

Story From Warsaw Hospital Proves The Dog Is Still Man's Best Friend

The scratching of a pet beagle at the door of the Wyoming County Community Hospital last Thursday evening brought an amazing story of canine loyalty and determination to the attention of local authorities.

The episode began about 3:00 Thursday afternoon when a car driven by Herbert Christie of Wyoming crashed on route 49 near Rock Glen. Riding with Christie at the time of the wreck was his dog, a female beagle hound named Hattie.

While the State Police were transferring Christie to the Wyoming County Community Hospital, they tied Hattie to a nearby house until they could return and take the dog home. But when they got back Hattie was gone.

Four hours later, at about 7:00 the same evening, the pup arrived at the hospital door. It was obvious by her scratching and whimpering that Hattie knew her master was inside.

The evening supervisor, Mrs. Ray Thomas, first noticed the dog but was quickly joined by Christie's surprised wife, who was waiting at the time in the lobby. Each is realizing the presence of the pup might raise the spirits of her master, who was suffering from painful lacerations, a rule forbidding pets in the building was momentarily dropped and Hattie was taken to Christie's room.

One of the dogs had been returned to Christie, she immediately settled down and resumed the placid behavior so typical of her breed. Her apprehension about her master, solved, Hattie permitted herself to be taken home by Mrs. Christie. There the dog awaited the arrival of Christie himself, who was released from the hospital on the weekend.

The mystery still remains how the dog found her way from Rock Glen eight miles away to the hospital and how she sensed her master was inside. Hattie was apparently not relying entirely on scent because Christie was admitted through a door at the rear of the hospital while the dog was scratching at the main door at the front of the building.

At any rate, the whole thing is Hattie's secret. And Hattie isn't saying a word.

With these backgrounds, it is immediately apparent that party lines and politics play a secondary role in the race. Each is a leader in the continuous effort to make public justice prompt and efficient.

Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, Charles S. Desmond, said of these two men, "Justices Ward and Williams have not only given satisfactory service, but both of them are outstanding for ability, impartiality and integrity. Each is a leader in the continuous effort to make public justice prompt and efficient."

Statement by Mrs. Emily Smith Warner of New York City, daughter of the late Alfred E. Smith, endorsing Richard M. Nixon for President:

Convinced by the realization that both candidates for the Presidency agree that no one should vote for or against a candidate by reason of race or religion, I have asked myself what my father in his wisdom and patriotism would do in this coming election.

As I do, every appeal to racial or religious bigotry or solidarity. He would reaffirm, as I do, in unmeasured terms, that no true American should allow his vote to be influenced either way by any appeal, either to religious prejudice or religious bigotry.

Merle Johnson to Retire After 43 Years With Pennsylvania Railroad

Merle Johnson of Protection will retire November 1, 1960 after 43 years with the Pennsylvania Railroad. He is 65. Mr. Johnson went to work for the company on May 1, 1916, on the T and T (Telephone and Telegraph Line), worked for six months and was laid off until June 1, 1917, when he again went to work this time on the section.

After another six months, he was transferred to the T and T Line at South Wales, continuing there for 30 years. From 1925 to 1960 he was on maintenance, working out of Hinsdale on communications, signals and flashers for the last four years of that time.

Mr. Johnson was born in the Town of Sardonia, but lived in Holland and in Protection for many years. In 1935 Mr. and Mrs. Johnson moved to Delevan, later they built a new home on Church Street, where they resided until June 1, 1960, when they sold their home to Dr. Harriet Montague of Kenmore and moved into the newly built home on Miller Avenue in Protection, happily anticipating this retirement.

Mrs. Johnson is the former Dorothy Pempell of Protection. They have one son, David and two granddaughters, who live at Bradenton, Florida.

Their Miller Avenue property includes quite a bit of acreage, so Mr. and Mrs. Johnson plan to enjoy their hobbies of gardening, which includes both flowers and vegetables, and travel when time permits. Mrs. Johnson works at Fisher-Price in East Aurora. They will visit their son, daughter-in-law and grandchildren in Florida for a few weeks this winter.

Citizens Central Bank Directors Honor F. Earle Westover

F. Earle Westover

The directors of the Citizens Central Bank of Arcade gave a dinner in honor of F. Earle Westover of Yorkshire on the occasion of his 75th birthday.

The guests included directors of the Bank of Delevan; Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Westover; Ward G. Mayor, Cashier of the Citizens Central Bank, and Clayton L. Husted, Chairman of the Advisory Board of the Silver Springs office of the Citizens Central Bank.

The dinner was held Wednesday evening, October 19 in the Cherry Room of the Genesee Falls Hotel in Portageville. During the evening a Steuben glass ash tray with his initials etched thereon was presented to Mr. Westover as a token of good wishes for a happy birthday and many more to come.

