this next Tuesday and cast their votes for their gallant comrade-in-arms, Captain Edwin K. Burnham. Captain Burnham will be true to the comrades he elected in place of Payne.

W. W. Curry, of Indiana, a personal friend and neighbor, is coming to help along Payne and Stranahan. The New York Press announces that he will speak on Thursday in Westport for Mr. Payne and on Friday at Fulton for Mr. Stranahan. Mr. Curry, will probably speak with Payne in this city on Saturday evening.

Both Stranahan and Payne did all they could to defeat the Assembly Ballot Reform bill, which was advocated by Senator Miller and which would have given New York the fair ballot it passed. Stranahan in Assembly was voting against it, while Payne in Washington was voting with the Republican Representatives was attempting to weak kneed Assembly-men into voting them to vote against the bill. In support the one advocated by the Republicans of New York lost many votes, and Oswego county farmers were deprived of an opportunity to better their condition.

Stranahan is making almost the a rat's tail in a quart cup to free himself from the charge that he is owned body and boots by the Drafted Men. He has assumed half a dozen positions in this matter. General N. M. Curtis, who spoke from the same platform with Mr. Stranahan at South Hannibal a few nights ago, boldly advocated this bill and declared that the county should pay the Drafted Men. Why are all the Drafted Men so anxious for Mr. Stranahan's election?

Mr. Stranahan says that if he is returned to the Assembly this Fall, he will vote on the Drafted Men's bill as his constituents dictate. He does not say how he proposes to test the sentiment of his constituents, but the best way to let him know how the people feel about this matter is to vote him down. If Mr. Howard is elected he will vote against the bill; that's settled. Vote for him.

A vote for Judge Avery for District Attorney is a vote for the reduction of criminal court expenses and against incompetency and extravagance.

A vote for Charles N. Bulger next Tuesday is a vote for the preservation of good government in this city and the enforcement of law.

TWO OF A KIND.

[From the Drafted Men's Advocate for June.

"We are sorry that it did not so happen that we could have had a vote by ayes and nays in the Assembly, so that we could have had the names of members for and against us for the guidance of our men in the election next Fall. Such being the case, we must do the best we can. We know the position of many and as far as we are able, give the names of those who should be sent back. Among them we can safely mention the following, viz:

HON. N. N. Stranahan, Oswego.
HON. N. M. Curtis of St. Lawrence.

The Atlantic Ocean is a good enough ocean,
A pretty well advertised sea;
But without the young man and all that sort of thing,
It's as blue as it can for me.
I know that the poets have sung of the main,
As well they may well sing;
But a bare stretch of beach and no man in sight
Is a very lugubrious thing.
And the rummer he be,
And the surf and the swell,
Without a young man are a bore to a belle.

BRIGHT WINE.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to say that in almost every case where one of these remedies is used as directed, satisfactory results will follow. In fact we have yet to learn of a case where they have failed to effect a cure. We do not believe there are three other remedies that can be found, the aggregate sales of which will equal these. Trial bottles of these remedies may be had free at Charles Mather's drug store. Regular size bottles guaranteed to cure or price refunded. [wly]
