

BLUE TUESDAY Show Tansday Clubs CLIFF PARHAM

I have been writing about conditions in the community for the past several weeks and I can now say there has been a slight improvement. I do not see as much glass on the streets. I have checked on some of the areas in which I refused to drive my car because I do not want to cut my tires.

When you want a flat tire, if a motorist gets out on certain streets, he will better call the police first, then may be he can get out and change it in one place. He will need someone to protect him while he makes the necessary repairs.

Remember, you cannot see all around you. So, one might open up and offer to help you. You might be in for one of those stick-up things. It happened once the corner from my home. The teenager helped to fix the tire alright. When the man pulled out his money to give the kids a buck, he made a mistake. When they saw the money in his wallet, they pounded him and took it as well as his wrist watch.

When he got up he said: "I don't know why they didn't go ahead and take the car also? Maybe they can't drive!"

Stands of this sort cannot be placed indefinitely on the youths. Some of the blame belongs to the youth, some to the fathers and mothers. Yes, the kids belong to them but they don't want the responsibility of giving them more brainstraining. What other results can you expect when the parents themselves show no interest or respect?

Take a light — See you next week!

Language Not Peace Corps' Hangup For the past few years you've seen a lot of people who've been in the Peace Corps and they've come back with a lot of stories to tell. Some of them have been in the Peace Corps for a long time and they've learned a lot about the world and about themselves. They've learned that the world is a lot bigger than they thought it was and that there are a lot of people out there who are just like them. They've learned that the Peace Corps is a great place to go and that it's a great way to live.
