LAST week Tuesday was a gladsome day at Hawarden. Gladstone came 81 years of age and the customary oak was duly chopped down.

WAR actually exists on our Texas border from the incursion of Mexican bandits under a leader Garza. Several U. S. soldiers were killed.

"CRANKS" still keep up their "mish-mash" of trying to slaughter innocent and unsuspecting people. We may well inquire, "What is this world coming to?"

NOT only has the McKinley law not "prohibited" foreign trade, as the capacity editors prophesied, but under the McKinley law the foreign trade of the United States is the largest on record.

MUCH apprehension had been felt for the safety of the great steamship City of Paris, which was thirty-five hours overdue on Friday morning. She arrived on that day, with her 540 passengers.

GEN. M. C. MEYER, the noted engineer and Quartermaster General of the United States military forces during the late war, died at his home in Washington, January 2. General Meyer caught a severe cold and pneumonia followed a relapse, which proved fatal.

M. PATENOTTE, the newly accredited French minister, was formally presented to the President by the Secretary of State Thursday. The minister attended by his two secretaries and all were in full court dress. The speeches were formal, but friendly in tone.

THE great barrel works of the Standard Oil Company at Constable Hook, N. J., are burned down and the loss is estimated from $1,000,000 upward. The fire started in the heading room of the barrel works. It spread with great rapidity and nothing could be done to save the works.

AT Monterey, Mexico, a couple of Americans keeping a saloon, put up a picture of George Washington as a sign. Wherupon General Reyes, Governor of Nuevo Leon, has ordered the likeness removed, saying Washington was too good and too great to have his picture used as a beer sign.

MR. PERKINS of Kansas, who succeeds the late Preston B. Plumb as United States Senator, is an able man and a thorough-going Republican, who believes in a Protective tariff, and is opposed to the Free Silver-coinage proposition. In this respect he is a decided improvement over Mr. Plumb.

THE Albany Argus has been designated as the paper in Albany to fulfill the duties of a State paper for the year 1892 in the publication of the legal notices of the State department. Secretary of State Rice, State Treasurer Danforth and Comptroller Wemple were the committee which made the designation which was unanimous. The Argus has this designation this year.

EMIL PASHA puts in another claim to renown. He has, it is said, discovered the ultimate source of the river Nile, thus solving a world-old problem. According to information which has reached Berlin, Emil Pasha and Dr. Stuhlman, traveling in the region between lakes Victoria, Tanganyika and Albert Edward, discovered a new river named the Kifu. This river flows into the south end of Lake Albert Edward, and is thus the most southerly feeder of the Nile. Further information of Emil's discovery will be awaited with interest.

An attempt is being made to form a new baseball league, with eight clubs. Milwaukee has been asked to become one of the clubs. Mr. Williams of the Columbus club is the originator of the scheme. The new association is to comprise Milwaukee, Columbus, Indianapolis, Toledo, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Toronto. The Milwaukee men are favorably impressed with the plan if it can be carried out, but they will be very careful, however, as so far Milwaukee has made nothing but glory out of baseball, and not a great deal of that.

We believe that the time has come for openly expressed convictions of the inefficiency of capital punishment. It seems to us the grimly grotesque survival of that bloody code when petty theft was expiated by the life of the thief. The sole excuse for capital punishment is that fear of it may deter from crime. This fear may be very potent, but it does not prevent a man from committing murder while another man in the same jurisdiction is awaiting the meeting out by the law of the panic death, as was the case in New Hampshire. Again, in those jurisdictions where capital punishment is abolished, in no case can it be said that the percentage of murder has increased for that cause. This alone would justify the removal of death from the list of penalties.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL-ELECT Simon W. Rosendale announced last Thursday these appointments for his department: First deputy attorney-general, Isaac H. Maynard, of Stamford, Delaware county (reappointed); second deputy, John W. Hogan, of Watertown, (promoted from the third deputyship); third deputy, John D. McLellan, of Rome, assistant to the attorney-general stationed in New York city; William J. Landner (reappointed); clerks, William Ray Deland, M. H. Quirk, William M. Thomas, Walter L. Childs, John F. Handley (all reappointments).

