CHENINGO.

CHENINGO, Jan. 24.—There was too much excitement last week for the old man to put in an appearance. One of the fair sex was married last Wednesday, the two first initials of her name being Annie Henry, to Will Hier. The knot was tied by Rev. H. Bowen.

Charley Humphrey of Texas Valley, made his brother-in-law, Om Reakes, a short visit recently.

Mrs. Hawyer, Mrs. D. Bennett, Mrs. Mark and Mrs. S. Brown were pleasantly entertained at the same place last Thursday afternoon.

Johnnie Reakes and Mr. Curtis finished cutting wood for Mr. Petrie last Saturday.

Nellie Freeman of McGrawville, is visiting friends in this place.

John Steele has sold his place to Albert Barber and gives possession the first of March.

We wondered why we did not hear the whistle at the steam mill Tuesday morning, but we soon learned that the creek had become damed up with ice during the night, causing the water to overflow its banks and covering the mill bottom to the depth of from one to three feet.

The donation at Rev. H. Bowen's was a success—taking into consideration the stormy night and bad roads.

The next mite society will be held at Elias Steele's on February 2. As this is to be the last, let us have a good turnout.

Have you noticed the genial smile the young preacher wears now-a-days?

BEHOY.

CINCINNATUS.

LOWER CINCINNTUS, Jan. 26.—Minnie Tice, of Cortland, visited at John Derrin's last week.

Will White, who has been spending several weeks in Pensylvania, has returned home.

Charles Benson, of Binghamton, is visiting his parents in German.

T. Z. Peck, of Cortland, was in town last week.

F. Stewart, of German, is suffering from a shock of paralysis.

EAST HOMER.

EAST HOMER, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Maggie Hibbard of Cortland, was calling on friends in town, Saturday.

Oliver Topping is suffering lameness caused by an indiscrete combat with the doorstep.

The grangers will have an oyster supper at Bennett hall, on Thursday evening of next week.

Several were called from town Monday to attend the lawsuit of Mat Graham against Almon Henry, but we understand it was put over.

During the past season C. C. Haight has sold about 200 native song birds and about 100 imported birds, 75 of which were German canaries.

Robert Preston reports having captured during the season two foxes, ten raccoons, three mink, 45 grey and black squirrels, and fifteen ruffled grouse. Good for an amateur.

We think an apology is due those who have been unfortunate enough to have their names appear in the paper of late. We plead guilty to a liability to mistakes, but are going to saddle a large proportion of the errors to the typo, and as the publishers have been rushed with job work, and adding new features and improvements to their office they, no doubt, are ready to be forgiven. We extend the hand.

Poor unfortunate, our heart goes out to you with a longing to be with you and associate with you in your misery, to give you a helping hand, lifting you out of your despondency and restore to your embittered mind new life and courage thus taking away the gloom. We refer you with earnestness to the fate that awaits the self-destroyer. Cheer up fellow sufferer, although the way now seems dark and the earth a cheerless desert waste, may your future life be like the freshness and brightness of a spring morning where the darkness and gloom of the night gives way to the brightness and splendor of the rising sun, where its rays chase the shadows away, and fall alike upon the modest and immodest. DE FACTO.

EAST RIVER.

EAST RIVER, Jan. 26.—Otis Woodward, who has been nearly helpless for some time is improving. Dr. Hathaway, of Syracuse, is attending him.

Mrs. Seacord is at her son's, at East Homer.

Sate Wood, of Syracuse, is spending the week with her parents.

George Olds and wife visited at G. N. Woodward's.

On Wednesday last the 2:30 passenger train ran off the track a short distance from the East River station, considerable damage was done one of the coaches. By working hard all night they succeeded in getting the train back and clearing the track before morning. Fortunately none of the passengers were injured.

A. N. Woodward, wife and daughter, visited at Lee Maybury's, in Solon, recently.

Will Gutchess gave a party for his friends last Thursday evening. Notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads, it was well attended. Several couple were present from Little York, and all enjoyed themselves until a late, (or rather early,) hour.

Mike Twomley had a valuable colt injured last week, he turned the horses out to drink, they ran to a neighbor's, and, when starting for home the colt ran into a snow drift, breaking one of its shoulders.

L. J. Fitzgerald lost a valuable cow last week.

Robe, where art thou? echo answers, "where?" Hast this cold weather congealed thy very heart? or will we hear from thee "when the robins nest again." SILVA.

EAST VIRGIL.

EAST VIRGIL, Jan. 25.—Ditchotomy is the distribution of ideas by pairs, and dieu et mon droit, God is my right. The Antinomians say that good works are not needed for salvation, and the Satifidians hold to faith without works. Dido holds to equity and justice to all.

