TRADE MARK

"A foot that is ill-clad by a bad stocking, cannot be comforted by even the best shaped shoe."—[Boot and Shoe Recorder.]

Men with corns, ingrowing nails, bunions, or tender feet, call Waukenhose as a blessing. They do not cramp the toes, bind the feet nor wrinkle anywhere.

The no sewn's friend. They require less mending than the old style, might have.

WHY

BUTLER'S

Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

Should be preferred to the stale preparation usually sold. It is made from the finest Norwegian Oil. It contains 60 per cent. of the Pure Oil not from 30 to 50 per cent. as those Emulsions usually do. It is more palatable than any thing in market, and is taken by Children without objection. LASTLY—Because it is always fresh. Being made especially for my own sales I make it every week. This last should give it the preference

OBITUARY.

Orville Braga.

Under the death notices of Saturday evening's paper was that of Orville Braga, who has been employed in the door, sash and blind factory, first with the Blanchards and latterly with Wright & Boyle, for the past twenty years. He was a kind husband and father, temperate, industrious and attentive to the interests of his employers. His wife and one son is left to mourn his loss, and will have the heartfelt sympathy of his neighbors and fellow workmen. The Wright & Boyle factory will close their works to-morrow, that the employes may attend his funeral, which takes place at his late residence, corner of West Cayuga and Ontario streets, at 1:30 P. M.

Echoes from Faded Leaves.

The First M. E. church was filled last night to listen to the Autumnal service. The interior of the church was splendidly trimmed with Autumn leaves—walls, back of the pulpit, organ and all. On the platform were harps, lyres, anchors and other symbols, all of leaves. The service consisted of Bible quotations on leaves, poetic blossoms or citations from the poets on leaves and their lessons, with songs, solos, quartettes, male quartette, all on the subject of leaves. The whole service was beautiful and impressive. Solos were sung by Mr. Babcock, Misses Young, Aylesworth, Perry and Lamoree.

Working the G. A. R. Men.

We are informed that Merrick Stowell has recently sent circulars to G. A. R., men extrolling his service as a soldier and insinuating that Mr. Avery was a sympathizer with the South. If he has done this not a Grand Army man ought to vote for him, because it is false. Judge Avery was a leading member of the War Committee and made numerous patriotic speeches during the war, and no man in Oswego county was more loyal to the course of the union than he.

After Illegal Fishermen.

Sandy Creek News: Sometime ago Game Constable Brewer was notified that parties residing at the South end of Long Pond were violating the game law, by setting nets across the channel that runs from the pond into the lake. Whereupon Mr. Brower proceeded to the place where the nets were said to be but nothing in the shape of nets being in sight, he proceeded to use the grappel, which revealed the fact that the whole bay between Bishop's point and the creek were full of gill and fike nets and were set in such a way as to completely bar the fish from running into the main body of the pond. State Game Detective Haws, of Albany, was a few rods in the rear with another boat, and after consulting his superior officer, Mr. Brower proceeded to haul the nets into the boat till he had all his boat would carry. There were four gill nets with from three to four sections in each and from 30 to 40 rods in a section, and two fike nets with leaders. No one appeared to claim them except Elijah Roberts. The nets were conveyed to the landing back of Mr. Brower's house, piled on a large brush heap and then the brush was set on fire and burned to ashes. Mr. Brower left seven or eight large fike nets in the bay which he could not carry.