THESE were received at the White House January 1 from France the new china ware ordered by Mrs. Harrison for use at dinners in the Executive Mansion. There are 200 pieces in the set, and it is intended that the service shall be used for the first time at the Cabinet dinner on January 29. Mrs. Harrison designed the plates, which are the handsomest ever used at the president's table. The patterns on the two larger sizes are golden ears of tasseled corn on a background of imperial Prussian blue, which forms the rims of the plates. Encircling the inner edge of the china ware is a gilt band and forty-four gold stars, which in the center of each plate is the coat of arms of the United States. Photographs were made of the famous war eagle, "Uncle Abe" of Wisconsin, to furnish the pattern for the national bird, and beneath whose outstretched pinions is the motto, "E Pluribus Unum," in raised letters of blue. Mrs. Harrison had stamped upon the back of each piece of this china in gilt letters "Harrison, 1892." None of the other tableware hitherto used at the Executive Mansion has been thus designated.

Under the decision of the state board of canvassers, which, according to the Court of Appeals, is a purely ministerial body, the Senate will be made up as follows: 1. E. Floyd Jones, D. 2. Joseph A. THE Senate. The decision of the state board of canvassers, which, according to the Court of Appeals, is a purely ministerial body, the Senate will be made up as follows:

TO OBLIVION Deepening Canals. H. G. Ketchum, engineer of the Chicago Ship Railway, has submitted to the Ontario Government a scheme by which he says vessels drawing 20 feet or over can be passed through the present Canadian canals, thus obviating the expenditure of millions of dollars on canal deepening. Mr. Ketchum proposes to place the vessel upon floats or pontoons by means of hydraulic lifts established at the entrance of the canals. He says the pontoons and lifts can be provided for $500,000 and that these lifts could be used as graving docks.

THE Chilean Situation. There are no further warlike developments in the Chilean situation. None is likely to occur. According to the best obtainable information there are three important facts which divert the warlike rumors of the last few days of nearly all their significance:

1. The basis of negotiations has been transferred absolutely from Santiago to Washington.

2. The Chilean Government has indicated through Minister Montt, its representative here, a willingness to submit the question of fact in dispute to arbitration.

3. The minister will lay before Congress the whole correspondence, and may possibly accompany that transmission with a recommendation that the matter be referred to the arbitration of the Mexican Minister in Washington, Mr. Romero.

THE Block System. The New York Central Railroad Company has decided to put in operation the block system. A certain sum will be set aside from this year's earnings for the purpose. This expenditure is believed to have changed the policy of the company in regard to dividend payments.

It was formally decided to adopt the Sykes Absolute Block System, which is now in operation between the Grand Central station and Mott Haven, and equip the entire line of the road from New York to Buffalo with this system as soon as possible.

Contracts have already been signed for the construction of the Sykes system as far as Poughkeepsie, and contracts for completing the work along the whole line are now being prepared.

According to Theodore Voorhees, the general superintendent of the road, the construction of this system from New York to Buffalo will cost between $900,000 and $1,000,000, and the expense of operating it will be about $175,000 a year. It will take about six months to fully complete the work.

A Dynamite Explosion. A decided sensation was caused in Dublin Dec. 31, by a rumor that the "Physical Force" party had resumed operations, and that their first attempt had been made against Dublin Castle, the official residence of the Earl of Zetland, Viceroy of Ireland. The rumor was soon found to be based on fact, at least so far as the statement that an explosion had occurred at the castle was concerned.

Workmen have been employed lately in making alterations in and about the castle. One of the places which were being overhauled was the office directly under the room in which the Privy Council holds its meetings, and there the explosion occurred.

Of course there are no means of determining how the explosive was prepared, as everything in the cellar was blown to atoms. It is evident that it was the intention of the author or authors of the explosion to destroy the Privy Council Chamber. Fortunately no lives were lost.

The State Senate.

The Senate has yet to consider the returns and qualifications of its members in accordance with the following provisions of the constitution. Section 10. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business. Each house shall determine the rules of its own proceedings, and the jurisdiction of its officers; and the Senate shall choose a temporary president, when the lieutenant-governor shall not attend as president, or shall act as governor. So, whatever may have been done by the courts in judging returns and elections, the Senate itself is the real judge with complete jurisdiction in every case. The action of the Senate in judging returns and elections in the past furnishes precedents that should not be lightly thrown aside or ignored at the behest of partisanship. The Senate is really on trial. Time alone will tell whether it is equal to the trust imposed in it by the people or not. Just and honorable determinations of all the contests are expected without reference to the action of a co-ordinate branch of the government that has no power to make a final decision in any case.—Democrat and Chronicle.

A Remarkable Meeting.

