

RATES OF ADVERTISING. One square one week, $1.00. Half column 1 year, 15.00. Whole column 1 year, 30.00.

VOL. VI. NO. 50.] BINGHAMTON, N. Y., THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1845. [WHOLE NO. 702.]

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

ADMINISTRATORS NOTICE.—In pursuance of an Order of John R. Dickinson, Surrogate of the County of Broome, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of W. Hinckley...

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

MORTGAGE SALE.—Mortgages, Mathias... Sheriff's Sale.—By virtue of one execution issued out of the Court of Common Pleas...

ADMINISTRATORS NOTICE.—In pursuance of an Order of John R. Dickinson, Surrogate of the County of Broome, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of W. Hinckley...

Elysium. FROM THE GERMAN OF SCHILLER. Past the despairing wall— And the bright banquet of the Elysian vale...

Charity. That charity which begins at home, is said to remain at home. Very likely. But not so with regard to that charity which, in this inclement season, sends a load of wood or a baker's loaf...

Old Maids. I am a lover of all woman kind, And maidens old, are still maidens to me, Tho' beauty fades, there remains the mind!

Col. Crockett in a Quandy. "I never but once," said the colonel, "was in what I call real genuine quandy. It was during my electioneering campaign for Congress...

Geese exempt from Attachment. Miser Skinfint was a shrewd money-lending Yankee. He was one of those men who are their own lawyers, and as soon as a debt arrived at maturity, if not paid, he would fill out a writ...

Mr. Skinfint.—Sir, if you would avoid consequences, of the most terrible character, you will call at my office, without an hour's delay. Yours, &c., JOHN WILLIAMS.

POSTPONEMENT.—The sale of the above described premises is hereby postponed until Monday the 12th day of March, 1845, at the same place and time of day as above mentioned.

Mr. Polk's Family in Scotland. A correspondent writes us—"Enclose you a paragraph, cut out of the Glasgow Courier, from which you will see that the inhabitants of Dunbar, a considerable town in Haddingtonshire, Scotland, claim President Polk as descended from an eminent citizen of that town."

INDIANS.—The facts are these:—In sailing along the Upper Mississippi, in the neighborhood of the Indian towns of the Crow, the Red wing, &c., inhabited exclusively by the Sioux, the traveller will notice on the verge of the high bluffs, on the west side of the river, rude scaffolds, at intervals of several miles, which very much resemble what are called fish-slakes.

ABOLITION OF MILITIA TRAININGS.—Nothing marks more certainly, though quietly the decline of the war spirit among the great mass of the people, than their unwillingness to continue the ever extremely popular system of militia drills.

VERMONT, at the recent session of her Legislature, has followed the example of Maine. She passed an act repealing all laws that heretofore required militia drills, & substituted merely an enrollment, as for jury purposes of all that would under the old system, have been liable to military service.

MAINE, in 1843—4, entirely abolished the system of militia drills, repealing all her laws that required that useless service, but retaining the militia system, simply by continued enrollment of all that would be bound at her call to come forth for the support of her laws, or the defence of her soil.

VERMONT, at the recent session of her Legislature, has followed the example of Maine. She passed an act repealing all laws that heretofore required militia drills, & substituted merely an enrollment, as for jury purposes of all that would under the old system, have been liable to military service.

VERMONT, at the recent session of her Legislature, has followed the example of Maine. She passed an act repealing all laws that heretofore required militia drills, & substituted merely an enrollment, as for jury purposes of all that would under the old system, have been liable to military service.

THE MANNERS of both are simple, unostentatious, affable, and dignified. I looked with some interest to the coming of Sunday, and had much anxiety lest the pressure of public duties might furnish a plausible pretext for business on that day, but you will be gratified to learn that Mr. Polk gave directions at the bar early on this morning, that he should receive no visitors on Sunday, and every one has been refused excepting only the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, Commissioner of Patents, and lady, who called by appointment in a carriage to take them to church.

THE MANNERS of both are simple, unostentatious, affable, and dignified. I looked with some interest to the coming of Sunday, and had much anxiety lest the pressure of public duties might furnish a plausible pretext for business on that day, but you will be gratified to learn that Mr. Polk gave directions at the bar early on this morning, that he should receive no visitors on Sunday, and every one has been refused excepting only the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, Commissioner of Patents, and lady, who called by appointment in a carriage to take them to church.

THE MANNERS of both are simple, unostentatious, affable, and dignified. I looked with some interest to the coming of Sunday, and had much anxiety lest the pressure of public duties might furnish a plausible pretext for business on that day, but you will be gratified to learn that Mr. Polk gave directions at the bar early on this morning, that he should receive no visitors on Sunday, and every one has been refused excepting only the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, Commissioner of Patents, and lady, who called by appointment in a carriage to take them to church.

THE MANNERS of both are simple, unostentatious, affable, and dignified. I looked with some interest to the coming of Sunday, and had much anxiety lest the pressure of public duties might furnish a plausible pretext for business on that day, but you will be gratified to learn that Mr. Polk gave directions at the bar early on this morning, that he should receive no visitors on Sunday, and every one has been refused excepting only the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, Commissioner of Patents, and lady, who called by appointment in a carriage to take them to church.

THE MANNERS of both are simple, unostentatious, affable, and dignified. I looked with some interest to the coming of Sunday, and had much anxiety lest the pressure of public duties might furnish a plausible pretext for business on that day, but you will be gratified to learn that Mr. Polk gave directions at the bar early on this morning, that he should receive no visitors on Sunday, and every one has been refused excepting only the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, Commissioner of Patents, and lady, who called by appointment in a carriage to take them to church.

THE MANNERS of both are simple, unostentatious, affable, and dignified. I looked with some interest to the coming of Sunday, and had much anxiety lest the pressure of public duties might furnish a plausible pretext for business on that day, but you will be gratified to learn that Mr. Polk gave directions at the bar early on this morning, that he should receive no visitors on Sunday, and every one has been refused excepting only the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, Commissioner of Patents, and lady, who called by appointment in a carriage to take them to church.

THE MANNERS of both are simple, unostentatious, affable, and dignified. I looked with some interest to the coming of Sunday, and had much anxiety lest the pressure of public duties might furnish a plausible pretext for business on that day, but you will be gratified to learn that Mr. Polk gave directions at the bar early on this morning, that he should receive no visitors on Sunday, and every one has been refused excepting only the Hon. H. L. Ellsworth, Commissioner of Patents, and lady, who called by appointment in a carriage to take them to church.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT'S FIRST SUNDAY IN WASHINGTON. [From the Correspondent of the N. Y. Observer.] MESSRS. EDITORS.—Your readers are doubtless aware that the Hon. James K. Polk, President elect of the United States, and his lady, reached the capitol on Thursday last week, and have taken rooms for the present at Coleman's Hotel, Pennsylvania Avenue.