The snow and ice left last week and so did the visitors. Mr. B. Shevalier had a house full of visitors,—a very nice young lady from Binghamton, Mrs. Gregory and two children from Apulia, Frank Price and his wife and son from Virgil, and Mr. Thomas McMahon and sister Mary.

Melvin Rice from Upper Lisle, lately called on his father-in-law H. Blodgett.

Mrs. B. Ayers visited Mrs. W. H. Rumsey and vice versa; also N. J. Smith and wife at E. D. Angell's.

W. Youngs and bride were the guests of F. Madole on the 16th inst.

D. O'Connell and N. Haley, also the Misses Bessie Underwood and Matie McMahone recently called on J. Lewis.

Our school closes this week. All that attended speak well of the teacher Miss D. Stafford, and well they might for we all know that she is a talented young lady.

Noah's ark commented upon at the Bible class in the M. E. church last Sunday, superintended by Miss S. L. Angell, was quite interesting and would have been more so had they told where it was made. I think that the ark was built in Yucatan.

DIDO.

FREETOWN.

FREETOWN, Jan. 24.—There seems to be considerable sickness among the children. Lynn Shephard is very sick with pneumonia. Dena Metzgar has scarlet fever, also a son of Mr. Atchison and one of Mr. Higings's children, are like afflicted.

Mrs. Mary Munroe is staying with Mrs. I. Gardner, until they move to Marathon, some time in February.

The sad news came to Mr. Lennon's people last week, of the death of Mrs. Myra Travis Edwards' oldest child, a boy of three years, by accidental poisoning.

Our merchant, Eber Bowdish is making himself rich trading horses. He has traded five times in two or three weeks.

Samuel Sperry of Hamilton, is the guest of H. D. Hammond.

Elder Bunnell has a donation over to Eliab Underwood's on Thursday, evening of this week.

Clayton Seeber visited friends in town last week.

Julia Hammond and her brother, A. T. Armstrong from Iowa, were guests of their cousin, George Tanner, last week.

Mrs. Chauncey Tuttle has gone to stay with her son, W. D. Tuttle, in Cortland, while his wife visits in Binghamton.

Mrs. Grant, an old lady, 80 years old, who is with her daughter, Mr. Joseph Underwood, is very low.

Mrs. Levi Smith has gone to spend a couple of weeks with friends in Michigan.

Clow, the shooting agent, who served a supreme writ on Chauncey Tuttle, some time since for a scare or possibly to extort a little spending money from him, found that he did not "scare worth a cent." Possibly he found that there were others who knew a few things as well as himself. At all events he has let the time for bringing in a complaint expire without making one. Perhaps, too, he was aware that the complaint would all come on the other side and he had not better grapple with it.

HOMER.

HOMER, Jan. 27.—The Woman's Relief corps of the G. A. R. are at present engaged in making a quilt which will be disposed of by the sale of tickets, placed at the low price of ten cents, the person drawing the right number being the owner of the quilt. We are informed that great care has been taken in the selection of the materials for this quilt, as well as in the work upon it so that both beauty and durability will be combined in it. The proceeds of this sale will be used to defray the necessary expenses connected with their regular work. The members of this corps are energetic, whole-souled women, who have the interest of their cause at heart, always on the alert for some new means for the furtherance of the good work and ever ready for any amount of labor required. We bespeak for them the patronage of the public.

Miss Libbie Hurlburt of Woodstock is a quest at the home of her cousins, Ed and Chauncey Baker, in William street.

Mrs. George Basset, of Lisle, is visiting friends in town.

The Rev. Thomas Stacey, pastor of the M. E. church, began a course of illustrated sermons on the "Wise and Foolish," on Tuesday evening last. These sermons are full of interest and attended with good results.

McGRAWVILLE—SOUTH HILL.

SOUTH HILL, Jan, 26.—Beautiful spring.

The grange anniversary feast mentioned last week, was indefinitely postponed on account of the death of John Brown, a good granger, a worthy mason, and, better than all else, a kind father and loving husband.

Heart breaks and tears on earth are given,
To the redeemed "Sweet rest in Heaven."

Miss Arestine Crane is home from the Normal.

Did anyone notice that thunder storm Saturday night.

Cards are out for a hop at Freer's hall Friday night. That's right, John, Nemo's willing.

If your mind it doesn't fluctuate,
Perhaps we can congratulate,
We'd hasten to articulate,
The name you hold immaculate,

There was a party at Webb Rusell's, Friday night, to cheer the grand juror's sad heart, dancing was indulged in to the music of the piano, manipulated by the fairy fingers of Miss Myrtie Palmer, assisted by her pa on the violin. It was a pleasant affair, and although impromptu, parties were there from Cortland, McGrawville, Hoxieville and Higginsville. Query: Why didn't more dance? Why didn't Eli Blossom? Why did Holmes Carrie his Art along? Why the tall fellow with his hair cut a-la-pompadour didn't when formed on? Greatest query: What did grandmother say?