A remarkable reunion took place at the Everett House, New York city, Thursday evening. Forty-eight years ago five young men, at that time residing at Concord, N. H., agreed to meet on the last night of the year for an annual supper, to be given by each one in turn according to age and at such place as he might designate. The compact by which they were bound together was a very short and slight one. Their principal object was social enjoyment, but they were serious enough to agree that they would not use intoxicating liquors as a beverage or engage in games of chance. They promised to attend each other's weddings and funerals. They were all, in time married, and pursued their different business callings in different parts of the country. But the annual meeting was never omitted, and New Year's eve they celebrated their forty-eighth annual festival. All were present and in good health. There is only five years difference in their ages, the youngest being sixty-seven and the oldest seventy-two. They are inclined to believe that such a record is unmatched in club history, where the original members have all survived so many years. There has been but a single death in any of their immediate families in all that time. The gentleman composing this "Mystic Five" are the Hon. J. C. Hill and George A. Blanchard, of Concord, N. H.; the Hon. Charles A. Tufts, of Dover, N. H.; Joseph S. Abbott, of Washington, and Dr. William W. Hulst, of New York city.—Elinora Telegram.

Ex-Governor Hill Not a Democrat.

We have been slow to condemn the course of ex-Governor Hill in this State. We are reluctant to "speak evil of dignitaries," to even seem to join in that general chorus of partisan condemnation which "withers the side" with the base of American journalism. But it seems to be clear, beyond all doubts which charity can devise, that Governor Hill is not a Democrat. A democrat is one who believes in the rule of Demos, who desires to give effect always to the judgment of the people. He desires to do this whether that judgment coincides with his own or not, whether it makes for or mars his personal aims and ambitions.

Governor Hill, since the close of the last election, has been studiously endeavoring, not to give effect to the will of the people as it is expressed by legal and constitutional methods at the ballot-box, but to give effect through legal forms to his own will. He is a bureaucrat, not a democrat. When the appeal to the courts was taken, we advised our readers to await patiently the decision of the courts, the tribunal which the people had constituted for the decision of such questions. But Governor Hill has as studiously contrived how he might set at naught the decision of the courts as how he might override the will of the people. He has constituted Special Terms of the courts by legal judges from distant parts of the State to secure such decisions as he desired. He and his appointees and co-laborers have refused to obey the decisions of the courts as far as they could do so with personal safety. He and they have delayed complying with such decisions until another court could be found to interpose a stay of proceedings.

He and they have refused and still refuse to permit the courts to determine what are the returns which the State Board of Canvassers should count and on which the election should be determined. And in one flagrant case he has stretched his executive power to its utmost bounds, if he cannot do it, to give instant pardon to an official sentenced by the court to fine and imprisonment for contempt in disregarding and disobeying the court's decree. Executive officials have been impeached for less reasons than Governor Hill has given by his course for impeachment. All men, irrespective of party, who believe in democracy, should make common cause against him.—Christian Union.

Democrat Contentants.

The decisions of the Court of Appeals and the summary and partisan action of the State Board of Canvassers have inspired defeated Democrats with the hope that, after they may obtain the prizes which they prize so dearly for lost. If Osborne and Nichols can be seated, they reason that they can be seated, too. Accordingly contests have been prepared against Republicans in the following districts: The sixteenth, in which ex-Senator "Mike" Collins asks for the seat awarded to J. H. Derby, whose majority was 670.

In the eighteenth, where Edward H. Hoyt, who was beaten by 370 votes by Senator Harvey J. Donaldson, asks to be seated.

In the thirtieth, where C. Fred Lamont wants the seat given to Senator

William P. Richardson on the strength of his 530 majority.

In the twenty-seventh, where Charles E. Walker was beaten by 1,670 votes cast for Franklin P. Sherwood, who has secured a majority including John A. Bernhard, the defeated Democratic candidate in the second Assembly district of Monroe county, will contest the seat of Dr. R. H. Curran, who was elected by a majority of 1,240, on the ground that Dr. Curran is a park commissioner and ineligible. It is said that Mr. Bernhard is also disqualified.

Foreign Notes.

