VOTERS BARGAIN FOR 1970

Voters and citizens of the 142nd Assembly District have the best opportunity of their lives to double the power of their representation in the New York State Legislature in the November election.

This fact was expressed by the Rev. M. L. Livingston, Democratic Committee and Assemblyman of the 142nd District who is a running mate of John Hennigan, the politician candidate for State Senator of the 58th District, which takes in a big segment of the Negro community.

Reinforcing the propaganda Livingston said: "Our people have been in just over a the 70's as since an assembly man from their area. The lemon and more began a of the voters before the 70's we were successful in electing our own assemblyman.

He stressed the point, that the 70's are here and we have a chance to double our strength in the Legislature.

Livingston's team — a vote in the Assembly as well as the Senate, which will make political history.

"Continuing, he said, "Thus we have a chance to make a big "it". This is the 70's and we have a chance to get some action into our best political interests. Our people deserve, and if stereotype thinking is going to end, only our race is to harness our power.

Veteran E. Jordan, Jr., of New York City, executive director of the Fund, was the speaker.

Prior to assuming leadership of the National Urban League Fund, Mr. Jordan was attorney-consultant for the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity, assistant to