Sanford Short has rented rooms in Cortland, and his family will move the first of March.

A sad sight it was Nemo's cheerful duty to behold Saturday,

The pug nose hoisted out of shape,
All blackened each pale eye;
Red chin, blue cheek, a chawed-up ear,
The freckles knocked awry.

Such was "Faust," of the Democrat, after Nemo had "interviewed" him.

The following item seems to have been overlooked in my last report, Married, at Cortland, January 15, Lafayette Tripp and Mrs. Daniels, of Michigan, therefore, we feel it our duty to add:

And now dear brother Tripp
Gives the good old girls the slip(?)
Having married a fine and charming widow,
He thought he kept it still,
But 'twas known on all South Hill,
For "little birds tell secrets" that are hid; Oh,

Knowingly, NEMO.

POLKVILLE.

POLKVILLE, Jan. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Monroe visited Will O. Greene, of Fairport, a week or two since.

Mrs. F. M. Colegrove is visiting Oscar Smith, her brother-in-law of South Cortland, while Mr. Colegrove is working on the hay press in the same vicinity.

The sick of whom we made mention are all more or less convalescent.

L. M Loope was poorly for several days but we are glad to say has quite recovered.

Wesley Crosler is quite sick at present writing. Hopes are entertained that the fever that threatened him, is nearly broken up.

Our "normals," Lorin Grant, John Loope and Warren Loope, are home on a vacation.

Orrin Monroe and son Frank, have resumed work for the Cortland Wagon company, after a vacation of a few weeks.

Several visitors might be reported did we know who they were, but reports have not come in, nor have we had time to run from kitchen door to kitchen door to ask who they were, but we'll do better next time if we are BASHFUL PATTY.

PREBLE.

PREBLE, Jan. 25.—James Rooney, has re-rented Richard Egbertson's farm for the coming year.

United States Senator Frank Hiscock was in town last Friday to see his father.

J. Shuler, the executor of the Klock estate, was here last week looking after the interest of the property.

There will be quite a strife for the office of road commissioner this spring. We hope whoever gets it will not rob the town.

It is being reported that G. M. Maycumber has purchased the Dr. Burdick farm, in Cold Brook, formerly the Underwood farm, and his son Frank will work it the coming season.

On Sunday, Robert VanBuskirk was called to Tully to see his brother John, who fell from his load of goods while moving from Cardiff to Tully, and broke one of his legs.

M. VanHoesen, while on his way to the post-office one day tast week, fell upon the ice, striking his head upon a stone and causing a bad scalp wound and fracturing his skull. He had a bad spell Saturday night.

Walter Briggs has purchased his father's farm, on the west hill.

There was a pound party at the M. E. parsonage, on Wednesday evening last week as a reception for the arrival of our pastor, W. H. Pearne and his new bride. The evening was enjoyed by all.

SOLON,

SOLON, Jan. 26.—In our last report to the SENTINEL the type made us say that Cora White had been engaged to teach two weeks in addition to the regular winter term in the White school district. It should have read ten weeks; also the new school house that was recently voted for, was in the Kerrigan district.

The donation at the Baptist church in this place on Wednesday evening was well attended. The receipts were $27.85.

A. G. Brown of Potter county, Pa., visited his brother, N. R. Brown, the fore part of last week and is at present visiting friends in Pitcher.

James Baker of Union Valley, has rented the farm in this place that has been occupied for the past two years by Joseph McChesney.

N. R. Brown has sold the Craft farm of 160 acres to Andrew Brooks of Taylor.

The Hathaway estate have bought the Patrick Kerrigan farm and will hereafter use it for a stock farm.

Freddie Hyde of Cortland, is visiting at the residence of Miss Elizabeth Hathaway.

N. R. Brown has bought a very handsome pair of two-year-old steers of Mr. Wadsworth of this place. Valued at forty dollars.

With great interest do we listen to older people when they tell stories of their early years, and especially those of courtship, but we, also, might tell a courtship story so sadly true that it would silence them. We would speak of a young man from the sorry land of Taylor, who came to see a fair lady of the happy land of Solon, and making his arrival on a Saturday night, forgot to return home for (some say) nearly two weeks. It looks as though the wedding bells would ring ere long and we loose one of our fairest.

Emmet Grant of Cortland, visited at John Hickey's and at P. D. Grant's, the fore part of this week.

Another hop was enjoyed at Warden's Hall, on Tuesday evening.