During the dinner congratulatory telegrams were read from Senator George F. Pierce and William F. Fitzpatrick, Chairman of the Cattaraugus County Republican Committee. The former Mayor, Anson E. Sherman, President of the Citizens Central Bank, stated, "The dinner tonight is to give honor to Earle Westover, who is a distinguished citizen of the Town of Yorkshire, now associated in the field of finance as a bank director, who was at one time a farmer, a thrasher, a merchant, a politician, and may I say that Earl has earned the title of statesman. The definition of the word 'statesman' is 'a man skilled in government and wise in handling public affairs.'"

Mr. Sherman went on to say, "Earle was born in the Town of Java 75 years ago, September 12, 1885, on a farm which had been in the family for three generations prior to his ownership of the farm. In 1905 the family rented the farm and moved to Delevan to operate the Pierce Feed Mill. During his stay there and just prior to it he did some thrashing. In 1907 he moved to Yorkshire to the 22 acre farm on old Route 16 and in 1947 moved to his present home.

Earle was appointed Justice of the Peace in 1917, and in October, 1929 was elected Supervisor of the Town of Yorkshire. While Supervisor he served as Chairman of the Finance Committee for 13 years—a record in New York State, was told. Following this he served for four years as Chairman of the Board until his retirement in 1956. He served as Supervisor a total of 27 years. Earle has served in public office for a total of 39 years and 10 months, which must be a record."

Mr. Westover, in response, told how much he had enjoyed working for the people for so many years and reminisced about his close association with both banks over a period of many, many years.

Bank directors in attendance at the dinner were: Dr. John V. Anderson, Lucas R. Brass, Harry R. Cudworth, Oswald E. Davies, Lee J. Drennan, Miss Alice E. Jones, William G. McNair, Burt J. Peffer, Mr. Sherman, Stephen M. Smith, William J. H. Waring, Mr. Westover, Riley F. Whaley and Homer H. Woods.

Wyoming County Farmers Will Meet to Elect ASC Officials

Farmers in Wyoming County will hold 15 community meetings to elect community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees to assist in the local administration of farm programs, Burdette Randall, Chairman of the County ASC Committee, announced today.

The election meeting in each of the communities will be conducted by a community election committee. Nominations for chairman, vice chairman, a regular member, and two alternates will be made by ballot. After a slate of candidates is nominated the voting will be by secret ballot. The farmer elected as chairman of the community ASC Committee will be the delegate from that community to the county convention at which the County ASC Committee is elected.

The Arcade Lions Club and Kiwanis Club are again co-sponsoring a giant double Halloween party for the boys and girls of this area Halloween night, Monday evening, October 31, is the date for the festivities to begin.

The Lions Club is sponsoring a party for the younger set Monday night with a full schedule to follow. Chairman Bill McCloskey has announced that activities will start at 7:00 o'clock sharp in the Arcade Central School auditorium. Spectacular costumes and a costume parade on the stage for all kids 6-12 years of age with cash prizes to be awarded in several categories. A full length movie and cartoons are to be shown in the auditorium following the parade. Cider and doughnuts will be served.

The Kiwanis Club will sponsor the activities for the teenage set starting at 8:00 p. m. in the Arcade Fire Hall. A dance has been scheduled with the Bob Sullivan orchestra on hand. Cider and doughnuts will also be served here. All teenagers are invited to attend as are the parents for dancing enjoyment.

The two clubs are sponsoring the parties in an attempt to supply fun and enjoyment for the boys and girls, thus keeping them from being in trouble via the trick or treat routine.

Arcade Central School Board Members Attend State Convention

Several members of the Arcade Central School Board of Education and Supervising Principal Joseph A. Kemp attended the annual convention of the New York State School Boards Association in Syracuse October 23-25. Those who joined the hundreds of other representatives of New York State school districts were Mrs. Ruth O'Dell, Mrs. Margaret Walter, and Joseph Reisdorf.

The meetings began with a session on Sunday afternoon at which time there was an address on "The Space Age and Education." At seven that evening Mr. Groomes, past president of the Iowa Association of School Boards spoke at the banquet.

Monday morning the groups heard about state equalization rates and education of the handicapped, the latter being presented by Honorable Earl W. Brydges of the 54th Senatorial District.

A business meeting with President Leigh D. Pickup of Cattaraugus in charge was held Monday afternoon, followed by a panel discussion on merit rating and the improvement of teaching.

Featured speaker of the entire convention, Secretary of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Honorable Arthur S. Flemming, addressed the overflow crowd at the annual banquet Monday evening.

The fourth and last session of the convention, held Tuesday morning, was concerned with facts about the Teachers Retirement System and the duties, powers and responsibilities of the chief school administrator.

The meeting then convened until next year having elected Kenneth E. Buhrmaster of the Scotia-Glenville School Board as their president for 1960-61.