Letters from China received by steamer Oceanica show that the foreign missionaries along the Yang Tze river are in extreme peril. Chinese soldiers and common people at the open ports, the former especially, are very aggressive toward foreigners, particularly at and above Hankow. All foreign residents, except the custom staff, are living in boats. Outward tranquility at the ports is only secured by the presence of foreign men-of-war. There can be little question that it will be necessary to make open display of intention to use force, which will overawe the turbulent soldiery, in order to restore security to foreigners, in the interior which followed the last war. A Mission letter of November 24th, says the Canadian Presbyterian mission has met with a second reverse in Honan, in a disturbance which occurred at Hanchow, a new place in which they had rented property and occupied a short time ago. The premises were attacked by a crowd of beggars, armed with knives and sticks, some of whom had cut their heads and faces until they were smeared with blood and presented a ghastly appearance, and after breaking down the doors menaced the missionaries and brandished their weapons.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1, 1892. The President's official New Year reception was one of the most brilliant and largely attended ever held, the new decorated White House adding no little to the brightness which pervaded every thing. These receptions always attract a large crowd, aside from those who take part in them, for at no other place can so many celebrities be seen at one time. The reception began at 11 o'clock, the carriages going in at the East and out at the West gate, and passing through a lane of closely packed spectators, extending nearly a square from each gate. First came Vice-President Morton and the Cabinet, headed by Secretary Blaine; then the Diplomatic Corps, all of the foreign ministers and attaches wearing the uniforms of their rank and their breasts covered with decorations bestowed upon them by their own or other governments. The Supreme Court and other United States Court Judges came next, followed by Senators and Representatives in Congress, ex-ministers and ex-members of the Cabinet. Then came the brilliantly uniformed officers of the Army, Navy and Marine corps, followed by officials only a grade or two below members of the Cabinet. Next came the grizzled faces of the Associated Veterans of the Mexican War, closely followed by the Grand Army of the Republic, the Loyal Legion, and the Oldest Inhabitants Association of the District of Columbia. The rest of the time until 2 o'clock was taken up by plain everyday citizens, who wished to extend the courtesies of the day to our chief magistrate.

Reminiscences.

Mrs. Mary Van Horn died Monday night, December 28, of nervous prostration, aggravated by the grip, aged 74 years. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Peter Van Lev, of Ovid Center, and two sons and two daughters, William, Alton, Mrs. J. W. Snook and Mrs. Chas. P. Van Day of Geneva. The funeral services occurred on Wednesday, at her late residence, Rev. J. W. Jacks officiating.

Recent Arrivals in Town.

John M. Mooney is very low, and at present appearances will not be any better, from kidney trouble and blood poison. He has been in feeble health for a long time but no one thought he would be taken down so soon. Mrs. Mooney is also down with the grip which leaves them in a critical condition, as they are difficult to obtain.

Johnson Upplyke and wife are both sick, the former with the grip, and the latter has generally feeble health.

Mrs. M. R. Brown suffered very much last week, but a course of doctors made a change of medicine which produced a slight relief.

Recent arrivals in town are, John B. Corryell and James McDougal of Clyde, spending the holidays with their parents; Norman Sherman of West Rush, at J. N. Wykoff's; Stephen Monroe of Seneca Falls, at J. Monroe's; Geo. J. Ditzell and family of Waterloo, at G. N. Wykoff's.

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Gray are visiting at Groveland.

The weather report for the week ending Saturday, January 2, is: Highest temperature 49 degrees; lowest, 18.5 degrees; mean, 30.3 degrees; rainfall and melted snow, 31 inches.

Kendall.

Grippe has lessened its hold upon the people of this community, and we hope it has made its departure. It is somewhat similar to a tramp, an unwelcome visitor.

Hon. A. J. Bartlett left for Elmira Monday on some important business, but none of us will be surprised to see it chronicled in the press that he made ex-Lieut.-Gov. Jones a visit, and no doubt the conversation will be, "What I might have been if you (Jones) had been elected governor."

Josh Billings has correctly stated that there are only two things sure to come: Death and taxes, and you have the opportunity of meeting the latter at the store January 12.

Mrs. James Garrison has returned from Athens, where she has been visiting her son.

Prof. Jas. E. Mackey spent the holidays with his parents near Canaan.

After a close of nearly two weeks, school commenced Monday, with renewed vigor.

The young people of this vicinity gave a social hop last Friday evening, which was in honor of Chas. C. Garrison.