Dennis Hanley visited friends in Truxton on Sunday last.

Herman Withey is at work in Cortland at present.

Some of our town's men are beginning to think about sugar-making. George Cooper has bought new buckets.

TRUXTON.

(Received too late for last week.)

TRUXTON, Jan. 18.—W. T. Pierce and wife celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary last Friday. The day was fine and a large company—one hundred and seventy-five—were present. The presents were numerous and costly, amounting in value to one hundred and eighty dollars, and convincing evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Pierce are held by their many friends. Covers were laid for over fifty and three times the long tables had to be reset before each one could personally judge of the many delicacies with which they were so bountifully spread. Among the presents given was a beautifully upholstered parlor suit from Truxton people; a large upholstered patent rocker from friends in Cortlard, another from Moravia; gold spectacles and case and a Brussels rug from friends in Syracuse, rug from M. Samson and J. McCarthy, Cortland; silver butter dish from Mr. Rhodes and family, Cortland; silver pickle castor, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt, Moravia; silver cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. Stanger, Truxton; silver molasses cup, C. Pierce and family, Syracuse; silver molasses cup, Henry Angle, Ohio; silver knife and fork rest, Dr. Higgins and wife, Chemung; besides other present both useful and ornamental and fifteen or sixteen dollars in money. The evening passed pleasantly in games and social conversation and at a late hour the party broke up, each feeling that a pleasant day had passed and one long to be remembered. A GUEST.

UNION VALLEY.

UNION VALLEY, Jan. 26.—The dedication service of the new church was held last Thursday as had been announced. The programme was as follows: Anthem by the choir, Awake O Zion; prayer, Rev. Cregan; hymn from Hymnal; history of the church; Rev. S. Corner; hymn from Hymnal; Scripture reading, Rev. Buckley; prayer, Rev. Edson Rogers; anthem, One thing have I desired of the Lord; ordination sermon, Rev. Cregan, from Daniel 7:27. After the sermon Rev. Cregan then said that the repairs on the church were a little in excess of the means on hand, and it was thought best, if possible, to dedicate the church free from debt, and if the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars could be raised, this could be done. The presiding elder, W. S. Beebe, was then called forward and in a short time the whole amount was pledged, and a little more. Rev. Cregan then made the dedicatory prayer, the choir sang an anthem; Benediction, Rev. Cregan. The services were very interesting, and will be remembered for years to come, by those who were present. The people of the valley may well feel proud of this church, and that the spiritual interest may increase is expected. In the evening a praise service was held from six to seven. The presiding elder then preached one of his best sermons, connecting so nicely with what had been said in the daytime.

Mrs. L. Benedict has been dangerously ill but at the present writing hopes are entertained of her recovery.

Mrs. G. R. Leech and Misses Hellen Angel and May Cotton, of Cortland, have been visiting in town the past week.

OCCASIONALLY.

Daring Robbery in Texas.

RICHMOND, Tex., Jan. 26.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock Monday morning three masked men entered the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad depot, about a mile from the business portion of the town, and at the point of a pistol compelled a watchman named Gregory to open the doors leading to the inner office. They then attempted to drill through the safe in the station agent's office. After drilling for some time the men became impatient and one of them went to the residence of Station Agent Hagen and raised him out of bed, telling him the freight house was on fire. As Hagen came out of the house they seized him and forced him at the point of a revolver to accompany them to the depot, where under threats to take his life if he refused, Hagen opened the safe. The robbers then secured $1,400 in money. After rifling the safe they ordered Hagen and Gregory to remain quietly in the room at the peril of their lives. When Agent Hagen finally looked out the men had fled. There is no clue to the identity of the robbers.

Terrific Explosion in Kansas.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Jan. 27.—About two hundred cans of giant powder exploded while in transit over the Missouri Pacific railroad, half a mile west of this city, early this morning. It was being transported in a magazine car. The train consisted of twenty-three freight cars, and fifteen of them were completely demolished and the magazine car was blown to atoms. The engine was badly broken up but not blown off the track. Scott Hooker, a brakeman, who leaves a wife and child at Sedalia, was instantly killed. A hole was blown in the roadbed and the rails and ties were ground to powder for several rods. Engineer K. R. Dillon and Fireman S. Shafford, although badly frightened and stunned, were not seriously hurt. Conductor Elliot and the rear brakeman, who were in the caboose, were uninjured. The shock from the explosion was simply terrific. Ten thousand dollars' worth of fine plate glass and window glass was broken in buildings throughout the central and western part of the city. Many thought it an earthquake and left their beds and ran from their houses panic stricken. Several window glasses were broken at Nevado, Mo., twenty-five miles distant, and also at Rich Hill. Houses were shaken up all over the county.
