

4-H STUDIES NEW STYLES FOR SPRING

Twenty-five older 4-H Club girls and homemaking leaders enjoyed a very interesting meeting in Sodus Friday evening, April 12, on "New Spring Clothes and Styles" and "4-H Club-Girls Appearance".

Miss Helen McQueen of Wolcott gave a short talk on "New Spring Styles and Clothes" and had girls model several dresses illustrating the various styles. She also gave suggestions on selecting suitable materials and the types and kinds of material to be used this summer.

Mrs. E. D. Nevin, 4-H clothing specialist, illustrated ways the girls might improve their own personal appearance. She spent considerable time showing how to improve the appearance of hair and discussing make-up for girls of teen age.

"Successful dresses are possible for all 4-H girls," declared Mrs. E. D. Nevin, clothing specialist of Cornell, at the leaders school held in the Sodus Community House last week-end.

Girls who are planning to enter the "Ensemble Revue" this summer also attended this meeting. In the afternoon, Mrs. Nevin assisted these girls in the types of dress patterns, materials, and construction methods which should be considered. She discussed hair arrangement, posture and personal appearance which are also judged in the revues.

Indications are that a large group of older girls from Wolcott, Ontario, Sodus and Worth plan to make or assemble complete costumes for the "Ensemble Revue" which is tentatively scheduled for August 2.

Wayne County 4-H will broadcast Saturday, April 20, on the regular 4-H program over WHAM at 12:15 p. m. Brudette Colvin, leader of Wolcott, is in charge of the program which is on crops.

These members are taking part in the discussion and plans of this broadcast. Germaine and Judson See-ye, Stanton Colvin, and Kenyon Marsh all of Wolcott.

The more limited the purse, the more difficult it is to provide all the nourishment the body needs. Cornell bulletin E-236 "Low-cost Food for Health" may be helpful, and single copies, free to New York State residents, may be had from the Office of Public Health, Robert's Hall, Ithaca, New York.

GAIN MADE BY DEWEY

ing opposed to a party which has been in power for eight years, must nominate the best vote-getter they have, regardless of other considerations. And so far as tests of vote-getting power have gone, Mr. Dewey has demonstrated that he has more of it than either of his two chief rivals.

So the Republican leaders are beginning to study Mr. Dewey's other qualifications much more seriously. In international affairs he recently talked like an isolationist, but he still believes that Congress was right in repealing the Arms Embargo. In agricultural matters he has satisfied the Republican spokesmen of the Farm Group, Senator McNary, that he is the friend of the farmer and understands farm problems.

Mr. Dewey's friends are vigorously promoting the proposition that when it comes to administrative experience, neither Mr. Taft nor Mr. Vandenberg has any record to compare with that of Mr. Dewey in administering the office of District Attorney in the nation's largest and most corrupt city and winning his war against politically protected crime.

Democrats Active

It is significant that some prominent Democrats, as well as Republican backers of other candidates, are taking a more or less active part in the effort to "Stop Dewey." Whether he is regarded as the most dangerous opponent, from the Democratic point of view, is not quite clear.

There are some who say that if Mr. Roosevelt should decide, at the last minute, to seek a third term, Tom Dewey is the only Republican with a strong enough personal appeal to have a chance against him. But the conventions are still more than two months away, and Senator Taft is believed to have a very large number of delegates already safely pledged to himself.

The American Law Institute, made up of 750 leading lawyers, judges of all the appellate courts and deans of the nation's outstanding law schools. Its purpose is to "clarify and simplify the law, to better adapt it to social needs, to secure the better administration of justice and to encourage scholarly and scientific work." The institute's major work in restatement of the law has been compared to the framing of the Napoleonic and Justinian codes. Since it was incorporated, four members of the institute's council have been appointed to the United States Supreme court, namely, Justices Stone, Hughes, Roberts and Cardozo.