E. S. Bartlett and wife spent New Year's with relatives in Soda.

The Seneca County News-Letter printed a good photo of our Member of Assembly, Hon. W. H. Kline, and we agree with the subject of illustration that Mr. Kline is one of our foremost citizens and business men, upright in all his dealings, and will make a good legislator. We are sorry to say that he is a Democrat, we like to see such men belong to the Republican party.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

His office was crowded all day with friends who called to tender their congratulations. The Democratic members of the House are beginning to realize that they have been indulging in some wild talk about making wholesale reductions in the annual appropriations, and they are already hedging on that subject. It is an easy matter for anybody to criticize what the old "Rock and Whetzel" men of the last Congress and to call it extravagance, but up to this time none of them have been able to point out one single instance in which money was appropriated where it was not needed or where one dollar was appropriated for which the Government will not get one hundred cents in value. And if the Democratic House in its anxiety to make a showing of economy shall dare to attempt to curtail any branch of the Government service by withholding necessary appropriations, its party will pay dearly for the reckless policy. The people of this country do not object to liberal appropriations so long as they know that they are receiving full value for the money spent.

Mages Corners.

Officers were elected at the Baptist Sunday school last Sabbath as follows: Mr. J. W. Young, superintendent; Mr. D. Goodwin, secretary and treasurer; Miss Fannie Payne, librarian.

The week of prayer is being observed at the Baptist church.

Miss Edith Bonnet visited at Union Springs last week.

Miss Lottie Knapp of Rose Valley, visited Miss Anderson last week.

Most of our students returned to their respective schools this week.

New York Doctors in Seneca Falls.

THE SICK TO RECEIVE SERVICES FREE. The doctors of the New York Medical and Surgical Institute, consisting of several eminent American physicians, will be in their offices at the Stanton House, Seneca Falls, Wednesday, January 13.

All who visit the doctors during their stay will receive services for three months free of charge, with only a small fee in certain cases for medicine. They will visit Seneca Falls every five weeks and the only favor desired is a recommendation from those cured. These eminent physicians treat every variety of disease, but will in no instance accept an incurable case to cure. If your malady is beyond all hope they will frankly tell you, also caution you against spending more money for unnecessary treatment. It costs nothing whatever to interview these eminent specialists, therefore the most humble in circumstances can have the satisfaction of knowing whether their case is curable or incurable.

Dr. Justin fired a large charge of nitro-glycerine than ever before at Perryville last week. Thirty-four pounds of the explosive were placed in a nine-inch shell which was forced through a sixteen foot of clay and continued on for half a mile. It went through a stone wall three feet thick.

Rev. William H. Ballagh of Lyons, died suddenly of heart disease, at the residence of the Rev. Mr. Connell in East Palmyra, Saturday evening, about 8 o'clock. Mr. Ballagh left Lyons at 6:50 o'clock in the evening for East Palmyra, where he was to occupy the Presbyterian pulpit. For the past month he had been suffering from the grip, and that together with heart trouble caused his death. His first prostrate was at Liberty Park, N. Y., and later he had charge of the churches of his denomination at Knox, Albany county, and Lodi, Seneca county, respectively. Four years ago he retired from active service on account of ill health and went to Lyons, where he has since resided with his two sons. On many occasions he has occupied the pulpits of the different Presbyterian churches throughout the county, and has a reputation as an earnest, interesting and fluent speaker. His age was 54 years.

Mr. Howells' New Work.

The announcement that Mr. Howells will leave Albany on Wednesday, on March 1st, calls attention to the progress of building up the staff of a great magazine, entitled in its monthly issue the evolution has so distinctly under the eyes of the public as in the case of the Cosmopolitan. The first step after its organization was assumed by Mr. John Brisbane Walker, was to add to Edward Everett Hale, who took charge of a department called "Social Problems," subjects concerning which the greatest number of people are thinking to-day. Mr. Hale, who is a student, a thorough American and a man of broad sympathies, has filled this position in a way to attract the attention not only of this country, but of leading European journals. Some months later a department was established called "The Review of Current Events." Mr. Hale had accepted the charge of this department with the distinct understanding that his monthly review should be philosophical and not partisan. The next step in the history of the Cosmopolitan, was the placing of the review of the intellectual movement of the month in the hands of Frederick Matthews, who has been recognized as one of the two or three ablest critics in the United States.

Finally came the acceptance of the editorship jointly with Mr. Walker, by Mr. Wm. Dean Howells. Mr. Howells, who is recognized universally as the greatest American of letters, upon the expiration of his contract with Harper Brothers, on the first of March will take in hand the destinies of a magazine which promises to exercise a share of influence with the reading classes of the United States. His entire services will be given to the Cosmopolitan, and everything he writes will appear in that magazine during the continuance of his editorship.
